John Sherman, in his Mansfield speech, says "our Judicial system is in danger." So it is, John, and the Democrats have been knowing that for a long time. They have known it, John, ever since the Supreme Court Judges in the Electoral Commission voted with the infamous 8 in favor of the great steal.

VOL. XXVI.--NO. 11.

It was very interesting to the Democrats on April 1st to see some of the Stalwarts make such "a fool" of themselves. They enjoyed the performance hugely whilst Blaine went for Edmunds, Carpenter and others. The controversy grew out of a rider Blaine sought to place upon the Appropriation bill. In the course of the discussion he declared that there wasn't a man on the floor who had not voted for riders, and he doubted if any Senator could com. pare with Edmunds in his record for loading down bills with independent - Weldon News : We learn that egislation. In the spat with Carpenter, the following occurred according

"Their thrusts at each other were carefully within parliamentary rules, but quite severe. Carpenter said Blaine presided when insolence was the rule, and he needed no instruction on that point, and that Blaine never failed to ride down a hobby he had created. Blaine replied that if it were not for the rules of the Senate he would call that impertinence. Carpenter said Blaine never allowed himself to be restrained by any rules, but he gave him liberty to say whatever he chose."

Even the Republican papers are oublishing the account of the quarrel many years ago in the House between Washburne and Conkling. The language of Washburne to Conkling was: "You lie." Eliciting no response, he waited a few moments and repeated: "I don't know that you understand what I said, and I don't wish to have any mistake made. I said, You lie!" Since that time the wo men have been strangers to each other. So Sprague was not the first te go a-gunning in search of the lordly Roscoe.

an Excusing Runaway. Persons in the neighborhood of the rai road witnessed a very exciting runaway yesterday morning. A horse attached to a dray near the shed on Front street got frightened and dashed madly up the track, his speed seeming to be accelerated with every bound of the vehicle, as it jumped, rattled and whirled over the almost perfect net-work of rails which fill the parrow roadway, never halting in his mad career until he reached the vicinity of Eighth street, where he was finally stopped. The wonder is that neither horse nor dray were injured to any extent.

Narrow Escape. A small white boy fell overboard at the foot of Dock street yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, and was being rapidly swept off by the current, which in another moment would have carried him under the wharf on the south side of the dock, when boys frequently congregate at that point to play in the boats and canoes in the dock, and it will be a wonder if some of them do ot prove more unfortunate than the lad alluded to above.

alarm bells rung for fire in the first district. and the flames were soon found to proceed from the property of Mr. John R. Melton, on Seventh, between Bladen and Harnett streets, which resulted in the destruction of his dwelling and a number of other buildings, including his sausage factory, with machinery, &c. It seems that Mr. Melton was up and getting ready to commence killing hogs. It is his custom to commence work earlier on Friday mornings than on other days in the week, and his hands were all on the spot and had started fires in the kitchen and sausage house. Finally Mr. M. went out into the yard for some purpose, when he discovered the reof of the sausage house on tire. There was a quantity of hay and rice straw stored on the upper floor of the sausage house, and as soon as the flames reached that combustible material they spread with great rapidity, the greasy condition of the building, and the fact that some five or six thousand pounds of tallow were stored in the building, made it burn still more furiously. The fire department was quickly on hand, but the supply of water was not From the sausage factory the flames soon spread to the dwelling, kitchen, smokehouse, stables and other out houses, all of which were destroyed. Sudden Death.

A colored man by the name of Frank Johnson, said to be from Pender county, died suddenly on a wood flat, foot of Orange street, about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. He had been complaining for some days of a pain in the breast, but was not so bad off that he had to stop work.

He worked Thursday all day, but during the night seemed in considerable pain, and frequently left his bunk. Finally, between 3 and 4 o'clock; he went outside and lay down on the top of the cabin, where one of the fistmen found him shortly afterwards. He was lying flat on his stomach, and the man, not being able to arouse him, started to turn him over, when he found that he was dead. Coroner Hewlett was notified and held an inquest over the body, the jury returning a verdict that deceased came to his death from some natural cause, supposed to be heart disease.

In the local notice of the call for the Democratic County Convention of New Hanover, in yesterday's STAR, it was printed that the Ward and Township meetings to elect delegates to the said Convention would be held on Tuesday, the 9th inst. It he was grabbed by a colored man and should have been Friday, the 9th, as in the landed safe on shore. A number of small official announcement of the Executive Committee.

A Card from Mejor McClammy-He Declines a Nomination.

Correspondence of the Raleigh News. 1 SCOTT'S HILL, March 29.—My attention has been called to a communication from Pender county which appeared in a recent issue of your paper, complimentary to my-self and presenting my name for a Democratic nomination for Congress from this district. I am grateful to the people of my county for their long continued manifestations of kindness to me and to your correspondent for his kind expressions. I would of course feel highly honored by such a mark of confidence as a nomination to Congress by the Democracy of the Cape Fear, but I have considered the matter carevice was done by the different companies. of the Democratic party and decline to allow the use of my: name. Among other names mentioned for nomination is that of Major Charles M. Stedman, a soldier of a brilliant and stainless reputation; a man of the finest business habits, a graceful orator and changeless friend, most widely and favorably known, a man who rose by his own exertions to the proud place which he occupies in the popular affection of the people, and for the people, who upon the very eve of the last contest declined the use of his name because, apprehensive that it would create discord in the ranks of his party. Believing that his nomination will secure to the party a leader about whose ability to redeem the district there can be no doubt, I will under no consideration allow my name to be used in opposition to his, and ask my friends to waive their preferences for me and give to him the same earnest and cordial support. Recognizing, as I do, the immense imporance of the approaching election, involving not only the triumph of party but the perpetuity of free institutions and the existence of even liberty itself; convinced of the absolute necessity of harmony everywhere to defeat the advocates of third terms and indefinite tenure of office, no consideration of personal advancement should influence me in this campaign. The contest in which we are engaged is one not of sections or particular localities. It is s contest between the Democratic and Republican parties, and I appeal to every Democrat to throw saids all personal feelng and labor for the redemption of the district. The district must be redeemed. Let the best and strongest man be nominated. In this day of selfish competition for place and power, let us revive that time-honored

WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW ?—As this question is frequently saked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a Female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this effort, and practically studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like ing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world renewmed as a benefactor of the race; children certainly do miss up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Wast quantities of the Bootting Syrup are DALLY sold and used herc. We think Mrs. Winslow has immertalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, methers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor.
