THE WHITTAKER CASE.

Finding of the Court of Inquiry-The Colored Cadet his Own Assailant-His Arrest and Confinement. [By Telegraph to the Morning Star.]

WEST POINT, May 29 .- The Whittaker Court met to day in secret session, and made up its final report, which was agreed upon and signed by all the members of the Court. The report, after reviewing the facts and evidence in the case, gives the following conclusions:

1st. The Court is unable to believe that such slight wounds as Cadet Whittaker received could have been inflicted by persons in the manner and under the circumstances described by him.

2d. It does not see why a man with his surroundings and in his condition and frame of mind, as shown by his own evidence, should have submitted to an assault such as is alleged, without summoning assistance during the assault or immediately thereafter.

3d. It believes a person tled as he was and left as he claims to have been, could have readily released himself, should he exert himself to do so.

4th. From the testimony of the Post Surgeon and others, the Court is compelled to believe that Whittaker was neither asleep nor insensible when he was examined on the morning of April 6th, but that he was

5th. The Court is not able to discover any motive that any person other than Whittaker could have had in making such an assault, and there is no evidence whatever to warrant the belief that any other person did make it. 6th. It believes that the hair clipping, flesh cutting and binding could have all been accomplished by Whittaker himself. 7th. The theory that the note of warning is an imitation of Whittaker's writing is, in the opinion of the court, untenable. The severe tests to which experts in handwriting were subjected, and their positive testimony, places it beyond doubt that Whittaker himself wrote the note of warning, and therefore, that he is not ignorant of the person or persons engaged in the affair. The latter conclusion is strengthened by the fact that one-half of the sheet of paper on which the note is written was found in Whittaker's possession.

Opinion-After a strong array of circumstantial evidence, from the testimony of experts in handwriting, and from the conflicting statements of Cadet Whittaker and the lack of veracity evinced by him in certain cases during the inquiry, as shown by the evidence, the Court is of the opinion that the imputation upon the character of Cadet Whittaker, referred to in the order convening the Court, in the official reports of the Commandant of Cadets and the Post Surgeon, is fully sustained.

When the report was sent to General Schofield, and carefully read by him, he caused a letter to be addressed to Col. Lazelle, Commandant of the Corps of Cadets, directing the arrest of Whittaker and placing him in confinement in his own The order was promptly carried out, and Whittaker will remain under arrest until this case is disposed of, and a guard will keep him under surveillance.

Their arrest was in consequence of the appearance on the streets of printed placards, the contents of which the city papers had refused to publish, and in which Mr. Beveridge inveighs in the most scurrilous language against Royall for "having on several occasions written me (Beveridge) up in your (Royall's) sheet."
