Mr. D. B. Nicholson nominated Col. Wm. A. Allen, of Duplin. Mr. Davis placed in nomination Mr. Jas. G. Scott, of Opslow.

Mr. McLean spoke, seconding the nomination of Judge McKoy. He paid a tribute to Col. Waddell, which was received with cheers.

The balloting then commenced. Major Stedman led for the first 18 ballots, having more than a majority, but not two-thirds of the delegates. He then began to weaken, and Mr. Ellis withdrew his name from the Congressional race.

Mr. N. A. Stedman, Jr., put in nomination Major McClammy. Mr. D. H. McLean renominated Col. W. A. Allen, of Duplin.

One of the Olden Time. We hear of an old colored woman in this city, by the name of Nancy Ellison, whose children (gray-headed old boys) claim and insist is 111 years old, and our informant threatens to bring forward a very old Bible and reliable documentary evidence to prove it. The old woman is rather infirm, but is "able to get about, and has a peculiar way of standing when in the presence of others and patting first one foot and then the other. As an intelligent conversationalist she has long ceased to be a success, though the talks occasionally, and with some degree of spirit and animation, of "the times that tried men's souls." She is certainly a very old woman.

Mayor's Court. Wm. McAllister was arraigned on the charge of assault and battery and disorderly conduct, and was ordered to pay a fine of $10 or go below for twenty days.

D. S. Martin, colored, and Hattie Lee, white, were up for an affray in "Paddy's Hollow" Friday night. The testimony, however, developed a case of assault and battery on the part of Martin upon the woman. Witness stated that he interfered to protect the woman, when Martin turned upon him, upon which, seeing a crowd of the latter's friends gathering, he blew a whistle, which speedily called officers Grant and Stone to his rescue, who arrested Martin and the female and took them to the guard house. Hattie Lee was released, and Martin was ordered to pay a fine of $25 or go below for thirty days.

In another case the defendants submitted and judgment was suspended.
