MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

At Oahst, Ireland, a party of Orangemen were attacked by the Roman Catholics; the police fired, wounding two of the latter. Rev. Newman Hall has married again; he was divorced last year. Herr Oppenheim, leader of the National Liberals in Germany, is dead. Vignaux and Shosen are to play a match game of billiards for $1,000. An escaped Louisiana convict was captured by detectives in Cincinnati. The Citizens' ticket is successful in San Francisco by several thousand majority. Webber's testimony is to be stricken from the Senate record in the Kellogg case. A mass meeting of Readjusters was held at Petersburg, Va., for the purpose of organizing for the spring and fall campaigns. Robt. Upshaw, of Moore, Ga., committed suicide with a shot-gun. The warlike attitude of China attracts attention in Europe; Russia will make no concessions but insist upon the ratification of the treaty of Kuldja. The Empress of Russia is sinking rapidly. The religious societies of France will contest in the courts the recent decree of the government. The strike of the Harmony mills operatives continues. A West bound freight train on the Cincinnati Railroad was wrecked and eight cars burned. The Mobile Cotton Exchange will invite Gen. Grant to visit that city. Secretary Sherman spoke at Mansfield, Ohio, last night. New York markets: Money @ 6 1/2-32 cent; cotton dull and nominal at 18 1/2-13 1/2; South-east flour quiet at 5 40-75; wheat 1 1/4c. better and more active; corn about 1/2c better and active; spirits turpentine dull and easy at 47 cents; rosin quiet at $1 50-1 55.

Nebraska, it is reported, will be sold for Grant at Chicago.

On Monday 2,479 immigrants, many of them Irish, landed in New York.

Sherman is going to Ohio on "private business." His fences are sandy out of repair.

Ex-Governor Letcher is said to be the only prominent Democrat in Virginia who is for Tilden.

In the Louisiana Legislature there is but one Tilden man. The remainder are for Seymour or Bayard, Seymour in the lead.

They are still hammering away at a World's Fair in New York in 1883. A bill favoring it has been introduced in both Houses of Congress.

Mr. Tom Keogh reports in Washington that the delegation from North Carolina will stand twelve for Grant and eight for Sherman.

Here is the count in the Georgia Legislature: 79 are for Tilden, 19 for Seymour, 14 for Thurman, 11 for Bayard, 4 for Hendricks, and 16 for the nominee.

Cameron says Grant will be nominated certainly, and Conkling says he grows stronger every day. We are delighted to hear this. Now for Seymour and Hendricks.

The Republican Senators have caused and determined unanimously to oppose Garfield's proposition in regard to United States Marshals. This is as the Star predicted.

Richmond is in luck. It is to have Ford's Dramatic Company, then Carreno Concert Troupe, next Ford's Juvenile Pinafore, then Thurman's, then Mrs. Scott Siddons, and, lastly, Miss Emma Abbott.

The Alexandria Gazette contains several columns of letters and dispatches from editors and prominent Democrats in private life throughout the State, who agree that Tilden cannot carry Virginia. He would have hard up-hill work to carry North Carolina.

The State's Washington correspondent, referring to the Presidential candidates, says of Seymour and Tilden: "In the opinion of the best-informed politicians here, the truth about these two candidates is that Seymour will accept if nominated, and Tilden will be nominated if he can. If the friends of other candidates would mark down these two facts they would have a valuable starting point for their calculations and manoeuvres."

The State is a Bayard paper.

In the Missouri Legislature the vote stands: Seymour, first choice 55, second choice 28; Tilden, first 26, second 16; Bayard, first 11, second 9; Thurman, first 9, second 19; Hendricks, first 6, second 10; Hancock, first 5, second 5. Grant leads the Republicans. He is the choice of 13 out of 16. Blaine is the second choice of 13.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXVI.—NO. 9.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1880.

WHOLE NO. 3,941

The Greenville Express is hard to please. The Star simply classed it as a "Jarvis organ." This the Express denied and the Star promptly corrected. It now calls upon us to publish two explanatory paragraphs, but prefaces the request by accusing us of an unwillingness to "do it justice" and "garbling," &c. This sort of accusation would relieve us of any further duty in the premises. We really meant to set it right and think we did so, but that it may have no cause to grumble we copy the important part of its paragraphs. It says: "The Express is not the organ of Gov. Jarvis. It has never expressed any opinion as to who ought to be the next candidate for Governor. "The Express has never championed the claims of Governor Jarvis nor intimated its future course. When the proper time arrives it will speak out its sentiments in no uncertain sound. Governor Jarvis is not in the remotest manner connected with the Express."

Ex-Senator Dorsey says that "there was a positive agreement, and so understood by all," when Kellogg and Butler were admitted to their seats, that they should "remain undisturbed until the end of their terms." He says, and we quote from Bildad's letter in the Richmond State: "This condition was made because the Senate Committee on Elections had investigated Kellogg's title and pronounced it good, while Butler was admitted merely upon his credentials."

It must be borne in mind, however, that Dorsey belongs to Kellogg's party.

Spirits Turpentine. — The Monroe Enquirer has been presented with a hen egg weighing a quarter of a pound.

Mr. Wortham, who was so badly cut by Henry Tucker, near Henderson, died of his injuries. Tucker is a fugitive.

Lincolnton Constitution: We learn from a reliable person that Rufus Quickie, colored, of this town, emitted a small serpent about an inch in length, from his mouth the other day.

Winston Republican: A couple of gentlemen were in town last Monday in company with Capt. David Jenkins, looking for timber land from which to supply the Northern markets with black walnut and other fine qualities of lumber.

Asheville Journal: "Don't you want to subscribe for a local paper?" was asked a countryman a few days since. "No," said he of the plough-handle, "I've got no time to read but of Sundays, and I've got a Hostetter's Almanac for that."

Concord Sun: Some of our neighbors are eating new Irish potatoes. Now from the farming operations now going on, you can see that potatoes are scarce that every farmer in Cabarrus will plant more cotton seed than he ever put in the ground before.

According to the Raleigh Recorder, (Baptist), there are 179,895 Pedobaptists and 180,935 Baptists in North Carolina. It strikes us both calculations are excessive "by a large majority." If true, then North Carolinians are either "mighty pious" or mightily addicted to formalism.

Raleigh News: Mr. Nat. Atkinson desires us to state to his constituents that he did not oppose the sale of the W. N. C. R. R. but he contended strongly for additional guarantees. Died, in this city, on Monday night, March 29th, Mrs. Adelia Scales, of Ireland, in the 71st year of her age.

Lumberton Robesonian: Dr. Malcom Shroy, an old citizen of this county, died of dropsy at his home in Blue Springs on Tuesday the 31st year of his age. Several large fires have been seen in this neighborhood during the past week, which owing to the high winds have kept the farmers busy fighting them as they term it to keep them under subjection.

Charlotte Press: The cold wave last night brought a heavy black frost and considerable ice formed. Early vegetation was nipped and the leaves of the same have sadly dropped. — Capt. Coley, of the North Carolina Railroad, had a battle with somebody down on Sunday, and the result of the battle was that he was "walloped thunder" out of the other fellow.

Monroe Express: On last Saturday night Mr. R. F. Holden, of this place, was sitting on a bench in Thomas' parlor, near the window, with some members of Mr. Thomas' family, when he was fired at through the window by some person on the street. The ball struck in the hollow part of the blinds and lodged. — The prisoners confined in the county jail—four in number—made an unsuccessful attempt to escape on Wednesday night.

Elizabeth City Falcon: Eight vessels arrived at our wharf last night loaded with fish. One boat had as many as forty boxes. On Monday Major W. A. Harney received from Mr. W. H. Baasight, one of our shad fishermen, an electric fish. The body of Wilson Scarborough was found dead at about five o'clock on Monday morning in the fire-room of Messrs. Dillon & Co.'s saw mill.

Mr. A. S. Sorogus writes intelligently about the mad-stone in the Lenoir Topic. He says there is no such stone, but there are three kinds reputed to be. He says: "It is greatly to be regretted that any person should be so foolish as to believe in the application of a piece of pumice, meteoric or a Bezar stone, to cure the consequences of the bite of a rabid animal, neither of which do any more good than a piece of brickbat."

Lenoir Topic: A correspondent writes us from Mitchell, that a man in that county got so heated intoxicated that just before he lay down in an old sow's nest by the roadside and fell asleep. About night the sow and her little pigs returned and found their bed occupied. Mrs. Bow, however, soon began to root out the intruder, who partly awakened and thought that he was at home in bed with his own wife, whom he addressed in endearing terms, and requested her to put more cover on the bed, and said he was getting cold.

Oxford Torchlight: Our young townsmen, J. C. Hunt, who left a short time since for Texas, returned last Sunday. While his opinion of Texas life is an exalted one, he is most forcibly impressed with the sentiment, "There is no place like home," or Granville county. The hammer and saw furnish lively music for Oxford. A bright future is in store for our town. — Messrs. E. H. Crews & Co. sold a parcel of tobacco last Thursday as high as $1.50 per pound. — Steps are being taken to organize a lodge of Knights of Honor in Oxford.

Raleigh Observer: A brace of belligerent members of the Assembly engaged in an earnest argument Sunday night. It might aptly be described as a knock down argument, since the rules of the prize ring were followed as the method. — Deputy Sheriff R. G. Maberry, of Halifax county, yesterday brought up and turned over to the authorities of the penitentiary three convicts. Their names were Daniel Braswell, John H. Smith and John Archer. Sheriff D. A. Graham, of Wayne, also contributed a trio of offenders, whose names were John Johnson, Henry Davis and Martha Williams.

Greensboro State: The meeting to make arrangements for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of Guilford Courthouse is likely to be a great success. Invitations have been extended to many of the prominent men of the land, and it is hoped a large attendance of them will be induced. — Deputy Sheriff D. A. Graham, of Wayne, has been promoted from second lieutenant of cavalry to first lieutenant of artillery. This will be good news to his many friends in this State.

Judge Settle passed through here Monday to visit his mother at Redville. He will spend a few days here before he returns South. He looks well and reports Florida Republicans solid for Grant.

Charlotte Observer: The prospect of the King's Mountain Centennial celebration are encouraging. The Legislature of North Carolina has responded to the call for an appropriation to defray the expenses, and the committees engaged in collecting funds from outside sources are meeting with fair success. — Two colored back-drivers, named respectively James Gray and Andrew Campbell, have been promoted from second lieutenant of cavalry to first lieutenant of artillery. This will be good news to his many friends in this State.

Easter Lowery, a colored woman, aged about fifty-eight, living at Dr. Henderson's, was found lying dead in the Statesville dirt road, near the residence of Mrs. Susan Henderson, a few miles from the city, on Saturday evening.

Local Lots.

—There were no cases for the Mayor's Court yesterday morning.

—The whooping cough is raging in the Lockwood's Folly section of Brunswick.

—Those who voted for the late railroad inquiry have the consolation of knowing "they did everything for the Best."

—Love Ann Jones, whose inhuman conduct to her children was alluded to in yesterday's paper, and who was committed to jail for her appearance before the Court next week, is a white woman.

—Rev. Dr. Wilson has been elected principal Commissioner to the General Assembly from the Presbytery of Wilmington, with Rev. B. F. Marable as his alternate. Ruling Elder Dr. Neil Graham was chosen as the additional Commissioner, with John McLaurin for alternate. So we learn from the Presbyterian.

Death of an Old Resident.

Mr. John C. Bailey, of the firm of Hart, Bailey & Co., died in this city yesterday morning, at about half past 1 o'clock, after a lingering illness of paralysis. Mr. Bailey was in the 62nd year of his age. He was a native of Sweden, but came here about the year 1832 from Nashville, New Hampshire, and commenced work as a pattern maker in the Clarendon Iron Works. In 1859 he was admitted into partnership with Mr. L. A. Hart, in the foundry business, and has since continued a member of the firm, building up for himself a good reputation as a business man, and making many warm friends in the community, who will regret to hear of his death. He was a member of Cape Fear Lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F., and his remains will be followed to the grave this afternoon, at 3 o'clock, by members of that order.

Case Adrift.

Four rats, containing in the aggregate one thousand barrels of rosin, broke loose from the wharf of Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co., on the west side of the river, on Tuesday night, and started for the ocean, being arrested in their flight yesterday morning in the neighborhood of the upper jetty. They were expected to be drifted up with the tide yesterday afternoon. The owners of the rosin were considerably astonished to find the rats gone when they went to look after them. They were tied up fast enough about 8 o'clock, and it is a little mysterious how they got loose.

Accident.

Henry Alexander, a young colored man, about twenty years of age, and formerly a resident of Greensboro, met with a severe accident at Lumberton Tuesday night. It seems that he attempted to board the train when he was caught in some way between the cars and had his thigh fractured. He was brought to this city yesterday and taken to the hospital, where the wounded limb was set, and at last accounts he was doing as well as could be expected.

Query? Can curing a cough with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup be called bullying a cough?

To-Day's Indications. Clear or partly cloudy weather, variable winds, shifting to southerly, stationary or higher temperature and barometer, are the indications for this section to-day.

That Other Chapter in the story of Miss Linkhaw's Life.

It is sometimes a pity to spoil a pretty story, but once in a while it becomes necessary to do so in order to vindicate one who has suffered from an unjust imputation or an ungrounded report. Such a case we have now to deal with. In a late issue of the Charlotte Observer there was given what purported to be another chapter in the story of Miss Linkhaw's life, to the effect that among her sympathetic correspondents while in jail in Lumberton was a man named Little, represented as a custom house officer stationed at Sullivan's Island, near Charleston; that he became deeply interested in her and wrote to her repeatedly while she was in prison; that on the night the trial was expected to close he was on the island, and in attempting to reach Charleston during the prevalence of a severe storm, he might have at the earliest possible moment whether she was to live or die, he barely escaped being lost by the capsizing of the boat; that after the acquittal of Miss Linkhaw the correspondence was kept up, photographs were exchanged, and a proposal of marriage was made and accepted, and that finally Miss Linkhaw, accompanied by her child and one of her sisters, left Lumberton and proceeded to Florence, S. C., where she was met by Mr. Little and the marriage ceremony was quietly performed.

It turns out that there is not a word of truth in the above story, which was copied into the Star and other papers. Miss Linkhaw is now in Wilmington, stopping with some of her relatives. She went to Marion, S. C., recently, accompanied by her sister, on a visit to some of her friends, but declares that she never saw, heard of, or received a letter from, the Mr. Little referred to, and thinks the report was started by some of her enemies with the object of injuring her.

An Alleged Suspicious Character Turns out to be a Lunatic.

John McLaughlin, the young man alluded to in yesterday's Star as having been arrested Monday night on suspicion, and who was ordered by the Acting Mayor to be locked up to await further developments, turned out yesterday morning to be a violent and dangerous lunatic, the services of six men being required to get him in a cell, after making a furious assault upon the jailor. Captain Johnson, of the schooner G. M. Porter, upon which vessel he had been employed, said that he was not aware that his mind was affected until his attention was called to the fact right recently by some of his men, who had noticed his strange conduct and incoherent mutterings. McLaughlin, who is a mere youth, apparently not more than 20 or 21 years of age, was sent to the Marine Hospital last evening.

I. O. O. F.—Junior Branch.

At a meeting of Exorciser Test, No. 16, Independent Order of Rechabites (Junior Branch), held on Monday evening, March 29th, the following officers were installed: S.—Thomas E. Skipper. P. C.—R. Geo. F. Strickland. C. R.—T. T. Sholar. D.—R. T. J. Pratt. T.—David Pratt. F. S.—O. E. Hall. R. S.—A. J. Marshall. L. V.—J. E. Hawkins. J. G.—Alex. Kerabaw. O. G.—J. A. Farry. R. S.—O. R.—J. R. Marsh. L. S.—O. R.—Henry Mintz. R. S.—D. R.—John Roderick. L. S.—D. R.—John Griffin.

Fire in the Woods.

It was noticed on Tuesday that quite a formidable fire was raging in the woods south of this city. We since learn that a great deal of damage was done ere the flames were gotten under control. It commenced about three miles below the city and extended to the neighborhood of Bernard's Creek, distant about six miles from Wilmington, destroying about five thousand turpentine boxes for Mr. Aaron Davis, and nearly all the fencing around the one hundred acres of cultivated land belonging to Mr. Robert Morrison, of this city. A party who arrived from the burnt district yesterday morning report that they fought the fire in the neighborhood of Mr. Morrison's place until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, when it was considered that the danger was over. Mr. Morrison's buildings, we learn, made a narrow escape.

The Association of Eggs with Easter.

In answer to the question, Why it is that eggs are associated with Easter, the New York Journal of Commerce thus replies: The egg is an accepted symbol of the resurrection. It was used long before Christianity to represent both the creation and the deluge, as life and order came out of chaos, and out of the ark, which enclosed it as the shell does the life to be quickened within it. The transfer of the symbol to the new life that comes out of the grave is very natural. These eggs were colored red or crimson to represent the blood poured out for man's redemption, through which alone, as the believers held, the new life was promised.

Meeting of Business Men.

There will be a meeting of the merchants this evening, at the rooms of the Wilmington Library Association, to discuss the plan for an excursion to an early day on one of all the railroads leading to this city. A full attendance of our business men is earnestly desired.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Lecture of Col. Jas. G. Burr.

The Historical Society and their visitors were last evening agreeably entertained by a paper from the section on local history of this Society, prepared and delivered by Col. Jas. G. Burr, a member of the section.

The Colonel related several incidents of local history of which he was the witness, since 1818. The parade of the Horse Guards, usually presided the day before by the appearance of a mounted trooper in the streets, blowing his trumpet at the different corners, and other incidents of daily life fifty or more years ago, and the wonderful changes and improvements introduced by modern progress in the good old town. He was present when the first steamboat, the Prometheus, made her appearance, panting and blowing against the strong current that sweeps by the "Dream Tree" to the ocean. He described in vivid and most interesting style the assembled crowd, the ringing of bells, the excitement of men, women and children, of all ages, sexes, colors and conditions, on Market dock, as she came steaming by. How the captain, in a brand new suit of uniform, with huge epaulettes and a big trumpet, as he passed by Market dock, applied the latter to his lips and roared in a voice of thunder, amidst the shouts of the assembled populace, "Give it to her, Squire!"

Then he spoke of a gallant son of the Cape Fear, one of a pair of German twins, who had fallen in the cause of Liberty at the Alamo, and wound up with a remarkable, deeply interesting and well authenticated ghost story, the apparition having been permitted, as it seems, to revisit these glimpses of the moon in bodily shape, and complained of the uncomfortable position he had been compelled to assume in his coffin by reason of the ill-treatment of his friends in burying him alive, and persisting in his visits and complaint until at last, the body being exhumed, the fact was verified and the proper rectification made.

The evening was a most enjoyable one. The President reported the receipt of various documents from Joseph R. Walter, Esq., corresponding member of the Historical Society of Delaware, Mr. Fred. Kidder, of Boston, and others, for which due acknowledgments were ordered to be made.

A committee was appointed to obtain, if possible, from the family of the late Mr. W. A. Wright, some historical documents of value.

A committee was appointed to collect documents relating to the late war.

Mr. Edward Kidder announced the death of Gov. Arnold, of Rhode Island, President of the Historical Society of that State.

The Secretary was authorized to procure a copy of the new charter, and the Society adjourned after passing a vote of thanks to Col. Burr for his exceedingly interesting lecture.
