The very latest political prognostication is that it will be Samuel J. but whether Tilden, Field or Randall, each of whom bears this name, the prophet failed to say.

Whilst Henri Watterson says there is now no doubt of Tilden's nomination; the New York Herald continues its laborious work of nominating a Republican candidate for President. Its fourth or fifth and last, recently, is Hamilton Fish, of New York.

The Evening Post is the title of a new Raleigh daily edited by Wm. A. Hearne, price one cent. The writer has decided ability, ample experience, loves the sanctum and knows how to get up an excellent paper. The initial number is capital. It is of small size but is large enough. It will carry a free lance probably. The editor says:

"ladulging in no pet promissory phrases, the Post has only to say that it will be true to the best interest of the people of North

We alluded in a formerissue to the necessity for a fast mail service in the South. The North and West have it, and why should not the South? We are gratified to see that Congress has made an appropriation for that purpose. To estimate the value of this to the Atlantic Coast cities, calculate the interest on one third of the cotton crop of the United States, all the naval stores and Southern pine lumber for one day. It will give an amount of saving which will astonish those who have not considered it, to say nothing of the vast amount of other business incidental to these products. It is but an act of justice that the South should have it, and we hope soon to be able to announce that these facilities have been afforded to our business men. We think that our members of Congress are taking action in the right

- Raleigh Visitor: The funera services of the two unfortunate young men, Beauregard Crocker and John D. McMilwas preached from the First Baptist Church at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and was at tended by a large concourse of people. Their remains were deposited in Oakwood Cem etery, side by side.

- Charlotte Press: To-day witnessed the first hanging in Mecklenburg for seven years, and the victim of the drop, as s fresh in the minds of almost an entire community, was Henry Horne, a ginger-cake colored negro of about 30 years of age and about five feet in height, weighing about 150 pounds.

The Crops.

Rev. Dr. Bernheim, who has just re turned from the session of the Synod at Mt. Pleasant, Cabarrus county, reports the crops everywhere as looking finely, the wheat especially being more promising than for years. The cotton acreage is larger than for a long time past, and the indications are that the yield will be unusually large. The fruit crop in the sections he visited promises to be abundant, not having been materially injured by the cold weather.

The Sound Road.

The Committee charged with the duty of raising the necessary subscriptions for the construction of the proposed Sound Rail, road will commence a canvass of the city early next week, most probably on Monday We are glad to find that they mean business and are very sanguine of ultimate success. Charged with the Crimes of Arson | Our Churenes To-Day. and Larceny.

John Merrick, colored, who was convicted at the late term of the Criminal Court of breaking into the tobacco factory, but held to answer to other charges pending against him, was arraigned before Justice Gardner, yesterday morning, on the charge of setting fire to and burning the residence of Mr. John A. Sanders, near this city, two or three years ago. One Ephraim Smith was the principal witness against him. He testified to the effect that Merrick on one occasion proposed to him that they should steal Mr. Sanders' furniture and burn the house. Witness declined, giving as his reasons that his wife was in the employ of Mr. Sanders, and it might go hard with her, and he thought it a risky business any way. Merrick told him he would take the furniture down to the sound and sell it, and Mr. S. would never know anything about it. Witness, however, still refused to embark in the enterprise. A short time subsequent to this conversation Merrick again broached the matter to witness, saying he had to 'make a raise" immediately, as Mr. Sanders wouldn't employ him, and he had to have some money. The same night Mr. Sanders' house was burned.

There was other testimony, but it was rather conflicting, one of the female witnesses swearing that Smith told her he burned the house himself. Upon being cross-examined, however, her replies were very unsatisfactory.

Defendant was ordered to be held for trial at the next term of the Criminal Court on the charge of arson, and also for stealing a gun and some other articles, the property of Mr. Sanders, which were left in the house on the evening of the night it was burned, and which were afterwards traced to Merrick's possession.

Awaiting his Trial.

In alluding to the United States prisoners in jail yesterday, we omitted to mention Samuel Grice, colored, charged with tampering with the mails. The defendant in the post office of a neighboring town, addressed to Samuel R. Grice, which, upon being opened was found to contain a check in payment for certain lumber, which Grice knew must have belonged to another party, having been warned to that effect by some of his friends, but he persisted in claiming it, and subsequently got it discounted. His case was continued by the District Court at its late session, and Grice will remain in jail until the next term of the Court, which meets on the first Monday in November, unless he gives the necessary bond.

Calvin McKoy, colored, mentioned in our last as being in for violating the revenue laws, has been released.

Meeting of the State Medical Society. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next, the 11th, 12th and 13th inst., the State Medical Society will hold its twenty-fifth annual session at the Opera House in this city. The Charlotte Observer says the train will go to Charlotte, thence to Statesville over the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio, thence over the Western North Carolina road to Salisbury. This route will be taken in order to let the excursionists see as much of the Piedmont country as possible, and at the same time enjoy a long ride.

Accident on the River.

As the Government steamer Woodbury was about leaving the wharf, foot of Chesnut street, yesterday afternoon, she came in collision with a small fishing boat and capsized it. The inmates of the boat, Mr. Edward Hewett and son, who live about ten or twelve miles below the city, made a narrow escape from drowning. They had their fish-nets with them, and also a quan-The following will show the state of the tity of provisions. The nets were recovupsetting was purely accidental.
