Hartley-Denck Combination-Masical, Dramatic and Hamorous.

Mr. J. W. Hartley and Mr. Joseph H Denck will give a musical, dramatic and humorous entertainment at Library Hall. in the Masonic building, on Tuesday evening next, under the auspices of the Wilmington Library Association. We understand that the programme will be a very attractive one, and those who desire to spend an evening of "music, mirth and delightful pleasure" should make it convenient to attend

A prominent gentleman of this city, and a man of culture, in recommending to the Library Association Committee the proposal of Professor Hartley to give this entertainment to our community under its auspices, says : "Three years ago Mr. Hartley favored our ,Association with two of the most delightful evenings it has ever been my privilege to enjoy, and although comparatively few persons availed themselves of the occasion, the remembrance of

- As this is our last issue before Memorial Day, we would suggest a prompt closing up of all stores and places of business on Monday afternoon at the ringing of the Market House bell for 2 o'clock, thus affording an opportunity to all our business men, as well as their employes, to join in the procession.

- The mate of the big alligator which was killed by parties on the steamer John Dauson, and afterwards exhibited at the head of the old market house, a few days since, floated up to the wharf near the foot of Princess street yesterday. It will be remembered that it was stated that another one was killed at the same time, but sunk before it could be secured. It was about the same size as the other.
