Senators Bayard and Butler are to eneak on the Kellogg case

It is now believed in Washington that Congress will adjourn early in June. So be it.

At the Richmond primary held on the 13th, W. C. Carrington received 2,994 votes and William C. Knight 532 for Mayor.

Ben Hill's speech is spoken of as "great," but only six or seven Republican Senators heard it. They could not stand the fire.

It is thought in Virginia that the Richmond Whig, Mahone's organ, will support the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention.

It is said John Sherman begins to feel comfortable. Somehow John can get comfortable over a very short allowance of success.

There are thirty thousand weavers in England on a strike, and there is wide spread discontent. The weavers struck because the mill owners refused to increase the wages.

And now Hayes says he does not desire a second term. Grant said the same thing, and now he is even trying to get a third. The country will spare Hayes the pains and penalties of such an affliction.

Mr. Marshall Parks, of Norfolk, is again in Washington, hammering away at his proposed plan of inland navigation from New York to Florida. He is said to be preparing a map on a large scale.

Whatever persons may think about the correctness of Senator Hampton's position in regard to the Kellogg case, all must admit that his speech was very manly. Hampton is an honest, conscientious man if there be one in the country.

Townsend, who was prosecuting the white cadets at West Point under the guise of representing the negro Whittaker, has stepped down and out in a huff. In the meantime the experts are confident that Whittaker wrote that little note of warning.

Wade Hampton, at the close of his speech, was complimented by Democrats and Republicans. Carpenter made a very strong legal argument in favor of Kellogg. He is said to be an uncommonly attractive speaker. Hampton read his speech.

The very latest as to the Republican outlook is this: 299 for Grant, 230 for Blaine, 68 for Sherman, 13 for Washburne, 40 for Edmunds. Necessary to a choice 379. Number of delegates to be elected 106. Of these Grant must have 80. There are 9 States to choose delegates. If Grant loses 26 he will fail. It is getting interesting and no mistake.

We regret we did not have the pleasure of hearing the speech of Dr. James F. Long, of New Berne. It is spoked of in high terms. Dr. Long is for making the law compulsory as to the examination of all physicians by the Board of Medical Examiners. His speech is reported to us as being replete with sense whilst abounding in those brilliant flashes of thought conveyed in the most felicitous and exquisite diction that distinguish all of this elequent gentleman's efforts. He is a man of mark in any assembly of intellectual men. He was chosen the orator at the meeting of the Medical Convention in 1881.

Soires of Misses Burr and James

The City Hall was taken possession of last evening by the pupils of Misses Burr and James for an entertainment, consisting mainly of music and calisthenic exercises, Quite a large number of spectators were present to listen to the music and witness the wonderful accuracy with which the scholars went through the numerous marches, motions and figures of the calis, thenic drill. Everything went off like clock work, attesting the careful and intelligent manner in which the scholars had been di-

The vocal and instrumental music and recitations formed a very agreeable feature of the evening, and altogether the entertainment reflected through the proficiency of the scholars much credit on their teachers, pleasing all in attendance. Upon the conclusion of the entertainment the pupils and friends engaged in the giddy mazes of the dance, winding up the evening most pleasantly.

School Examination. A number of gentlemen, including the Chairman of the County Board of Education and the Chairman and members of the School Committee, were present yesterday at an examination of the colored Peabody School, in this city. The studies selected for the occasion consisted of grammar, geography, spelling and arithmetic, concluding with vocal music. We learn that the result was highly gratifying to those present, evidencing a commendable degree of discipline and very decided proficiency in all of the studies in which they were examined. In fact, it was the sentiment of the visitors, without exception, that the progress displayed by the pupils reflected much credit both upon themselves and their teachers. The singing, our informant states, was especially fine. J. A. Holt is Principal of the School, and the teachers consist of Susie W. Thompson, Elizabeth Smith, Maria Mallett and Juo.

A Cutting Scrape.

Jonn Burnett, colored, was arrested in "Paddy's Hollow," Thursday night, about 9.15 o'clock, charged with inflicting a wound with a knife upon the person of one Mag McKoy, one of the reigning belies of that classic locality. The wound was on the side of the nose and Officer Watkins, who made the arrest, says the blood flowed very freely. Burnett denies that he cut her, and no knife was found on his person, but the woman declares she saw the weapon in his hand. The case will come up for a hearing before the Mayor this morn-

Thursday's black fish party had a good time on the rocks, and caught from fifteen hundred to two thousand fine fish. Capt. Harper seems to know exactly where to find them. The "disappointed fishermen," alluded to yesterday, were mistaken, we hear, as to the boat starting "before time." The trouble was that she started exactly on time-a very rare thing with excursion hoats, generally speaking.

Street Improvements. The city street brigade are now engaged in grading Hanover street, between Second and Third, the proposed site for the extension of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad shops. The street will have to be graded very considerably in order to put it in To-Day's Indications. Stationary or rising barometer, northeast winds, slightly cooler and partly cloudy weather, are the indications for this section Convicted of Slander.

Sarah Martin, colored, was arraigned before Justice Gardner, on the affidavit of one Lucinda Washington, colored, charged with slandering her in such a way as to injure her reputation. Quite a number of witnesses were examined, and at the close of the testimony the defendant was ordered to enter into a justified bond in the sum of $100 for her appearance at the approaching term of the Criminal Court. She furnished the necessary bond, and was discharged from custody.

DISTRICT. The Convention to nominate a candidate for Congress has been called here in Fayetteville on the 2d day of June, 1880, and probably the gravest duty will rest on the delegates to that Convention which a Convention has been called to perform since the Democratic party was first successful

The Third Congressional District is now known as the "Lost District"-lost by the apathy and a want of interest which was manifested in the election of Col. Waddell in the last campaign.

Now it is highly important to the welfare of our State and District that this-the 'Lost District"-must and shall be redeemed; and the question of its redemption appeals loudly to the wisdom and patriotism of every good citizen.

Col. Waddell's defeat was due, to a great extent, to the fact that he was from New Hanover county; and although the rest of the District had tried to overcome his nomination, he was repeatedly nominated, until the people saw resistance was in vain; and there is to day a very strong and decided opposition to the nomination of any candidate from New Hanover, and a very intense desire that the next candidate of the Democratic party should hail from some other county; and in order to insure success in the coming campaign, it behooves the Democratic voters to put forth as their standardbearer a man who is known by the people, and who can bring out the full strength of the Democratic party. So, then, in order to recover the lost strength of the Democratic party, it is highly necessary that the next nominee should come from a county of the District other than New Hanover; and in looking around among the public men of this District, no one is more prominent before the people than Judge A. A. McKoy, and his friends do earnestly believe that he can redeem this District more certainly than any other candidate, and give the following as their reasons: 1st. Because Judge McKoy is a native and resident of Sampson county. 2d. Because he is a man of ability and well qualified for the position.

3d. Because he is personally known to every man in the District, and has a greater popularity than any other man in the 4th. Because he is a sound Democrat, and has never faltered in his devotion to his party and principles. 5th. Because he is in the vigor of manhood, and physically and intellectually able to make a thorough and active canvass if nominated. 6th. Because he is free from the shackles of any ring or combination.

7th. Because he can bring out the full strength of the Democratic party in this District. 8th. Because he is a man temperate in his habits, and with a character which, in no manner, can be assailed.

Democrats! As you love your party, will you fail to support in Convention, as your nominee, such a man? Fayetteville, N. C., May, 1880.

WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW?—As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a Female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world renowned as a benefactor of the race; children certainly do man up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are DALLY sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet anborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. PILLGROVE, N. C., May 9 1880. Gentlemen—All the Cordials, Restoratives, Elixirs, Bitters, Eaux de Vie, Champagne, Madeira, Whiskeys, Brandies, Brandy Peaches, and the like you have for sale in such amazing quantities, will now reconcile me to the dangers of a too careless intimacy with your Sample Rooms. I had a curious adventure there on my last visit. It was after 12 o'clock, every thing perfectly still; the policemen even had gone home. Happening to pass by your store, I saw a prodigious stir among the bottles and shelves on the counters; the spirits you keep imprisoned in glass and tin appeared to be possessed, and were whispering together and lostting each other, as though they intended an outbreak. Now and then I neard a champagne cork pop, while the rest giggled. Suddenly the store was illuminated, and the jars and bottles sliding down to the floor, arranged themselves in family groups and got to dancing. There were—

12,000 English Pickles, all sizes and kinds, from Onions, sweet scented, and Gherkins, crisp and green, to sour Cucumbers, proud and seedy as witches;

witches;
1000 Cans of Milk, in blue and silver;
17,000 Preserved Fruits, in family jars, of Quinces,
Lames, Cloves, Apples, Plums, &c.;
50,000 Champagne in bottles, marching by platoens of twelve;
15,000 Bottles of Whiskey, jolly as parsons, running loose in spite of bungs and corks, and light and frisky.
One of these tried to catch and kiss me, but the scamp Dopped me in the eve and laid me out cold scamp popped me in the eye and laid me out cold, with a bruise from which I have not yet recovered. Until you give me a guaranty I will not suffer again by indulying my preferences for the groceries of P. L. Bridgers & Co.,

Yours, Respectfully.
