OUTLINES.

Senator Lamar made a ringing, able speech in reply to Windom on the Exodus report.

In our editorial on primaries on second page read condemn for "condore." We so corrected the proof.

North Carolina so-called Union people get $14,748.50 of the appropriations made by the Southern Claims Commission and as passed by the Senate.

We notice that the Northern Democratic papers always claim North Carolina for Bayard on the first ballot. That will depend on two things; first, whether Mr. Seymour will accept or not; second, whether the delegates represent home sentiments or not.

The Baltimore American, Republican, in a long discussion of the prospects at Cincinnati concludes with the opinion that the showing is for Seymour's nomination. It says Tilden is known to be hostile to Bayard. The Washington indications point to the statesman of Deerfield, Horatio Seymour.

Hayes has gone back on Garfield and himself. He has vetoed the Deputy Marshals' bill as amended by the House and accepted by the Senate. Mr. Garfield is responsible for its present form and he is the candidate of Hayes's party. But what better could you expect of a fraud? And yet the Radicals want a free and fair election, do they? Bah!

Conkling predicts 50,000 majority in New York for Garfield. Why not say 100,000 and be done with it? It only requires one cipher more. But why talk about changing the manner of appointing electors if the State is certain for the Republicans? Why give the Democrats 15 electors by districts when you can get all? Conkling does not believe even the echo of his own voice.

Gen. Scales has distinctly announced that he is not and will not be a candidate for Governor.—Exchange.

Gen. Scales will not seek the nomination. That is what he means by saying he is not a candidate. He says he will accept, however, if nominated. It is interesting to observe how the Jarvis papers fail to draw the distinction between electioneering for office and accepting office when tendered without solicitation. With them not to seek office is equivalent to saying you will not accept office.

We have not seen it charged in a single Fowle paper that Gov. Jarvis was corrupt. We have seen none of those despicable assaults upon the Governor's character that we read of in his organs. It has come to pass, it would seem, in the history of North Carolina politics, that no man who has been Governor, by accident or otherwise, must have his official record inquired into. If a paper shall do this then it must be denounced. The STAR, for reasons satisfactory to itself, has not been an active participant in the matter; but it would not be driven off from doing its duty by the cry set up of persecution, foul assaults, bitter personalities and like clap-trap, if it had deemed it necessary or prudent to go into an examination of political records. A public man's official acts are public property and open to scrutiny. That was the good old way.

Ex-Senator James A. Bayard, of Delaware, and father of Senator Thomas F. Bayard, was born in 1799. His father was member of the House, member of the Senate, U. S. Minister elect to France, Minister to St. Petersburg and one of the Commissioners who concluded peace with Great Britain. His brother Richard B. was also U. S. Senator. He was elected himself in 1850 and served three terms. He was succeeded by his son, the present eminent Senator who is so prominent as a candidate for the nomination for the Presidency. Of the late Senator a sketch says:

"Ex Senator Bayard was a man of conspicuous ability, and we need scarcely add of exalted purity of character. In politics he was a Democrat of the old school and a consistent Union man. He and his son both lent the whole weight of their influence for peace and moderation, and the action of the Delaware Legislature, in rejecting the propositon of the Mississippi Commissioner to join the Confederacy, met with his hearty approval. Through all the stormy scenes of the war Senator Bayard remained steadfast to one idea—that of constitutional union and peace. In spite of partisan clamor on the one side or the other, he stood at his post unmoved, and time has vindicated the wisdom as well as the patriotism of his course. As a lawyer ex-Senator Bayard occupied the first position. His intellect was wonderfully strong and clear, and hist horough mastery of every subject to which he gave his attention was a conspicuous feature of his legal career. In his personal character he was a remarkably simple, frank and lovable, and his integrity was absolutely without the suspicion of a stain. A striking evidence of his lofty integrity is found in his letter replying to an offer of stock in the notorious Credit Mobiler. The letter was written in 1868 before the real character of the enterprise was known, and in it he said:

"I take it for granted that the corporation has no application to make to Congress on which I shall be called upon to act officially, as I could not, consistently with my views of duty, vote upon a question in which I had a pecuniary interest.' What a contrast this letter affords with the action of other Senators and Congressmen in the premises."

Old Si of the Atlanta Constitution is a political philosopher and prophet. He is certain the Democratic horse will win if the right one is put on the track. But let him be heard:

"Ef de Dimocrats'll jess go down dar ter dere Cincernatty stable an' fetch out a long-legged thererbred, wid clean jaws an' no pads, dat didn't foul in de las' race an' dat's got de grit ob Ole Andy Jackson fer stiffenin' in his backbone, dat's gwine ter be de bes' race at de November meetin' yer eber seed in yo' bo'n days. An' when de jedges say 'go,' yer gwine ter see dis ole nigger wid er hat-full ob nickels, gibbin' big odds on de las' named animile—kas'e he ar' gwine ter graze de nex' fo' years twixt de treash'ry an' de wah bildin', in Washin'ton City—yer heah me!"

A good deal of this will apply to the November stakes in North Carolina. The Democrats need for the State race "a long-legged thererbred, wid clean jaws an' no pads, and dat did'nt foul in de las' race, an' dat's got de grit ob Ole Andy Jackson fer stiffenin' in his backbone." With such a horse, "black" or any other color, we shall win the pole and sweep the stakes.

The intelligent Washington correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch in his letter of Monday says, and it is worth attending to:

"There is no diminution in the feeling here among congressmen that Seymour ought to be nominated at Cincinnati. Mr. Frank Richardson, the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, who was at Chicago, and had unusual advantages for ascertaining how the Grant Republicans feel towards Garfield and Arthur, said to me to-day that the true way for the Democrats to win is to nominate Seymour and Hendricks. The official at the Capitol from Utica, to whom I have several times alluded, showed me a letter this evening from a leading Democrat of Utica, who has held prominent official position, in which he said: 'The Observer is out to-night trying to kill Seymour's boom. My interpretation of Mr. Seymour's position all along,' said he, 'has been that he wouldn't say yes to get the nomination, and wouldn't say no if it was given to him.' He also expressed the opinion that of all living men Seymour could most certainly carry New York."

It is believed in Washington that Senator Kernan, of New York, has gone to Utica to obtain, if possible, an authoritative declaration from Mr. Seymour that he will accept if nominated.

Spirits Turpentine.

— The wheat harvest of Stanly county turned out poorly.

— Some are talking of the Chapel Hill Railroad being finished by October.

— A negro in Durham was knocked down by an officer. Next morning he was found dead in the lock-up.

— Charlotte Home: The name of Col. Duncan K. McRae has been suggested as elector at large for the State. No man in the State would better fill the place or do more efficient work.

— Already we have seen our candidate for Congress called in the reliable newspapers, Lieutenant, Captain, Major, Colonel and Honorable. In a multitude of titles there is much distinction.

— Concord Register: Mrs. Elizabeth Blackwelder, of township No. 7, had a tumor weighing 42 pounds, cut from her person. The operation was performed at the Maryland Women's Hospital, Baltimore.

— Elizabeth City Economist: The friends of the Dismal Swamp Canal seem a little despondent of its future. It was the germ of the early prosperity of Elizabeth City, and we should greatly regret its further decline.

— Mr. F. B. McDowell has retired from the Charlotte Southern Home. Mr. D. H. Hill, Jr., son of Gen. Hill, succeeds him. We bid a pleasant good-bye to the out-going and salute the incoming editor with our best wishes.

— North Carolinians perished in many States in the late war. At the decoration of Confederate graves at Nicholasville, Kentucky, on May 10th, two North Carolina graves were not neglected. The names were H. Owenby and A. L. Hall, 39th North Carolina.

— Monroe Enquirer: Col. Bennett is now spoken of—notably so by the Pee Dee Herald—as the most available man for Governor. In case a 'dark horse' becomes a necessity we know of no one for whom we would more cheerfully cast our vote than for Col. Bennett.

— Concord Sun: There seems to be a popular way of making money, by stealing cotton out of the bale after it is packed. A large amount has been lost by parties at the depot at different times during the past season, and now the rascals are carrying on this trade about the gins in the country.

— Greensboro North State: Capt. William H. Wheeler, with a force of 23 hands, has just finished putting up new telegraph poles between Danville and Greensboro. The number of poles between the two points is 1,650. The poles were cut in the State of Tennessee, and are of the Lebanon cedar variety.

— Greensboro Central Protestant: On account of some unfavorable criticisms of his record, Gov. Jarvis has published a card of defence. He seems to think there has been Fowle play on the other side. These two candidates are paving the way very nicely for the feet of some dark horse that is very likely to be led on the track. There are capable men in the State whose records need no defense.

— Chatham Record: We must claim that Chatham takes the lead in the most wonderful yield of wheat from one grain that has yet been heard of. Mr. Jno. S. Clark, of Hadley township, informs us that one grain of wheat sowed by him produced thirty-eight heads, on which were 1,140 grains. At this rate a farmer need only sow about a peck of wheat to raise a crop of over 250 bushels.

— Reidsville Times: Gen. Scales telegraphed to his friends in this county today, Tuesday the 8th, that he is not a candidate for Governor, but that he would accept if nominated. —— We hardly know which is the uneasier Gen. Scales lest the people understand him a candidate for Governor, or the Raleigh and Greensboro friends of Jarvis & Fowle that the people do not nominate him just so. It may seem unfortunate to some that the people desire any voice in the matter.

— The Washington Post says Gen. Vance has recommended that Mr. LeDuc, Commissioner of Agriculture, test the cultivation of ginseng in the mountains of North Carolina. Some years ago Mr. P. S. Smith, of Asheville, began the cultivation of ginseng in Madison county, but removing to Asheville he did not carry the test to a success. The plant is worth in China $2 per pound, and if it can be cultivated in the Blue Ridge range, may become a source of wealth exceeding that of tobacco.

— Raleigh Observer: Three people had a narrow escape from death yesterday. In the Capitol Square, and in front of Christ Church, is a bench which is a favorite resting place. On it in the morning, just before noon, sat three men. The sunbeams fell on the bench and they got up and moved off. Hardly had they gone fifty feet away when a limb of an oak tree, eighteen inches in diameter, fell with a startling crash, and broke the bench into shivers. The limb was apparently sound, but was really decayed.

— New Berne Tar Shell: Saturday evening, while the cyclone was passing over this city, a colored girl named Mehala was blown from the railroad bridge and drowned. She was crossing the bridge, hand in hand, in company with another woman, and told her companion she thought she could get along better alone. Her hand was released and at the same moment a strong gust of wind lifted her bodily over the side of the bridge and she went down in the angry waters and arose no more.

— Special to the New York Times (Rep.) 9th: RALEIGH, N. C., June 8. Garfield's nomination meets with no favor among the Republicans of the city. The disappointment over Grant's defeat is intensely mortifying. All hope of carrying North Carolina in utility gone, and the party is dismayed, disorganized and confounded. Republicans consider the sectional strife renewed, and the South will be solidly Democratic, and that the Republicans of the Southern States are handed over to the Democrats for an indefinite period.

— Goldsboro Messenger: The grist mill on the old Exum place, in Saulston township, was destroyed by fire last Thursday night. This is the second time this mill has been burned down by some parties who are evidently determined that the mill shall go down. —— The thermometer on Saturday was up from 98 to 100 in the shade. A fair taste of summer weather. —— A new Methodist Church is soon to be built at Ebenezer, in Fork township, a few miles from Goldsboro. —— Maj. Wm. A. Smith was in town Friday. The Major is evidently disappointed in Garfield's nomination, and begins to loose interest in politics, but says he would like to vote for Gen. Scales to be Governor.

— Raleigh Post: To-morrow the Second Presbyterian Church will, for the first time, be used by the congregation. The completion of this building has been effected under many difficulties and trials —the members of the church preferring to pay as they went, and now that the structure is about completed, "it is finished" and unencumbered. —If counties cannot procure the attendance of their delegates to delegated conventions, they should not be allowed representation. According to statements we have seen, Mr. Elias, of the west, and Mr. Skinner, of the east, are proxies for quite one-fourth the counties of the State. This is a beautiful Democracy.

— Reidsville Times: They say Elam begged them to leave him and save themselves from the law. Knightly courtesies passed between the two, Smith regretting that he had given so painful a wound, and Elam replying that he would rather have the wound than to have given him one. Elam was seriously wounded but may recover. He is a native of Fayetteville, N. C., was raised there and was a North Carolina soldier in the old Bethel regiment. As quiet and gentle in his manners as a woman, delicate of frame, amiable and tender in all his associations, and never given to insult or bravado, he has risen from local reporter for years on the Whig to its editor-in-chief. He has written poetry that was extensively copied. Though on the sunny side of 40 he has received hard knocks in the ups and downs of journalism. We believe him a sincere Readjuster in his convictions.

Local Dots.

— There was no session of the Mayor's Court yesterday.

— The census enumerators are pretty well through their labors.

— Spirits turpentine declined yesterday under unfavorable advices from abroad, to 25½ cents per gallon.

— The excursionists to the Black-fish Grounds yesterday had good luck, and brought back a quantity of fish.

— Alderman Bowden will be mayor pro tem. until the return of Mayor Fishblate, absent in attendance on the State Democratic Convention.

— Workmen were engaged yesterday in regulating the telephone apparatus connecting with the City Hall. Some fellow said "the lightning had give out."

— Visitors to the Sounds complain of the insufferable heat experienced there during the last few days. This may be a grain of comfort to the members of the "can't-get-away club" here.

— At the late spring term of the Superior Court for New Hanover county, Judge Avery, which ended last week, judgments were had in 32 cases; non-suits, 8; decrees, 14; cases continued, 102.

— Mr. Eduard Peschau, German Imperial Consul at this port, received intelligence yesterday of the death of his father at Cuxhaven, Germany, on the 25th ult. Out of respect to his memory the flag at the German Consulate was half-masted yesterday, as well as on the German vessels in port.

Martial Infelicity.

There was a dearth of business in magisterial circles yesterday, only two cases being reported. The parties to these were all colored, and in each case a peace warrant was issued against the husband at the instance of the wife. Henry Chesnut was required to give bond in $100 to keep the peace towards his wife Harriet, while judgment against him for an assault was suspended on the payment of costs.

A warrant against Stephen Bennett for an assault on his wife was withdrawn by the latter, she paying the costs.

Both cases were before Justice Millis.

Re-arrested.

Wilson Williams, a white man from Cumberland county, convicted of illicit distilling at the recent term of the United States District Court in this city, and committed to jail for the costs, took the insolvent debtor's oath yesterday, preparatory to a final release, as he supposed, but was immediately rearrested on another charge of the same nature, under an indictment found by the grand jury of the Court. In default of bail in the sum of $200 he was again committed to jail.

The Revenue Cutter Colfax.

It was rumored several days ago that the Colfax was shortly to be removed from these waters. Upon inquiry, we learn that the rumor probably arose from the fact that preparations were being made for the Cutter to drop down to Smithville, where she will remain during the summer. Second Assistant Engineer Angel has been placed on waiting orders, and Mr. J. G. Hall assigned to duty in his place on the Cutter.

Death of a Wilmingtonian.

Mr. Henry Savage, City Clerk and Treasurer, received a telegram yesterday from Wheeling, West Virginia, informing him of the sudden and unexpected death of his brother, Mr. Richard Savage. No further particulars were furnished. Mr. Richard Savage, though absent from this city some thirty years, is well remembered by many of the oldest citizens. He left a wife and four children.

A War Relic.

The boiler and engine of a dispatch boat used by Gen. Whiting and sunk about the close of the late war, in the river near the foot of Castle street, were found and taken up a short time ago. After lying submerged in mud and water for fifteen years the machinery was found in a fair state of preservation, and will do good service yet.

First of the Season.

Col. John D. Shaw, of Richmond county, sends to the STAR a cotton bloom, which he says opened on his farm near Rockingham on the 10th instant. Who can beat it?

Refreshing Rain.

This section was visited by a refreshing rain yesterday evening about 8 o'clock. It was accompanied with high wind and thunder and lightning, and has doubtless broken the backbone of our heated term.

Unmailable Matter.

The following is the unmailable matter remaining in the city postoffice at this date:

W. A. Alderman, Maxwell's, N. C.; Laura Hooper, 1330 Bainbridge street.

THE WEATHER.

High Temperatures—Thermometers on Ice—Prognostications for the Month—Hurricanes and Tornadoes in Store for Us, &c., &c.

For a warm day yesterday was equal to any of its predecessors. The thermometer started out bravely at 9 o'clock, scoring 90 degrees at the STAR office and steadily advancing, at 2.30 P. M. registered 96. Towards nightfall it began to give ground, however, and at 8 P. M. dropped down to 92, and when the storm came up at 8.15 could only muster 87 points, at which hour we close our report. Speaking of thermometers, by the way, during one of the heated days of the present term a wag of a restaurateur conceived the happy idea of tickling the cool fancies of his bibulous patrons. With this idea in view a thermometer was suspended with its bulb immersed in ice water just sufficient to keep the mercury down to a moderate temperature. The thing worked well, and as the frequenters of the saloon dropped in, each perspiring mortal as he viewed it, mopped his forehead, and vowed that that particular saloon was the coolest spot on earth. One old sinner who has been "practicing at the bar" for many years, complacently remarked, as he sipped his punch, that he was glad of the change, for he never ventured to indulge in stimulants when the thermometer was above 90 degrees.

However, while limp humanity hereabouts has been sweltering for days past with the temperature ranging from 90 to 100 degrees in the shade, our more lucky neighbors have been treated to refreshing tornadoes and exhilarating cyclones. Even over in Pender they boast of a "terrible hurricane" near South Washington on Friday last, accompanied with hail which shattered windows, beat down the growing crops, and did more or less damage to whatever lay in its pathway. All to the North and West of us, too, beyond the confines of our State, there have been storms of unusual severity, and to cap the climax, as it were, Minnesota telegrams report a snow storm yesterday at Minneapolis. Our time may come yet, however, for a participation in these summer luxuries. A Western astronomer favors us with some of his predictions as to the weather during the present month. His communication to the Louisville Courier-Journal is dated June 3d, and in it he says:

"From the 7th to the 13th, heavy rains, tornadoes, and thunder storms in places; part of this period will be very warm. Heavy local rains and local storms in the neighborhood of the 17th and 19th. If no hurricanes prevail on or within one hundred miles of the Atlantic or Gulf coast, very heavy rain storms, terrible tornadoes with much thunder and lightning, will occur in many sections from the 19th to the 25th. If this period is much delayed, hail storms are to be expected. From the 29th to the 30th, local rains and local storms. A very severe hurricane is to be expected on the Atlantic coast about the last of June or 1st of July."

It will be observed that these predictions have been verified up to the present time; and accepting them as a basis for the future, we may look out for "terrible tornadoes and severe hurricanes" from the 19th to the end of the month, along the Atlantic coast. Let us see what will come of it.

To-Day's Indications.

Stationary or falling followed by rising barometer, stationary or lower temperature, westerly winds, partly cloudy weather, and occasional local rains, are the indications for this section to-day.

Burglars About.

The dwelling of Mr. W. E. N. Sellers, on Tenth street, near Castle, was entered by some midnight prowler a night or two ago. A lady in the house, who happened to be awake, saw the fellow as he was crawling through an open window and gave an alarm, which frightened him away.

RIVER AND MARINE.

— A British brig is reported in below at the quarantine station.

— The Schomborst, Herder, hence, arrived at Bristol on the 31st of May.

— Rumor has it now that the Passport will be taken off the river Saturday. Next.

— Schooner Mary E. Baker, Chadwick, hence, arrived at New York, on the 12th instant.

— The heavy rains in the up-country last week caused a rise of about nine feet in the Cape Fear at Fayetteville, but the water is reported falling rapidly since, the latest arrivals from above reporting only three feet above dead low water.

— The floating cotton compress has been transformed into a steam barge—christened the Davenport—and its owners intend to run her on the Cape Fear as a freighter. While not calculated for speed, she has light draft and capacity for a thousand barrels or more. She will start out on a trial trip this week, under charge of Capt. Driver, a well-known steamboat man.

CITY ITEMS.

THE MORNING STAR can always be had at the following places in the city: The Purcell House, Harris' News Stand, and the STAR Office.

BABY PRIZES, $600.—An eminent banker's wife of ——, N. Y., has induced the proprietors of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, to offer $600 in prizes to the youngest child that says Hop Bitters plainly, in any language, between May 1, 1880, and July 4, 1881. This is a liberal and interesting offer, and every body and his wife should send two cent stamp to the Hop Bitters Mfg Co., Rochester, N. Y., U. S. A., for circular, giving full particulars, and begin at once to teach the children to say Hop Bitters and secure the prize.

WHAT EMINENT PHYSICIANS SAY.—PREVENTIVE OF MALARIA.—Colden's Liebig's Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator is particularly useful when tonics are required, being tolerated when other forms of animal food are rejected. In Diphtheria, Ague, Malarial, Typhoid Fever, and every depressing disease, we have prescribed it with excellent success. J. H. Leslie, M. D., G. P. Copp, M. D., S. S. Parsons, M. D., R. A. Vaughn, M. D., Drs. S. L. and J. C. Nidelet, all of St. Louis, and many others.
GREEN & FLANNER, Agents, Wilmington.

POLITICS vs. FINANCE.—Amid the hurry and din of politics the unceasing demand for profitable investments continually recurs to the mind of the fortunate owner of funds beyond the amount of the daily actual necessities of life. But how many there are who, having been fortunately taught by experience, regularly aid the cause of charity and education and send to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person at No. 319 Broadway, New York City, two dollars every month for the purchase of a ticket in the grand monthly drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, which takes place invariably on the second Tuesday of every month at New Orleans, and where two dollars may produce a return of $30,000.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.—Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the "Boston Christian Freeman":—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and its mother unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

DIED.

PESCHAU.—In Cuxhaven, Germany, on the 25th day of May, after a short illness of twenty-four hours, Rev. G. L. PESCHAU, in the 81st year of his age, father of Eduard Peschau, of this city.

BROWN.—Suddenly, in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Sunday, June 13th, 1880, at 1 o'clock, P. M., LUCY EMPIE, wife of T. W. Brown, and youngest daughter of the late Rev. Adam Empie, D. D.

Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend her funeral this afternoon at 5½ o'clock, from St. James' Church.
