Utica thought of Mr. Seymour as a presi-dential candidate, and he replied that the Democrats there all believed that if nominated he cannot and will not decline. There is no doubt, however,' said he, that he does not seek the nomination and does not want it.' 'What about his health?' I asked. 'He is as erect as Senatot Kernan,' he replied, 'and looks every inch a vigorous statesman, physically and intellectually. Why, sir, if he and you were to start to day to walk from the Capitol to the Treasury Department, he would get there before you."

Ex-Governor Walker, of Virginia, now living in New York State, writes to the Richmond Dispatch that the New York delegation will not be controlled by Mr. Tilden, but will be "free" to act, and will act, for the best interests of the Democratic party. The Dispatch then says :

"We have indubitable proof of the fact in a speech made in the New York Senate ast Thursday by Mr. Jacobs, who waa President of the late Tilden Convention, and is a delegate to Cincinnati. He said: The Democracy of this State can get along without Mr. Tilden, and the Democracy of the country can get along without him, and if we find it policy to nominate somebody else, somebody else will be nominated, be cause we mean to win in this election. The Senator says I have pronounced myself an anti-Tilden man. If I am an anti-Tilden man it is because I do not think he can be elected, and because I think too much of my country, even with the veneration and love I entertain for Mr. Tilden, to support a hopeless candidacy. I do not believe for a moment that Mr. Tilden will be a candidate unless he thinks he can be elected, and think I can say for the delegation chosen o represent the Democracy of the State at Cincinnati that a large majority will oppose the nomination of any man that they think no doubt that both the delegates to the National Convention were instructed straight out for Grant, for that he himself introduced the resolution of instruction, which was carried. This, we suppose, settles it. And yet W. P. Canaday, in an interview in the Wilmington STAR, claims the delegation for Sherman. — Day before yesterday Mr. James Grisdule, head weaver at the Mountain Island Factory, missed his little four year old child. After several hours anxious hunt some one suggested that it might have fallen into the factory canal or race, as it is called. The water was drawn off and the body of the child was found lying on the bottom. ---- Work on the new Baptist church is making satisfactory progress. ---- Miss Painter, the well-known Friends revivalist, 18 to begin a series of meetings at Rutherford College to day, and large crowds are expected to attend - The Sheriff has received the respite of George Galloway. He has a new lease on life till the 2d day of July. — The orator chosen by the Davidson College literary societies to deliver the cration at the next commencement is the Rev. Dr. William Boggs, a Presbyterian minister from At lanta, of great learning and distinguished eloquence. — Mr. J. W. N. Summerell, son of Dr. Summerell, has just completed his theological course at Union Theological Seminary, and has already been licensed to preach. He is a talented and promising young man, and it is to be hoped that, unlike many others, he may be induced to remain in North Carolina. - Raleigh Observer: Sheriff J. K Davis, of Lenoir county, yesterday brought to the Penitentiary Simon Aldrich, colored, convicted of forgery, and sentenced to three years' imprisonment. ---- Linda Moore, colored, was yesterday released from the Penitentiary upon the expiration of her term of sentence. She was sent from Duplin county, for one year, for larceny. — On Friday evening there were brought in on the Raleigh & Gaston train about a dozen sick convicts, who were sent to the Penitentiary hospital from the Oxford & Henderson railroad. In the confusion at the depot, one of the prisoners, whose illness is now believed to have been feigned, managed to make his escape. The name of the escaped man is Emerson Walker. He is a negro, of a dark gingercake color, five feet eight inches in height, weighs 187 pounds, and is from Craven county. His eyes are black, and he is fifty years of age. He was put in the Peniten-tuary November 24th, 1879, under sentence of five years for larceny. The authorities will pay a reward of $10 and the necessary expenses for his capture. ---- Adjutant-

A newspaper man slandered Senator Hill in regard to the Raymond attempt to blackmail him. The Senator saw the correspondent in the Senate chamber, and, shaking his fist at him, applied some offensive language. Thereupon the big, burly correspondent invited the Senator out to fight, and upon this being declined he called the Senator a coward, with an ugly prefix. The latest is that Ben Hill, Jr., will shoot the b. b. c. on sight.

Mr. Hendricks has again spoken. Under no circumstances will he accept the second place on the ticket. He does not consider the office of Vice-President very attractive to a man who has been a United States Senator. It was not always thus regarded. John Adams, Thomas Jef-

"Almighty God, we acknowledge Thee to be our God, our rightful Sovereign, and the proper object of our worship and service. Help us, we pray Thee, that in coming iato Thy presence at this hour, we may have some just appreciation of the greatness of Thy character, and be heartily thankful for the varied expressions of Thy wonderful goodness. May we not only recognize Thee as our God, but have also a consciousness that, in a special and peculiar sense, Thou art our Father; and may we be this day the objects of a father's support and blessing. We have assembled here in this habitation of the dead in respect to the memory of those noble men who fell in the heroic defense of what they thought was just and right. They are beyond the reach of our praise or censure, and will sleep on until the archangel's voice shall break the silence of the grave and start into life those who sleep in the dust. They were loved in life, and in death are not forgotten. Help us to shun their errors, for to err is human; help us to imitate their virtues, for virtue is divine. And may we ever keep before us the great truth that a happy and peaceful death is in the ratio of a just and holy life. We pray for our country-that all sectional feeling and animosity, all strife and bloodshed, all war and wickedness, may give way before the Gospel of the Son of God, and the divine trinity of truth and peace and love make her home with us forever. May it please Thee, oh Lord, to overrule the acts of men for their own glory, and that we may have preserved to us and our posterity the blessing of civil and religious liberty. May our law-makers and rulers ask the Divine guidance and favor, and may all plans and measures looking to law and government be so directed by Thy Spirit as to issue in results that will secure to us the blessing of being that happy people whose God is the Lord. Commend Thy blessing upon Thy servant who shall speak to us this day. Give him grace to have a clear perception of the duty of the hour, and may thought and sentiment, word and delivery, be ac-ceptable in Thy sight, oh Lord, our strength and our Redeemer. And when we are called to this last earthly house of all the living, may we lie down to sleep with the dead in some hope of a blissful immortality, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."
