"The theatre was literally packed and jammed last evening, and standing room was certainly at a premium, as many were unable to get inside the door. The assembling of this vast audience was to witness the first entertainment of the celebrated Professor of Magic, J. M. Macallister. It would be impossible to enumerate the many wonderful and marvellous tricks performed by this quiet looking gentleman, so gracefully and with such ease. They were such as to astonish, mystify and delight the audienca. The entertainment was interesting from the commencement to the close, and not an indifferent trick was performed Everybody was delighted, and testified their pleasure by the heartiest applause All the feats were so good that it were really difficult to decide which was best, and we can only advise those who wish to enjoy seeing a professor of legerdemain who has no superior to attend the Theatre during Macallister's engagement. The evening was closed by the distribution of one hundred presents to lucky holders of prize tickets, all useful, ernamental and value. This was also enjoyed by audience, who had a hearty laugh at the quizzical expression of a mo-dest looking gentleman who received a big wash tub, and the blushing of a young man who won a large tin pan. Among the presents were a kit of mackerel, a ham,

Beveral heads of families have recently passed away, leaving dying requests that their children be sent to the Orphan Asylum. Many improvements are still needed on the premises, and we are preparing to make furniture so that the rooms may be more convenient and comfortable. It will be difficult to do these things and build at the same time. Yet how can we reject the applications of those in distress? We merely orphans may think, talk and write their sentiments. This appeal should strike every heart, and we know of no better way to manifest our sympathy for and approval of the orphans than by tendering our yoluntary subscriptions, or helping to sustain the Orphan's Friend, published by Mr. Mills in the interests of the Orphan Asylum; and we would here state that all contributions from Wilmington for the Orphan Asylum will be cheerfully forwarded by Mr. Wm. Permanent Organization of the Dupile Canal Company-Work to Commence at Once. In accordance with previous notice the subscribers to the capital stock of the Duplin Canal Company, in several counties, met at Magnolia on Wednesday morning ast, at 11 o'clock, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization and electing Directors for the ensuing year.

Thomas J. Carr, of Duplin, was called to the Chair, and Mr. John T. Bland, of Pender, appointed Secretary.

The Secretary then read the charter of the Company, which was accepted, after which the meeting proceeded to elect a Board of Directors, as follows: B. G. Worth, William Calder, R. H. McKoy, John W. Miller, S. H. Trimble, W. T. Bans nerman and W. L. Young.

The By-Laws were read and accepted, after which the meeting discussed the advantages which would likely accrue to the State from the proposed canal being constructed along the eastern and northern edges of Angola Bay, for about thirteen miles, said lands being the property of the State, and the sense of the meeting was to the effect that the Legislature, at its approaching extra session, should be memorialized for moneyed aid to the enterprise ia lieu of that afforded by the proposed convict labor, the Company deeming such labor impracticable.

Upon the adjournment of the meeting the newly elected directors met with Mr. W. T. Bannerman, of Pender, in the chair, and proceeded to elect the necessary officers of the company for the ensuing year, as follows:

B. G. Worth, President. W. L. Young, Vice President and Super-

J. H. Bostwright, Treasurer.

David Farrier, of Duplin, Secretary, Collector and Paymaster.

The Superintendent was instructed by the Directors to make the necessary arrangements for commencing work at once, so we may now consider the Duplin Canal as a fixed fact and its early completion as-

There was a good turnout at the meeting, and much interest was manifested in the enterprise.
