the fact that he dislikes Senator Bayard. He thinks that Bayard's war record will be too heavy a load to carry. So he talks. So when Tilden antagonizes Bayard at Cincinnati with his two hundred or more votes and his well known influence in New York, the Democrats may conclude that it would be unwise to nominate the admirable, almost peerless Senator from little Delaware. If not Bayard, who will it be? We do not believe it will be a Western man. It will not be Thurman, able and pure as he is. He is said to be a poor political manager. Morrison, of Illinois, would make a good candidate for either place if the West is to have the advantage. The best man after Seymour died. We refer to the pure and able Chief Justice Church. Hendricks for President would not be as strong as Morrison in the Eastern States. It is well known that Tilden is very much opposed to Hendricks. He does not attempt to conceal his antipathies. Hendricks is weak in the East because of his financial views. English or McDonald, of Indiana, spoken of for Vice President, might become prominent for the first place under certain contingencies. Field would be strong probably in California and Oregon, and he would get the South, but how his decisions on the Supreme Bench would affect him in the East, is to say the least, doubtful. It is said that Tilden prefers Field after himself. But it has been said he preferred Payne, of Ohio. The truth is no one knows who is to be the old man's political legatee and to wear his mantle. Gen. Palmer, of Illinois, or Payne, of Ohio, may loom up.

There is no denying the fact that Seymour's refusal to accept complicated the political calculations. The STAR prefers Thomas F. Bayard to all other men. His character for ability, for honesty, for all that is manly and noble is such, that we are willing, as far as we can now see, to take the chances with him, as our first choice. Seymour is of his own volition out of the race. Let it be Bayard and English, or Bayard and Morrison, and we believe and hope we can defeat Garfield and Arthur. The contrast in the moral qualities of the two tickets will be so great that tens of thousands of the Independent voters of the North will be constrained to support the pure and incorruptible gentlemen who uphold the unspotted banner of the National Democratic party.

If the Republicans do not resort to a change of mode in appointing electors there is a reasonable prospect of carrying New York for the Democratic candidate, provided Kelly and Tilden will give the nominee a hearty, earnest support. New York is certainly Democratic when a full and fair vote is polled in a general election. The Richmond Dispatch does not think any change will be made in the manner of appointing electors. It says, and we are glad to see so prudent a paper taking such a view:

"The Republican journals of New York city are known to be opposed to any such movement. It was proposed during the last session of the Legislature, but received with no sort of favor. It is a scheme which no skillful leader would for a moment entertain seriously. It would damn the Republican party in New York, and ruin the prospects for election of its candidate for President. The indignation of the general public would be so great that Ohio and Illinois would almost certainly cast its solid electoral strength for the Democratic nominee for President. Instead of carrying only fifteen districts in the State of New York the Democrats would probably carry two-thirds of them. Mr. Conkling would be buried beyond the hope of resurrection. The fifteen votes which it is conceded the Democrats would get in New York, let the State be distracted as it might, would be all that the Democrats would need under the circumstances. Either Illinois or Ohio gives votes enough to elect the Democratic candidate when added to 138 from the South, 15 from New York, and 13 from Indiana. These 166 votes may be considered just as safe for the Democrats as if they were already cast (in the event that New York should elect by default only 17 more are needed; and under the circumstances supposed, either Illinois would be sure to cast her 21 or Ohio her 23 votes for the Democratic candidate."

The teachers who will be employed in the University Normal School during the next session beginning June 24th are numerous. We give them: Prof. H. E. Shepherd, Maj. Jed Hotchkiss, Prof. Melver, Prof. Tomlinson, Prof. Holt, Capt. J. E. Dugger, B. W. Hatcher, N. C. English, Miss J. F. Long, Prof. W. B. Phillips, Dr. B. H. Lewis, A. L. Cobble, R. P. Hill, A. W. McAllister, R. T. Bryan, Miss L. Pollock, Miss S. Pollock. The last two will have charge of the Kindergarten Department. Distinguished speakers and educators will deliver addresses of interest before the school from time to time.

Mr. Seymour dictated the telegraphic message concerning himself that was sent out some days ago and appeared in the Utica Observer, a Tilden organ.

We are glad—heartily glad that the Republicans in Congress have taken the stand they have in regard to counting the electoral vote and the appointing of deputy marshals. If they do not suffer from it then we are mistaken in the character of the voters of our country. The whole purpose and efforts of the Republicans are revolutionary and nothing else. If Garfield can stand their position then the Democrats can. Carry out the principle and purpose indicated by their party, and there is abuse of authority and a guarantee of confusion and anarchy sooner or later. We shall recur to this more at length hereafter.

Mr. John S. Wise, son of the late Gov. Henry A. Wise, is out in a card emphatically denying that he wrote the article for the Whig that caused the Smith-Elam duel. Mr. Elam has stated that he wrote the editorial and was alone responsible for it. That ought to settle it. Col. W. E. Cameron, of Petersburg, is also accused of the paterfamilias. But neither Mr. Wise nor Col. Cameron would allow another man to fight their duels, as both are known to be ready to answer the roll call for themselves.

Here are some figures that illustrate the operations of the national banks. Loans and discounts to April 23, 1889, $92,200, against $81,378,939 last year. The outstanding circulation has increased from $304,467,139 to $320,759,472. Individual deposits increased from $598,822,694 to $791,555,059. By the year's business the bonds added $3,000,000 to their surplus fund and $7,000,000 to their other undivided profits.

John Kelly says he will support Seymour, Bayard or Hancock, and that either can carry New York. He says for Vice President he is for Hendricks, or Thurman, or Morrison or English. With a ticket made up out of this number he says it would sweep the country.

Ex-Judge Dittenbaffer, before a Republican Central Campaign Club, on Monday night, in New York, accused candidate Arthur of "dickering with Tammany Hall." There now! Chester, if you hope to win you must stop that sort of "dickering."

Six steamers left New York last Saturday crowded with passengers and loaded with merchandise. Among the articles shipped were 95,000 boxes cheese.

THE PERIODICALS. Democrat's Monthly for July contains a picture in oil called "The Love Token," and a fine engraving entitled "The Maid of Saragossa." The usual fashion plates, descriptive text, stories, etc., make up the number of an artistic fashion magazine that is deservedly popular. Price $3 a year. Address 17 East 17th street, New York.

The Literary World, a monthly of literature, science and art, contains a variety of original and selected matter. Misses S. J. J. and A. F. Dickson, editors and proprietors, Monroe, N. C. Price $2 a year.

CURRENT COMMENT. In all its acts of a political character Congress has shown an earnest desire to avoid extremes, and has given no just cause for harsh criticism. The session will be remembered for its conservative spirit and for the great care taken to avoid mischievous legislation. With a larger Democratic majority and with less of the protective heresy among Democrats, great reforms might have been effected. But the opposition will not arraign the Democracy for the failure of revenue reforms, inasmuch as their Presidential candidate was a most important contributor to that failure.—Washington Post, Dem.

In making up the ticket at Cincinnati it should be borne in mind that the Democrats have only three Governors in Northern States, viz., New Jersey, Indiana and Oregon, and that, therefore, the Republicans have it in their power to refuse certificates to Democratic electors in several States, the votes of some one of which may be necessary to Democratic success. That this will be done where the contest is at all close or apparently doubtful is perfectly evident from the experiences of 1876. The National Convention, therefore, should see to it that the ticket chosen shall be one which is calculated to poll the largest possible vote in these doubtful States.—Baltimore Gazette, Dem.

Robert A. Pryor, on Seymour and Ward-Conkling going to Stump New York. [Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.] WASHINGTON, June 15.—Robert A. Pryor was here to-day. Mr. Pryor says Seymour would prove a very strong candidate, and that there is no doubt about his carrying the State of New York. He thinks, however, that Senator Bayard is just as strong as Mr. Seymour, and would carry New York by quite as large a majority, and that a great many Republicans would vote for him. A member of the Maryland delegation to Cincinnati said to-day that in his belief that delegation would be solid for Mr. Bayard, and that so far as he was concerned, he would not, under any circumstances, vote for Mr. Seymour unless it was perfectly understood in advance that Mr. Seymour would accept.

This is generally accepted here among the Democratic leaders as the correct policy, and it is believed that Mr. Seymour's name will not be pressed in the absence of such an understanding. It can be authoritatively stated that Senator Kernan, who went to Utica several days ago, was requested to get a positive assurance of one kind or another from Mr. Seymour on this subject. When Senator Kernan left Washington he was not expected to return here, but it was understood that he would carry his message to Cincinnati, although it is reported he has telegraphed Mr. Seymour's declination here. The impression is that if Mr. Seymour should positively decline the nomination, Mr. Bayard would be the next strongest man.

Senator Conkling said in conversation to-day that he thought he would stamp the State of New York for Garfield and Arthur.

OUR STATE CONTEMPORARIES. Politics is a peculiar thing anyhow. First, you go in to whip out your own crowd, or get lamed yourself. Then, uniting all the elements of family opposition, lovingly go for the enemy, and in the preliminary campaign there is more of the bitterness of rivalry and jealousy among men of the same party than ever quite obtains, in general, between political opponents.—Raleigh Post.

There is one thing certain, North Carolina was read, on all her sisters on the subject of Independence, but none of all the able writers who have discussed the matter have settled, without doubt, the fact that the so-called Mecklenburg Declaration was adopted and signed by certain citizens of this county on the 20th of May, 1775. That there was a meeting of citizens on that day and in that county is probable; that the subject of Independence was discussed is also probable; that the actual Declaration was passed, prepared and read by some brave spirit, is not improvable; but that it was adopted and signed by the persons who are alleged to have done so, has never yet been settled as a fact, and it is incapable of being proved by any kind of evidence, and it is established. This we do not believe, for they were men of sterling character, of education, of moral tone and patriotism. They were incapable of duplicity and knavery. Several of the alleged signers took the oath of allegiance to George III., and held office under the crown after this paper is said to have been signed.—Salisbury Examiner.

POLITICAL POINTS. In case the Democracy bring forth Seymour and Thurman for President and Vice President, they will mean business.—Cincinnati Commercial, Rep. That Massachusetts Young Republican who telegraphed to Garfield: "God grant that your life may be spared," had probably heard of Arthur's nomination for the Vice Presidency.—Boston Post, Dem. The nomination of Garfield is getting a fair reception, but outside of Ohio there is no noise in the hearts of Republicans were "set" upon Grant and Blaine, and the defeat of both has frozen the ratification music. Garfield says his Credit Mobilier stock was a "loan" from Ames. Ames says the money handed to Garfield was not a loan and was never repaid. Mr. Garfield has never produced any evidence that it was a loan.—Norfolk Virginian, Dem. King Humbert reproaches his courtiers, who are profound adepts in all the arts of cunning, for never letting him know his own mind, and only find out through some poor petitioner, bold enough to approach him through the circle of flatterers.

THE LATEST NEWS.

FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD. DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION—JAVIS Nominated on First Ballot. [Special Dispatch to Morning Star.] RALEIGH, June 17, 4:30 P. M. The Convention met in the Capitol Square, in Moore's, at 12:30 P. M. James K. Ingersoll, of Martin, was elected temporary chairman, and John W. Graham, of Orange, permanent chairman. FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE. The Berlin Conference—The Powers Prepared to Accept Original French Proposal—Turkey Preparing for War—Russia's Position. [By Cable to the Morning Star.] LONDON, June 17.—A Berlin dispatch says that in the conference yesterday it was manifest that the Powers are more or less prepared to accept the original French proposal. So deeply is Turkey convinced that the matter will be settled by war with Greece, that an armistice is being vigorously pushed in Southern Albania, a military conference of the leading States was respectively held at Paris, Berlin, London, and Vienna, to discuss the proposed measures of renunciation in case of war.

London, June 17.—A Berlin dispatch says it seems that Germany will not make any proposals for the renunciation of its claims in the Balkans, but will leave it to the Western Powers to do so, particularly France. The Turkish Ambassador has informed the Government that the Porte does not oppose the conference, and does not oppose the fundamental principle of the Berlin Conference, but that it is anxious to see the Powers discuss the subject of the renunciation of its claims in the Balkans, and that it is prepared to accept the original French proposal.

Another dispatch says that the conference at Berlin was questioned by the Austrian ambassador, who carried out his decision. He answered negatively. He said the majority favor the cessation of hostilities to Greece. London, June 17.—Three thousand officers have struck at Leith against a ten per cent reduction.

HOMEOPATHY. British Paper Read before American Institute. [By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] MILWAUKEE, June 16.—The important feature in the proceedings of the American Institute of Homeopathy, yesterday, was the reading of a paper by Dr. Benjamin G. Cook, of London, England, on the "Liberality of the younger members of the profession, and insisted on a return to the study of the opinions of Hahnemann and the Homeopaths." The paper was a curious attempt to substitute empiricism for the principles of Hahnemann. There was some dissension on the part of the liberal members at the incorporation of the Institute.

COLORADO. The Miners' Strike on Leadville Amly Only Settled. [By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] DENVER, June 17.—A Leadville dispatch says there are indications that the strike is about to be amicably settled. The miners hold a final meeting this morning, at which Gen. Cook and staff will be present. The Executive Committee of the Miners' Union have drawn up resolutions which they say the mine owners accepted, and this meeting is for the purpose of submitting resolutions to the Union.

[By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] NEW YORK, June 17.—An evening paper publishes the following dispatch from Cincinnati: "The Commercial's Syracuse special says Gov. Seymour has decided to accept the nomination for the Presidency if tendered him, and concludes by saying, 'that Gov. Seymour's name will be presented at Cincinnati seems certain.'"
