The Late Cutting Affair in Brunswick-The Wounded Man Dies of

His Ipjuries. Henry Harrison, a colored special deputy, arrived here yesterday with Robert Everett, colored, in his custody, and turned him over to the Sheriff, to be held in the county jail until he can be removed to the prison at Smithville. It will be remembered that on the 5th inst. a difficulty occurred at the Belvidere plantation, in Brunswick county, some three or four miles from this city, between Robert Everett and his half brother, George Everett, during which the latter was severely cut in the abdomen with a knife in the hands of the former, who immediately ran off, a full account of which appeared in the STAR at the time. The wounded man was brought to this city and his wounds were dressed by Dr. W. W Lane, who was then of the opinion that his wounds would prove fatal. The same evening he was removed to a private house on the corner of Fourth and Wooster streets, there being no hospital here for such cases. Here he was attended by the physician alluded to, and rather to the latter's surprise, he soon began to mend, and his condition continued to improve up to the time of his last visit. On Monday last, however, he called to see the injured man, and found that he had, in the opinion of his friends, sufficiently recovered to be removed the day previous to his home in Brunswick. Here, according to the statement of Henry Harrison, he died Wednesday night, his removal under the circum stauces having, in the opinion of his physician, hastened his end.

Robert Everett, after the cutting, remained at large for some time, but was finally arrested and taken before Justice A. W. Rigger, of Brunswick county, who, as George Everett was still living at that time, ordered him to give a justified bond in the sum of $300 to appear at Court and answer to the charge of assaulting George Everett with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. He was then placed into the custody of Harrison, who, as soon as he found that the wounded man was dead, securely tied the prisoner and brought him to this city to await the result of the Coroner's inquest and his removal to Smithville.

Mayor's Court. Ben Galloway and Lewis Berry, two colored boys, were arraigned for fighting on the streets. After the evidence closed each recited the preliminaries which led to the sanguinary contest, and it was pretty evident that one was as much responsible as the other. Galloway, who had been locked up all night, was released. The other, who had given bond, was ordered to pay a fine of $1.50.

Charles Owen, colored, was arraigned, but the prosecutor failing to appear the case was dismissed.

Committed for Larceny. Richard Howe, colored, was arrested esterday for the larceny of a chicken, the property of one Stephen Nelson, colored. It seems that he run the chicken down yesterday morning, in the vicinity of the postoffice, and took it to the house of a friend near by, where it was to remain until he called for it in the evening. Howe had a hearing before Justice Hill, who ordered him to give a justified bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

OPERA HOUSE.

Buffalo Bill. The sensational drama generally attracts a numerous crowd in Wilmington, and last night, supplemented by a brass band and several real Indians, the size of the audience in attendance was proportionate with the additional inducements then offered. The piece is entitled "The Knight of the Plains, or, Buffalo Bill's Best Trail," and it served its purpose very successfully by affording abundant opportunity for the introduction of an unlimited amount of sensationalism of every description. The audience (an exceedingly large one) was apparently well pleased with the performance, and the performers were by no means backward in manifesting their appreciation.

The scenery and stage effects were of a novel and realistic character, and added much to the interest of the occasion. Altogether we were agreeably disappointed, and of its class the entertainment was far above the average and well worth seeing. To-Day's Indications.
