Ex-Senator Barnum, of Connecticut, is in Washington, and says Tilden will be nominated. The South will make a lively fight before that is done, you bet.

The way we read between the lines leads us to the conclusion that some of the papers are rather weakening about the great sell-out and an extra session of the Legislature.

Speaker Randall is confident that there will be an early adjournment of Congress. This depends to a great extent, we apprehend, whether the policy of silence is pursued by the De-

"Business in the dry goods trade is rather less active, but the tone of the market is buoyant and prices strong. Cotton goods in steady demand and firm; prints less active and firm. Lawns in good demand and Pacifics are advanced. Dress goods and ginghams active and in light supply. Heavy clothing woollens are doing well and prices all firm."

The Cincinnati Commercial, a Republican paper that does not like Grant, says "it isn't safe to assume that Samuel J. Tilden couldn't carry the States of Indiana, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York and Ohio against Grant." This may be true, but the same thing can be said with much more emphasis if tother names are mentioned.

Among those who, from its inception, have fought most ably and earnestly the scheme to sell out North Carolina to the Best Syndicate, has been Capt. V. V. Richardson, of Columbus, one of the Directors of the Western North Carolina Railroad. He is always found "at the front' when the honor and interests of' North Carolina are in jeopardy.

VOL. XXV.---NO, 122.

EVENING EDITION OF THE STAR. In the hope that the present schedule on the Carolina Central would be changed, we have not thought it advisable to print an evening edition of the STAR; but finding that there is no probability of an early resumption of the morning schedule on the Carolina Central, and that we are met by competition from other points, we have decided to respond favorably to the numerous requests of subscribers, and will begin the publication of an evening edition on Monday, the 16th inst. This edition will be printed for the benefit of our subscribers at Fayetteville and on the Carolina Central and its connections.

Hayes is a queer fellow. He swallows some of the worst sort of specimens without making a wry face, and then he gets deadly sick now and then at the sight of an ordinary rascal. For instance, he refuses to send to the Senate Pinchback's name as naval officer at New Orleans although he is strongly indorsed by John Sherman. Hayes says there is complaint that John is using the Federal patronage to advance his Presidential prospects. Of course he is, and Hayes has known it all along, and has aided him to boot. Why then balk over

Roscoe Conkling says he has not spoken to John Sherman for years. He thinks his election would be only to continue Hayes's feeble administration. L. Q. W. says in the Richmoud Commonwealth: "The Conkling men say that they will carry the New York Republican State Capital. - Mr. C. S. Warren, a citizen Convention on the 25th of February for of this place, died suddenly on Tuesday Grant overwhelmingly. Just now the only question is as to the extent of their majority. Illinois, it is generally con-ceded, will follow suit. Blaine will exhibit more strength in the Western States. like Iows and Minnesots. The fixing up rotten borough delegations from the South in the interest of Sherman creates no little wrath and disgust among Republicans, and there is talk of competing delegations to Chicago."

The war between Generals Sherman and Boynton is still progressing. The latter is a journalist of considerable distinction. Both are Repub licans. The Commonwealth's Wash ington correspondent, L. Q. Washington, says of Boynton:

"He has a high professional repu'ation, and is liable to give the Sherman cr ,wd a great deal of trouble. Personally he is much more respected than Sherman, and, unlike this military braggart, bears himself like a gentleman in private life and social intercourse. Sherman's charges against Boynton of corruption and bribery are false, malicious, and, to persons who know the parties, absolutely ridiculous.'

Ex-Secretary of the Navy, A. E. Borie, who died recently, left Grant $10,000 in case his wife, to whom he bequeathed all his property, did not spend it or otherwise dispose of it. The question is, how old is the widow, will she marry again, will she spend the property, or will she leave Grant some spondulics in her will, supposing "the strong man" outlives her? Grant will hardly get that $10,000.

Representative Acklen has uck of getting into hot water. Last winter he was made notorious by a certain scandal that got into all the papers. They dub the Democratic Legislators "Honorable," to which they have no claim whatever, but they refuse to bestow the same title upon white Radicals and colored members who are equally entitled to it. This is unfair. A rich man who happens to get in the Legislature is no more of an "Honorable" than a poor white man or a negro.

Some twenty, names were en-rolled as members of the temperance order.

- The Charlotte Observer tells of a negro girl who fell forty feet into a shaft at the Rudisille mine and after remaining nine hours under ground was rescued. A noise was heard. Finally it was traced to an old, unused shaft, some distance off, and discovered to be the voice of a child. A rope was lowered and one of the men went down. When he touched bottom the rope marked forty feet. "It's a little nigger, by the holy fathers!" was the exclamation that came up from the shaft, and shortly afterwards they drew up the rope, at the end of which was fastened a small negro girl about 12 years old. She came up smiling, and when the rope was untied walked off without even limping, to the utter amazement of every one.

The Orange Guards, Danville Grays and Winston Light Infantry will be invited to be present and participate in the festivities of the occasion. -Rev. C. failure to list poll-tax for 1879.

An inquest was held over the body of young Riddick on Tuesday morning, in connection with which the Charlotte Observer remarks: "Dr. Wilder, who examined the body immediately after death, and again yester-day, stated that the ball did not go through the body, and that (the wound not being probed) death must either have been caused by the percussion of the shot so close to the heart, which would have been sufficient to produce death, or the actual penetration of he heart by the ball. In the pocket of the deceased were found, besides several telegrams in reference to a position which he was offered in Macon, a photograph of his stated that a few moments before his death he had spoken to his wife, to whom he was devotedly attached, most affectionately.

"The evidence as to the state of his health confirmed what was given yesterday, and it is further learned that he had been heard to complain, as long as a year ago, of suffering from indigestion. Dr. Wilder stated, in the course of the investigation, that indigestion was a most frequent cause of insanity, and that the young man's mind may have been affected while he attended to his business in the usual manner, and excited no remark. "Mr. Shannonhouse, at whose house he boarded before and for some time after he was married, stated that his humor was moody, being sometimes in good spirits and again greatly depressed, eating very litle except sweetmeats. "The verdict of the jury was that the deceased came to his death by a pistol shot over the heart by his own hand. "Mr. Riddick was a great favorite with the operators with whom he had been associated, either personally or over the line, and many were the messages of regret at his untimely death received at the office

The funeral of the deceased took place Wednesday morning from the Tryon Street M. E. Church.

Another Capital Case. Another capital case was developed in the Criminal Court yesterday morning, the grand jury having found a true bill against one Samuel Stacey, colored, for burglary. The specific charge against Stacey appears to be that he broke the fastenings of a door leading into a room occupied at the time by one Jesse J. Johnson, on Princess, between Seventh and Eighth streets, on the night of December 23d, 1879, and took from a pocket of Johnson's pants a tobacco bag containing $3 in money, which he carried off. Johnson, it is alleged, was apparently asleep on his bed in the room at the time, but in reality was wide awake and witnessed the whole transaction, though afraid to say anything. Stacey was subsequently arrested by Officer J. A. Ashe, and warrant issuediby Justice Hill, before whom he had a preliminary examination for larceny, and was committed to jail, in default of security in the sum of $100 for his appearance at this term of the court.

Meeting of Stockholders for Reorgenization.

A meeting of the stockholders of this company was advertised to be held in this city on Tuesday morning last, and at Florence on the succeeding day, for the purpose of transacting business looking to the reorganization of the Company. Owing to an accident on the Petersburg Road, however, many of the stockholders were prevented from reaching here in time. Those present met, but there not being a quorum an adjournment was had until Wednesday morning, when, the remainder of the stockholders having arrived, a meeting was held, and the stockholders then proceeded to Florence, South Carolina, the law requiring that meetings should be held in both States through which the road passes. The action at both meetings was
