OUTLINES.

The Catholic clergy will try to prevent an application for the sale of church property to pay Archbishop Purcell's debts. — The bankers of Tennessee have formed an organization and propose to petition Congress for a reduction of taxes on deposits and the abolition of the stamp duty on checks. — The leading Greenback organ of the party in Maine submits to the decision of the Supreme Court and appeals to the people. — Chief of Police Benson, of Norfolk, Va., blew out his brains; cause, connubial infidelity. — Particulars of the burning of the steamer Charmer are given; eight lives were lost. — A bill was introduced in the House to grant a pension to the wife of Lieutenant Abram H. Benner. — Eulogies were pronounced in the Senate yes yesterday on the late Senator Chandler, by Senators Bayard, Anthony, Blaine, Logan and others, and in the House of Representatives the greater part of the day was devoted to the same purpose. — Stocks were active and buoyant in New York yesterday; Erie 46, New York Central 1304.

— There is intense excitement in Shenandoah county, Va., over a collision between white and colored laborers at an iron furnace, and the Governor of the State has ordered troops to quell the riot. — The stranded steamship Louisiana will be saved at the sacrifice of the greater part of the cargo. — The Fusion Legislature of Maine adjourned yesterday to meet in August next; the Fusion Governor will go home. — The President has approved the act to provide for U. S. Courts at Marion, Ga. — Davitt and Brennan, the two Irish agitators, are to be put up for seats in the House of Commons at the forthcoming general election. — A bill is to be reported in the House of Representatives for the reorganization of the U. S. Navy, to sell old and worthless ships and construct new ones in their places; the report will show that out of 142 war vessels only 48 are capable of firing a gun. — New York markets: Money 4@6 per cent; cotton quiet at 12 1/2-12 15 16c; Southern flour firm at $5 00@7 75; wheat 2@3c better and more active, closing about steady at $1 37@1 43; corn moderately active at 59@61; spirits turpentine 42c; resin $1 55@1 60.

Importations of foreign dry goods were heavier in New York last week than at any time since the panic began in 1873.

Blaine is certainly the choice of Pennsylvania. Nine more counties have instructed their delegates to vote for him.

The Richmond Dispatch's special from Washington says:

"The Committee on Elections has determined to report in favor of Shelley, of Alabama, and against Harlan, the negro co-contestant."

The House has passed a bill appropriating $100,000 for the Yorktown monument. The Senate will probably pass it. Where is the genius to design the monument?

The light Mr. Electric Edison promised us still seems to partake of the qualities of that light which Tennyson so beautifully tells us "never yet was seen on land or sea" — no, never. — Richmond State.

That reads like Wordsworth.

A bill to prevent the sale of adulterated food of any kind in the District of Columbia and the Territories has been introduced in the House. Why not extend it to the States? Let adulterated butter be included.

Judge George, the newly elected Senator from Mississippi, is said to be conservative and safe, and will concur substantially with Senator Lamar upon leading public questions. He is very popular and of exceptionally robust and ready intellect.

The New York dry goods market is more active. The following is the summary for Monday: "Brown and bleached were higher, and values all around were very firm. Prints, ginghams and dress goods are in active request and in very light supply. Amoskeag staple ginghams opened at 10 1/2 cents, fancies at 12 1/2 cents, Winslow prints 7 1/2 cents. Woollens firm, and foreign goods improving."

— New Bern has a case of "Pine-— Raleigh handled 900 bales cotton last week.

— The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias meets at Fayetteville on February 10th.

— Joe Gillespie, the murderer of Mr. Fowler, will hang next Friday at Taylorsville.

— One of the Winslow salesmen sold from behind the counter in 1879, $65,000 worth of goods. There were eight other salesmen.

— Winstead Sentinel: L. B. Winstead's compromise amounted to $500 instead of $10,000, as stated last week. — Joseph Willard, of Union Cross, in this county, killed a hog last week which weighed 670 pounds.

The Catholic clergy of Cincinnati held a meeting Tuesday and determined to fight the application for the sale of church property to pay the debts of Archbishop Purcell.

THE MORNING STAR.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 29, 1880.

WHOLE NO. 3,887

VOL. XXV.—NO. 109.

Mr. Manning, of Mississippi, has introduced a bill in the House to reorganize the U. S. Supreme Court. He proposes to increase the number of Judges to twenty-one. The plan is given by the State's correspondent as follows:

"There shall be one Chief and two Associate Chief Justices, the latter to be selected by the President from the Associate Justices; that the Court shall be divided into three chambers, each composed of six Justices and presided over by the Chief Justice, or one of the Assistants; that one division shall have jurisdiction of civil cases, another of criminal, and another of admiralty cases and causes in which the United States is a party; that judgments concurred in by six of the seven Judges of a division shall be final, but when less than six-sevenths concur, the judgment may be reviewed by another division, and under like circumstances may be reviewed by the third division, where if no final decision be reached the cause shall be certified to the full bench; or the case may be taken in the first instance to the full bench from the division that first heard the case."

The present Court is partisan, and some improvement in that direction is very necessary.

The Grant managers in Washington insist that he is still in the race. There appears to be foundation for the report, we gave yesterday, that his Philadelphia friends will withdraw his name. Bildad of the Richmond State writes on January 27th from Washington:

"Matters have now assumed such shape in Pennsylvania that Grant's friends must make a vigorous contest, or they will lose the State. It is well understood that Grant has not yet decided, but that the nomination does not come with a resolution of unanimity he does not want it. In this view of the case his friends in Philadelphia who are authorized to act think that the time has come to withdraw his name from the Presidential contest by authority, and they will do it at the Convention next week. The gentlemen authorized to act have been in correspondence with Grant on this subject since he went to Florida, and the manner of the withdrawal from the church is a strong testimonial of the esteem in which he is held by his own people."

— Alamanac Gleaner: T. B. Kingbury has written and published in the Standard an interesting and beautiful eulogistic sketch of Thomas E. Lowe, a Methodist preacher of Halifax county, in this State, who died recently. — Albion prophet announces the subject of his sketch, a most eminent orator he ever listened to. We do not remember to have read a more tender, chaste and expressive tribute to the memory of the dead, or in praise of the living.

— Asheboro Courier: We regret to learn that Mr. John B. Henley, through some mishap, fell into the Spoon mine and sustained very severe injuries which are to prove fatal. — Mr. John Dorsett's pig weighed 550 pounds. — Mr. Clayton Farlow, of this county, a most estimable young man, died last week. — Daphne seized and cut him down in three days. — Mr. J. C. Funder killed over fifteen thousand pounds of pork this winter.

— Raleigh Journal: The following figures will show at a glance the progress made to date, by Mr. Treasurer Worth, in exchanging new compromise bonds for old State bonds:

Old Bonds received	New Bonds Issued
First Class..... $2,410,800	$94,320
Second Class..... 1,486,045	371,511
Third Class..... 1,273,400	191,910
	$5,176,245
	$1,527,741

— Morganton Blade: We learn from reliable parties just from Mitchell county that on last Monday a squad of revenue officers made a raid in the Clark neighborhood, in the above county, and arrested Franklin and several other parties; and as the officers were marching the prisoners out of the section during a quick time, they were fired into by parties in ambush, and one of the squad fell mortally wounded. The rest fled, leaving their wounded companions and prisoners behind.

— Raleigh Christian Advocate: The whole Methodist membership paid $1,401.88 to the Bishop, $11,117.82 to Presiding Elders, $76,647.82 to pastors, $4,180.90 superannuated preachers, widows and orphans, $7,018.86 for missions, $1,317.41 to the poor, $5,036.80 to Sunday Schools, $37,628.75 for building and repairing houses, $1,080.50 for education, $5,208.21 for incidentals, and $609.98 to the benevolent cause. The whole sum paid during the past year is $151,699.70. This gives a general average of $2.28 per member, or over $3.00 to each who really paid, and 87 per cent. of all assessments.

— The Poet gives the following account of the sale of North Carolina tobacco in the Danville market last Friday: One lot was grown by Miss M. M. Robinson, of the Roanoke section of North Carolina, a young lady who combines personal attractions of no ordinary character with a fine knowledge of practical farming. This lot was sold for $165 per hundred. Another lot, belonging to Mr. W. C. Dinkins, of the same section, started at $100 and was knocked down at $85. Still another lot raised in the same locality by Mr. T. C. Glance, was sold at the enormous sum of $500.

— Oxford Torchlight: The average yield of cotton to the acre in Texas, is 553 pounds; at three for one this is only 184 pounds of lint. The average yield in the cotton sections of North Carolina is put at 807 pounds, or 269 pounds of lint cotton.

— The Constitutionality of the reconstruction acts will be decided next Monday by the U. S. Supreme Court in a case that comes up from Virginia. Report says the Court is divided equally in opinion.

— The Richmond Dispatch's correspondent, writing from Washington, speaks in very high terms of Senator Bayard's speech on the finances, and says it was the event of the season. He says:

"The Delaware Senator never looked handsomer nor more like a statesman than he did to-day when giving to the country financial utterances that would not meet the approval of the majority of his party. Ordinary men, as prominently spoken of in connection with the Presidency as he is, would have hesitated long before making a speech they knew would not be endorsed in the stronghold of their party."

— The constitutionality of the reconstruction acts will be decided next Monday by the U. S. Supreme Court in a case that comes up from Virginia. Report says the Court is divided equally in opinion.

— The chess tournament that has been progressing in New York for many days has ended. The following are the scores: Mackenzie, 18 1/2; Grundy, 18 1/2; Mohle, 13; Sellman, 12 1/2; Judd, 11 1/2; Dellmar, 9 1/2; Ryan, 5 1/2; Ware, 5 1/2; Congdon, 3 1/2; Cohnfeld, 2 1/2. The five prizes are $500, $300, $200, $100, $50. Mackenzie and Grundy will play for the first prize on Thursday. Mohle takes the third, Sellman the fourth, and Judd the fifth.

— Winstead Sentinel: L. B. Winstead's compromise amounted to $500 instead of $10,000, as stated last week. — Joseph Willard, of Union Cross, in this county, killed a hog last week which weighed 670 pounds.

The Catholic clergy of Cincinnati held a meeting Tuesday and determined to fight the application for the sale of church property to pay the debts of Archbishop Purcell.

— Elizabeth City Carolinian: A meeting will be held at the residence of Col. James S. Woodhouse, on the 24th inst., for the purpose of forming and organizing a committee to be known as "Barrett's Railroad Company."

— Salem Press: Twelve hogs, for the Academy larder, were killed last week, averaging 402 pounds. — Mrs. A. E. Woodward, of Roe and her son, John Woodward, of Cincinnati, Ohio, were registered at the Salem Hotel of Friday, en route for Florida. Mrs. Woodward was a student in Salem Female Academy fifty ago.

— Hale's Weekly: Priscilla Bussey, a colored woman, engaged in a desperate fight with an axe, in which she was badly injured. — The alterations of the building on Hillsboro street, recently purchased by the Roman Catholics for a church, are progressing. — Mrs. T. M. Fleming, wife of the engineer, fell at the skating rink and broke an arm.

— Windsor correspondent of the State's correspondent as follows:

"There shall be one Chief and two Assistants, the latter to be selected by the President from the Associate Justices; that the Court shall be divided into three chambers, each composed of six Justices and presided over by the Chief Justice, or one of the Assistants; that one division shall have jurisdiction of civil cases, another of criminal, and another of admiralty cases and causes in which the United States is a party; that judgments concurred in by six of the seven Judges of a division shall be final, but when less than six-seventh concur, the judgment may be reviewed by another division, and under like circumstances may be reviewed by the third division, where if no final decision be reached the cause shall be certified to the full bench; or the case may be taken in the first instance to the full bench from the division that first heard the case."

— Hale's Weekly: — Frederick

Spaulding, the young tragedian who is to play Hamlet in the opera house to-morrow night, will celebrate his twenty-first birthday to-day. He is a son of Col. Dodge, of the United States Cavalry, who served in the frontier, and a grand nephew of Washington Irving, and although so young is said to combine with his fine historical talent a high culture and many accomplishments. — A correspondent writes from Rutherfordton that the revenue raiders have been making it lively for blockaders and moonshiners in that region during the past week. It is stated that Henry Miller and his crew, from Sampson, Beaufort and Washington counties, in this State, have recently visited Windsor with the view of examining the Harden factory and establishing factories in their sections. They left well pleased with their examination."

— Raleigh Observer: A committee, composed of members of the Legislature, will to-day, as required by law, inspect the books, accounts, &c., of the Treasurer and Auditor. The committee is composed of the following gentlemen: Messrs. Waddell and Scammon, of the Senate, and N. C. English, G. L. Smith and W. E. Clark, of the House of Representatives. — There are now over 250 pupils at the three female schools here.

— Winsted Weekly: — Priscilla Bussey,

a colored woman, engaged in a desperate fight with an axe, in which she was badly injured. — The alterations of the building on Hillsboro street, recently purchased by the Roman Catholics for a church, are progressing.

— Mrs. T. M. Fleming, wife of the engineer, fell at the skating rink and broke an arm.

State's correspondent as follows:

"There shall be one Chief and two Assistants, the latter to be selected by the President from the Associate Justices;

that the Court shall be divided into three chambers, each composed of six Justices and presided over by the Chief Justice, or one of the Assistants; that one division shall have jurisdiction of civil cases, another of criminal, and another of admiralty cases and causes in which the United States is a party;

that judgments concurred in by six of the seven Judges of a division shall be final, but when less than six-seventh concur, the judgment may be reviewed by another division, and under like circumstances may be reviewed by the third division, where if no final decision be reached the cause

shall be certified to the full bench;

or the case may be taken in the first instance to the full bench from the division that first heard the case."
