didates for office, whether in the shape of commu-nications or otherwise, will be charged as advertisements.

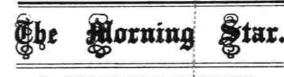

Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space or advertise any thing foreign to their regular business without extra charge at transient

Payments for transient advertisements must be made in advance. Known parties, or strangers with proper reference, may pay monthly or quarterly, ac-cording to contract.

Advertisers should always specify the issue or is-sues they desire to advertise in. Where no issue is named the advertisement will be inserted in the Daily. Where an advertiser contracts for the paper to be sent to him during the time his advertisement is in, the proprietor will only be responsible for the mailing of the paper to his address.

Remittances must be made by Cleck, Draft, Pos-tal Money Order, Express, or in Registered Letter. Only such remittances will be at the risk of the publisher.

Communications, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected if the real name of the author is withheld.

It appears to us that Gov. Holden, whose meritorious poem we copied in our Sunday's issue, has misapprehended the purpose of Tennyson's poem. He appears to think that the poem celebrates the birth of a son of the Prince of Wales. We do not so read it. have no choice except that we think that the Conventiou should select the man most likely to succeed. We beheve the man who can best harmonize the Democracy of New York and of the country to be Horatio Seymour. -Jersey City Argus, Dem.

-- Horatio Seymour is the ablest and best of our living statesmen of any party. He has more of the grander attributes of statesmanship than any of the political leaders of our time, and, if his health could be assured, he would make one of the most competent and patriotic Chief Magistrates the country has ever had. He has filled important positions in his own State; has always been the strongest man his party could select as its standard bearer. and his official record is singularly free from blemish. In disregard of his earnest protest he was nominated for President in 1868, and compelled to accept the honor; but he obeyed reluctantly, and held New York against Grant in that memorable struggle. In 1876 he was unanimously nominated for Governor, not by political managers but against all their plans, and he peremptorily declined. Whether he would accept a nomination for the Presidency now, is a question that none but himself could answer; but it is certain that nothing less than an imperative demand from the party would induce his assent. He is the strongest of all the leading men who have been discussed for the Cincinnati nomination, not only as an available candidate but of all the qualities of a great Executive.-Phil. Trmes, Ind.

OUR STATE CUNTEMPORARIES.

The persicious influence of powerful corporations in politics is so dangerous, and that danger so imminent, it is not necessary that the Post should offer any apology or hesitate through the palaver of preface to declare that railroad influence in North Carolina politics is the darkest and most dangerous fealure of the approaching State campaign, if the people are not alive to and watchful of their interests.-Raleigh Post. The friends of Gov. Jarvis who have glorified him for the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad had better hurry up Mr. Best, or the railroad platform will hardly do to stand on about the 17th of June. We are glad the road is sold, if it will only stay sold and prosper; but we have never had much opinion of the sale and the extra session as a campaign document. Let us take up some man, or men, who had little to do with this matter for the present. -Hickory Carolinian.

PARIS, May 26. - M. Engelhard has raised a discussion in the Municipal Council regarding the measures taken by the Prefect of Police in connection with the Communist demonstration on Sunday last. An order of the day was adopted, stating that the Council blames the Prefect for giving orders to his subordinates, the execution of which, by renewing the most detestable proceedings of the Empire, involved serious encroachment upon the liberty of citizens. The Prefect of Police left the Council hall as soon as M. Engelhard broached the question, declaring the matter beyond the sphere of the Council's deliberation. The order of the day was passed by a vote of 34 to 7, fifteen abstaining from voting.

TF YOU DESIRE THE CHOICEST, FRESHEST GROCERIES,

RADICALISM AND THE ELECTIVE FRANCHISE.

The debate in the Senate on Tuesday only confirms allowe have said regarding the purposes of Conkling, Edmunds and company, You cannot amend an obnoxious law without provoking their anger and causing them to give the old rag a few flaps as a sort of stirrer up of the Democratic matadors. Mr. Bayard wanted to amend the law concerning supervisors of elections so as to regulate the time for which they should hold office; but no, this did- not suit the demagogues and bulldozers, and at once they began to snort and paw and fling mud. Senator Hampton got in some heavy blows upon Hoar's mug, and he was removed from the arena of debate bruised and bleeding. When Hampton rapped the Massachusetts fellow on the pate for disfranchising one hundred and thirty-six thousand white men he soon knocked the wind out of the ranter, and even sponging and rest were not enough to place him again firmly upon hi pegs. Hampton told the Senate that he could beat any Radical in his own State by the colored votes alone. He has the confidence, of that race because he has never deceived them. He made them positive promises when a candidate, and in every instance he fulfilled them.

The Stalwarts are compelled to respect what Senator Hampton says. They have learned that he is able to act independent of party on occasion and to follow the convictions of right and justice and an enlightened and sensitive conscience. So what he says must have effect. When he tells them that they make a great mistake when they suppose the colored people are all Republicans, and that they know that under Democratic rule they are more prosperous than under Radical rule, the Northern people must give him credit for somely. It is bad policy to enter a candor, truthfulness and opportunihe affirms.

We hope it will be borne in mind that 136,000 white men of Massachusetts are disfranchised by a law requiring certain educational qualifications. They are for the most part industrious, good citizens, and yet this moral character, of unblemished repvery large number of white men over before. "Now, why was this? Was it the result of any accident ? No, sir; it was because these officials in mrny States of the Union were engaged in using their positions for political purposes. I think the facts will show that this must have been the reason. The people should not forget these things. Whenever they become restive under Democratic short-comings and abuses and think of supporting a Republican, they should bear in mind the ten thousand abuses in the General and State Governments and the hundreds of millions that have been wasted, misapplied or stolen under Republican rule. Mr. Davis has done well in pointing out the abuses of the internal revenue fund. In the last Congress and the one preceding he made practical, useful speeches that contained matter that was used with effect in the campaigns that followed. He is not a candidate for re-election. After six years of public service, he will return to the bar honored and respected by all. No people ever had a more faithful or a more honest Representative than the people of the Fourth District.

ABOUT POLITICAL HORSES. We heard a prominent Republican say the other day that personally he hoped Fowle would be the Democratic nominee; but politically he hoped that Jarvis would be nominated. Just so. While with hard work we have but little fear of electing the Democratic nominee, we do not believe Jarvis is as strong as some other men who might be samed. -Hickory Carolinian. Another prominent Republican thinks Fowle 1s six thousand votes stronger than Jarvis in the State. We rather think a dark horse can be entered who can beat either handnag who is heavily handicapped. A ties of knowing that concerning which | horse in good condition, carrying no extra weight, is more apt to come in ahead. If there is any wisdom and sagacity in the Democratic party the time to use it is before the nominations are complete. Select men of popularity, of good records, of high ntations-men of shility of en tality, it does not relieve him of the charge of writing a very obscure poem. Much as we admire the Poet Laureate we do not expect to cherish the last production of his muse. There are certainly some highly poetical lines, but the obscurity is very dense to us in parts. It may be our fault.

We were in error as to the late Representative Avery, drowned near Memphis, being the father of Mrs Meriwether. He was her brother. He was of North Carolina stock, and belonged to the family who settled Averasborough, Harnett county. After leaving North Carolina they changed the spelling of their name from Avera to Avery.

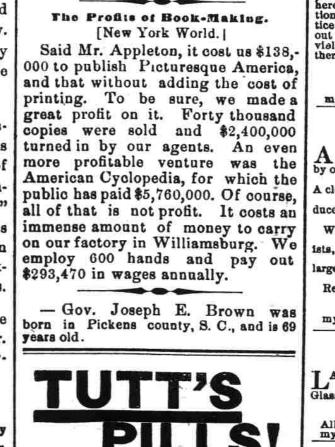

It is now stated that Mr. J. B. Mc-Cullagh, editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, is the originator of the two words now in use in this campaign, to-wit, "boom" and "bar'l." Jo Turner originated more words than these in every campaign in which he figured. Some of his nicknames will stick as long as life lasts.

Many Hungarian immigrants have arrived at New York during the year. The Austrian Government has determined to stop immigration.

THE PERIODICALS. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazins for May has been on our table for days. Its contents are Dr. Worth's School, Part I; Peter the Great and Syria; Reata: or What's in a Name-Conclusion; Morocco and the Moors; Russia and Nihilism in the Novels of M. Tourgenief; Bush-Life in Queensland-Part VL; A Woman's Wisdom; The Reign of Bunkum. Blackwood is Tory to the back-bone, but it is lively and fresh and scholarly always. Price $4 a year. The Leonard Scott Publishing Company, 41 Barclay Street, New York.

The Eclectic Magazine for June presents its readers with a steel portrait of the novelist Anthony Trollope. The initial article of the number is a very striking paper by Dr. Carpenter on "The Deep Sea and Its Contents," describing the results achieved and the problems solved by the recent Challenger Expedition around the world. This is followed by a caustic and very able paper on "Metternich," by Dr. Karl Hillebrand; and this in turn by Mr. James Payn's little essay on "Sham Admiration in Literature," which has provoked so much discussion both in this country and in England. Perhaps the most remarkable paper in the number is one entitled "Backsheesh," in which an Englishman describes

A singular accident happened to Alonzo Tiffany, a workman in the box factory, the other day. He was running a boring machine. Bearing on a trifle to hard, the crank broke, and he fell over on the auger, which is operated by steam power, and, of course, kept right on as if nothing had happened. His clothing was caught by the auger, which wound the cloth around itself until it came in contact with his watch, boring a hole into it, tearing out the works and then breaking off, which released Tiffany. But for the breaking of the auger it would have gone on and bored a hole right through him, there having been no one near to assist him.
