Rev. Dr. Dabney, of Virginia, sailed for Europe on last Saturday.

Two thousand immigrants arrived at New York on Saturday. Of these seventy were Bavarian paupers.

Mahone's followers are jumping the fences and seeking "pastures new." Like horses of another color they smell the corn crib afar off.

Mr. Tilden once "sat down" on Cyrus, brother of Judge Field. He will probably repeat the experiment on the Judge if it should become necessary.

Bishop Atkinson, we are glad to learn from the Raleigh Observer, was able to attend services twice on Sunday and to confirm candidates both morning and evening.

There now. The five experts all agree that Whittaker wrote the threatening letter to himself. So the colored cadet is caught at last. The fool used his own letter paper.

Max Strakosh is to pay Mme. Marie Roze $1,000 for three performances a week for the season beginning next November in New York. A Roze by any other name would not be so prized.

The Baltimore Sun has completed its forty-fourth year. It is a good, reliable newspaper that deserves success and has attained it. There is literally "millions in it?" If you do not believe it just ask Mr. Abell, the richest newspaper man in America.

It would seem that the vote for adjournment on the 31st inst., was a trial of strength between Democratic protectionists and Republicans on the one side, and Democratic tariff reformers on the other side. The vote stood 121 for adjournment to 90

The Richmond Dispatch's correspondent at Washington writes on the 17th that Mr. Tilden will not be a candidate but will exert great influence at Cincinnati. It says this is reliable—is certain. It is from the best possible authority. Glad to hear | couraging. he is not in the race, if it is so.

Without protracting the discussion with the Monroe Express we will merely add it is a matter of judgment as to who is the most available for President. The STAR is clearly much the strongest. Hence it favors | the last week in May. his nomination. What the New York World may say is not worth much as against Mr. Seymour. It endeavored to betray him in 1868 as all know. It would oppose him now of course. It is a paper without principle of any kind.

THE MORNING STAR.

V.OL. XXVI.--NO, 50.

WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, MAY 19, 1880.

After all the talk George Eliot is not married to Mr. Cross or any other man. It was the widow of Mr. George Henry Lewes who was married. That is too bad, but for George's sake we are glad it was a blunder. The Baltimore American says:

"The marriage took place last Thursday week in St. George's Church, Hanover Square, the extreme fashionable church of London, and we should suppose that the face of so renowned a woman as George Eliot was familiar to the men whose business it is to do journalistic work. But our English friends have a brilliant capacity blundering in matters of this that would eternally disgrace an American reporter, and lead him to conclude that he had missed his vocation. It has only been a few months since they killed pretty Nellie Grant-Sartoris, and had us on this side of the Atlantic shedding tears over her untimely fate, before they discovered that it was an aunt of her husband's who had gone over to join the great silent majority. The London Times did not know of the death of its own editor, Mr. John Delane, until three days after it had occurred; but this bull in the case of George Eliot is the most ludicrous of all misinformation, as all the world knows George Eliot never was married to the late

The Richmond State thus announces the commencement exercises of the literary societies of Randolph Macon College of Virginia:

"On Tuesday, June 16th, at 8 P. M., the celebration of the Franklin Literary Society takes place. Hon. T. W. Mason, of North Carolina, is the president-elect, and Messrs. A. C. Davis, Jr., of North Carolina, and McLain Pleasants, of Virginia, are the

M., the celebration of the Franklin Society takes place. Gov. F. W. M. Holliday is the president-elect, and Messrs. W. W. Sawyer, of North Carolina, and T. H. Bagwell, Jr., of Virginia, are the orators."

Who is "Hon." T. W. Mason, of North Carolina? Not to know him may be to confess ourselves unknown, or words to that effect.

A Noble Charity. | Baltimore Gazette.]

The annual meeting of the Board of Lady Managers of the Maryland Charity Eye and Ear Infirmary was held yesterday at the institution, No. 54 Saratoga street, Mrs. William H. Brune, President; Mrs. George Coates, Treasurer; Mrs. R. Barry and Mrs. Hugh Lee, Secretaries. A number of ladies interested were present, among whom were Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Alexander F. Murdoch, Mrs. James Taylor, Mrs. Joel Hiniman, Mrs. Reuling and others. The surgeon in charge of the Institution, Dr. George Realing, read his annual report, and announced that on Saturday last the nine hundredth case of cataract operation had been performed by him since the establishment of institution in 1868. During last year 1,794 new cases of eye and ear affections have been treated at the dispensary and indoor department. In the latter, 51 patients received treatment and operation free of charge, paying for their board only, while 25 patients were boarded, operated and treated gratuitously. These patients came from the various counties of Maryland, Pennsylvania, and especially the Southern States. This important charity is sustained by voluntary contributions, and a vote of thanks was offered to the following donors: Messrs. B. F. New-James, D. J. Foley, Francis White, A. S. Abell, S. M. Shoemaker, G. A. Von Lingen, Enoch Pratt, W. T. Walters and others.

Mayor's Court. Wm. Dabney, a dilapidated specimen of colored humanity, was arraigned on the charge of forcible trespass. It appears that he has been in the habit of breaking in through a window of a warehouse on miles, as he is in the habit of doing, having the wharf, foot of Castle street, the property of Mesers. E. G. Barker & Co., and sleeping there of nights, the doors of the building being closed. He was sleeping in the warehouse Monday night, when some one nailed up the window and then notified the police. Sergeant Davis went to the spot yesterday morning, and found Dabney occupying a boat which had been placed there for safe-keeping, while around him was his wardrobe of rags and tatters, buckets and platters, and other articles of household fixtures, the clothing and person of the intruder being literally covered with vermin. He was taken to the guard house by Sergeant Davis, who adopted the wise precaution of making him leave all his clothing behind but what he had on his Arrest of a One-Armed Stranger for Disorderly Conduct.

A one armed white man, a stranger in the city, and supposed to be a tramp, was arrested at a house in the neighborhood of Fourth street bridge, yesterday afternoon, by Officer Woebse, of the police force, for acting in a very disorderly manner, cursing and swearing and frightening women and children. The officer was under the impression, from the way he acted, that he was demented. At the guard house he was so obstreperous that he had to be locked up in a cell, and Officer Woebse, who performed this duty, had a severe struggle with the prisoner, during which he had the misfortune to lose an arm-of his coat, which was? left in the grasp of the incarcerated individual. The man would not give his name, but said he was a Yankee, and lost his arm during the war. While in his cell we heard him shouting lustily, "three cheers for the Jersey Blues and Gen. George B. HOW A FRENCH COOK IMPROVED HIS BROTH.—At the celebrated home of social, but aristocratic Democracy, the famous Manhattan Club, on Fifth Avenue, New York City, the theme of conversation recently has been not so much as to the coming nominee at Cincinnati as to the luck of one Monsieur Emil Sigrist, a veritable chef de cuisine, who bought of M. WHO IS MRS. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world renowned as a benefactor of the race; children certainly do RISE UP and bless her; especially is this the case in this city.
