HE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXV.--NO. 89.

WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1880.

Here is the latest from Tilden as reported in a Radical paper. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore American writes:

"A few Democratic members have returned. Those coming from New York city report that Tilden has fully made up his mind to fight hard for the nomination, and that he even hints that no other Demo cratic candidate shall carry New York His friends in that city argue that unity of party cannot be preserved if he is ignored Those who oppose him here agree that such unity cannot be obtained by his nomination, on account of the bitter feeling of the Kelly faction. It is certain, however, that the Democrats returning from New York are impressed with the idea that Tilden will have strength to force himself on the party in spite of all opposition.

The South has 138 electoral votes to dispose of. It will certainly have a good deal to say as to who shall be nominated. A man who forces himself upon the South will hardly be able to keep it "solid." But of that hereafter. If nominated by the willing vote of the South it would be different.

Charles Stewart Parnell, M. P., the great Irish Land Agitator, was born at Arondale, county Wicklow, in 1846, and is therefore 33 years old. His mother is the only daughter of "Old Ironsides," Admiral Charles Stewart, of the American Navy. His grandfather, John Parnell, was Speaker of the Irish House of Commons, and his great-grandfather was the poet Parnell, author of the cele brated poem of "The Hermit." Mr Parnell was educated at Magdalene College, Cambridge, England.

The new comic opera of Gilbert and Sullivan, "The Pirates," accord ing to the Richmond State, "is satire on the slavish subserviency of the police to the titled scape-graces of England in allowing them to commit all sorts of depredations with impunity, for which other and better men would be roughly handled, hustled into prison and punished."

Nine of the negro "exodusters" from North Carolina have died of scarlet fever, and many others are sick. The rascals who beguiled the ignorant and credulous negroes to leave the Sunny South for the bleak winds and deep snows of Kansas, deserve to die of scarlet fever or any thing else that is bad.

A Mr. Griffith, of Baltimore, lost his life on New Year's day in attempting to get off a street car. He failed to observe the warning of the company to get off the platform on the side nearest the sidewalk. He got off on the other side in the dark just as another car was passing, hence the accident and death.

Tilden is accused of baiting his hook for ex-Gov. Bishop, of Ohio, who has been trying for some time to start a small Presidential boom of his own. Bishop is only wanted for the second place by Uncle Samuel J It is a sort of set-off to Thurman. A kind of wet-rag so to speak.

The Democrats have nominated John F. Phillips to fill the vacancy in the Seventh district in Missouri, occasioned by the death of Mr. Lay. Both the Radicals and Greenbackers have candidates in the field. It is believed there is no doubt of Mr. Phillips's election,

Mr. Tom Keogh, Secretary of the Republican Campaign Committee, says if it is not Grant it will be Blaine. Exactly. Well, Seymour can beat either, and that is the long and short of it.

- Henderson Review: It has been ascertained by the recent railroad survey that Henderson is eighty-four feet higher than Oxford. We are exactly on the ridge that divides the waters of the Roanoke and Tar rivers. — We hear that some of our citizens are seriously contemplating the building of a turnpike road from here to Oxford, and also from here to Williamsboro. A farmer can't afford to hau grain or forage, even over good roads, but a short distance to market, but a planter who can pack a $1,000 load of tobacco on the ordi nary two-horse wagon, can well afford to travel forty or fifty miles to reach a good market. — We are pained to announce the death at Oak Hill, in this county, or Saturday last, of John W. Royster. His untimely end was a sad surprise to his nu-merous friends. He was first intimately known to us as a boy soldier of the First N C. Cavalry, in the battles around Peters-burg in 1864. There he did his duty bravely.

Mayor's Court.

The first offender called to the bar of the Court was a young white girl, who gave her name as Susan Johnson, and who said she had entered upon her 17th year. It seems that there was a little disturbance in progross in the classic locality known as "Paddy's Hollow," about 12 o'clock Saturday night, which looked as if it might end in a free fight. Officer Woebse, of the police force, went up to the crowd, who proved to be mostly seamen, with the view of dispersing them, when he found the girl in the midst of the noisy group, dressed a la Bloomer," and evidently the heroine of the occasion. The crowd quieted down, but Susan refused to be dispersed, and cursed and abused the officer; whereupon he arrested her and took her to the guard house. In her statement to the Court she declared that she had forgutten the street she lived on. It being her first offence she was told to "go and sin no more."

Caison Vanorsen, proprietor of a house at foot of Mulberry street, charged with cursing and abusing Officer Woebse, because, as he said, he arrested the girl in the "Bloomer" costume, was ordered to pay a fine of $10 and costs, the Mayor remarking that he was determined to protect his policemen from insult, &c. Defendant appealed, and was ordered to give a justified bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.

A sailor boy, with hair standing "like quills upon the back of the fretful porcupine," and who could not speak English well enough to tell his name, was arraigned on the charge of being drunk and down a dray having to be called into requisition to take him to the guard house. As he had been locked up since Saturday night he was ordered to be released on the payment of John Hughes, Thomas Kelley and James Kelley, all white men, were next called. One of them was found fast asleep in the yard attached to Mr. James Dawson's residence, and the others in a vacant lot. Upon being questioned by His Honor, one of them stated that he came here from Norfolk, the other from Newbern, and the third that he belonged in Wilmington, while the two first named claimed to be seamen. The Mayor told the two sailor tramps they might go on condition that they should leave the city within an hour, but they begged permission to ship on some vessel in port, and were remanded below for the present. The other offender was discharged.

Haudsome Testimonials.

Quite an interesting incident occurred at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, yesterday, the occasion being the presentation by the Sunday school scholars of an elegadt Bible, bound in morocco and beautifully illustrated, and a handsome gold-headed walking cane, with his name engraved on the head to Mr. W. H. Strauss, Superintendent of the School. The presentation was made by Rev. Dr. Bernheim, pastor of the Church, in a few appropriate words, which were feelingly responded to by Mr. Strauss in receiving the handsome testimonials of the esteem and good will of his Sunday School flock.

A Sunday Fight.

A fight between two colored boys occurred in the neighborhood of Sixth and Dock and Orange streets, Sunday afternoon, during which one of the boys took refuge in the the house with much violence and nearly little children, who were playing on a platform attached to the front of the piazza. Before the owner of the property could get to the door, however, the boys had removed the seat of war further up the street, and he failed to recognize them. The "scrimmage" created considerable excitement in that vicinity.

A friend at Rocky Point gives us a glowing account of the Leap Year ball at that place, on Friday night last. He says the management was excellent and the pleasure of a bright social order, the counties of Pender, Duplin, Onslow, Sampson, Wilson and

New Hanover having each representatives from among their fair daughters and brave C. W. Oldham offered his official bond men. The "tripping of the light fantastic," etc., was kept up the entire night, and "all went merry as a marriage bell."
