Senator Hampton will not reply to Gen. Gary. He relies for his further vindication upon the letters of Gen. McGowan and Col. A. C. Haskell which will soon be published.

The New York Times, the leading Republican paper of the country, is coming out squarely in favor of Grant for a third term. Sherman is actively engaged in behalf of his own interests.

Gen: Grant notifies the country that he has not yet accepted the Presidency of the Nicaraguan Canal Company. He will more probably accept the Republican nomination for a third term.

The Richmond State has a good theatrical critic. He gives Miss Agnes Herndon great praise, and even prophecies that she will equal if not surpass any tragedienne now on the stage or who has preceded her Well, if she comes this way, we will see for ourselves whether she has the material in her out of which to fashion a Janauschek, a Cushman, or a Mary Anderson.

The papers have been trying to make it appear that Horatio Seymour would not accept the nomination if tendered him. The New York Herald has specially interviewed him on that point and he did not say he would not. He modestly said he did not reached the scene. The damage was slight.

"Northern Democrats do not very heartly approve of the action of the Democratic Governor and council in 'counting out the Republican legislative majority on merely technical ground. They fear it will have a bad effect upon the vote in doubtful Northern States. Most of the Republicans whose opinions have been obsined would advise that no forcible measure be taken to regain control of the State legislative and executive machinery, because they believe prudent submission, fol lowed by a 'thorough awakening of the country to the grossness of the outrage,' will result in a reaction that will swell Republican majorities in every Northern State. Senator Hoar says the Maine affair has greatly strengthened Grant for the Presi-dential nomination. The question who shall be nominated depends upon the conduct of the Democrats."

Our readers will see that our fears as to the effect are justified by th above. The Democrats will lose more than they can gain.

It is thought in Washington that there will be warm work in Washington when the pay of United States marshals comes up. The Democrats will adhere to their determination not to vote for the payment of deputy marshals to be used for partisan work at the polls. The State's special of the 19th says:

"Recent agitation of this matter has brought to light what seems to be reliable. information that deputy marshals were appointed for service at the California elecions in November upon the supposition that Congress would appropriate this winter the money with which to pay them. Attempted Robbery. On Thursday night last an attempt was made to rob the premises of Mr. King, on Market, between Second and Third streets. Mr. King says: "I was awakened by my dog barking, and descending to the work shop I saw a man making across my neighbor's yard with several of my kitchen utensils in both hands. As I had previously lost on several occasions by these predatory excursions, I no sooner saw him than I "turned loose," and from the blood marks on several objects and the howl of pain, coupled with the very sudden dropping of the spoils, I am inclined to think there is work for a surgeon. A number of gentlemen came nobly to the front, and probably owing to their presence and efforts to discover the rascal, his partner, who was no doubt near at hand, was frightened away. They had taken out of my wood shed about a cart load of stuff, and when discovered were in the act of carrying it off; but that old 'hoss' pistol put a stop to further proceedings."
