It having been noised abroad yesterday morning that the jury in the case of Stephen Richardson had agreed upon a verdict, the Court House soon became crowded with spectators and listeners, eager to get a look at the prisoner and to hear the sentence of the Court pronounced. The verdict of the jury was that "The prisoner is guilty of the felony and murder whereof he stands charged." The passing of the sentence was delayed for some time in order to afford all the attorneys interested in the case an opportunity to be present, and also time for consultation, as requested. At about 10.80 o'clock, His Honor, Judge Meares, directed the prisoner to stand up, and then proceeded to comment upon the awful crime of which he had been convicted by a jury of his countrymen, calling his attention to the urgent necessity of speedily making his preparations for the solemn change which awaited him, and concluded in the following words: "It is the judgment of the Court that you be remanded to the County Jail from whence you came, and there remain until Friday, the 3d day of September, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and that on that day, between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, you shall be taken from thence to the place of common execution by the High Sheriff of the County of New Hanover, and that you then and there be hung by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul." While sentence was being pronounced the prisoner gazed calmly but intently at until the last startling words were being uttered, when a perceptible tremor shook his frame. The evidence of emotion was but temporary, however, and the prisoner took his seat with as much apparent calmness and freedom from excitement as if he had been listening to an ordinary homily the box there but the four dollars gone. upon the moral depravity of the human Prisomer. Yesterday morning, about 11 o'clock, colored individual by the name of Delaware Moore was arrested by Officer Bryan, of the police force, on North Water street, near the foot of Mulberry, on the charge of prisoner as far as the City Hall without much difficulty, but as they started to enter the gate, Moore, who is a powerful man. suddenly showed fight, and during the it reached this city, a distance of twentystruggle inflicted two severe blows upon his er, however, being unable to use his club, until the latter's shirt gave way and left nothing but a greasy specimen of humani- by the freshet. His oxship is for the prety to cling to, when he (Moore) darted down Third street, in the direction of Market, closely followed by the officer. On congratulations of the admirers of feats of Third, between Princess and Market streets, Officer George Gafford, who had foined in the chase, came up with the pris oper and a struggle ensued, during which both came to the ground, when, assistance having arrived, the desperate man was finally overpowered and taken by forcible means to the guard house, the prisoner to the meantime resisting to the best of his ability and cursing those who had him in

The escape and subsequent chase and capture of the prisoner created no little excitement on the streets, and, having oc curred about the time that the condemned man, Stephen Richardson, had been taken back to jail after sentence had been passed upon him, the report very naturally gained credence on the streets that it was him that had escaped and was in a fair way to cheat the gallows of a victim.

The circumstance of this arrest calls to 22d of June, 1877, Primus Moore, a brother in October. of Delaware Moore, the prisoner above alluded to, was found in a beastly state of intoxication on the street, in the midst of a heavy rain, and was taken to the guard house, where he died the same night, about 12 o'clock, the Coroner's jury the next day rendering a verdict that decessed came to his death from the excessive use of intoxicating liquors.

A Stranger in Trouble.

A young stranger, who gave his name as Wm. P. Myers, has been lodging at the station house for several nights past, but was notified on Thursday last that he must find some other quarters. The same evening a warrant was issued by Justice Gardner, and, no proper officer being at hand, Chief of Police Brock was requested to have it executed by one of the force should any of the officers come across the party therein named. Upon examination it was found that the warrant was for this same individual. Myers, and that the charge against him was larceny. He was arrested that night and lodged in the guard house until yesterday morning, whence he was transferred before Justice Gardner yesterday afternoon to the county jail, whence he was taken for preliminary examination. The evidence was to the effect that accused was at the house of a woman named Penny Jones, in "Brooklyn," on Thursday afternoon. and during his presence in the room she had occasion to take something out of her trunk, when she accidentally flirted out upon the floor a small box containing one silver dollar and six half dollars, in all four dollars, which became exposed to view and attracted the attention of Myers, who made some remark relative to the money. Boon afterwards company came and she went to take a walk, Myers being at a house across the street at the time she started. When she returned from her walk a colored woman who lived in the neighborhood, and who had a view of the plaintiff's back door His Honor, evincing no apparent feeling from her piazza, told her that a man had been in her house while she was gone. The plaintiff then went into the house, took the key from the mantel, where she had put it after locking her trunk, which act, by the way, was witnessed by the accused at the time, and upon unlocking the trunk found The colored woman alluded to said she couldn't swear positively to the man, but could swear to the clothing he had on, and County Commissioners furnish a guard to that the man who entered Penny Jones coin county, was set upon in the dark, with a pistol, by some person who fired one ball into him and manifested his deadly purpose prisoners in the County Jail of New Hanc-party on trial then wore. She said her atparty on trial then wore. She said her attention was first attracted by hearing some one shaking plaintiff's door. Penny Jones, Judgments were then pronounced in the in her evidence, swore she looked the front door, and was quite positive that she also fastened the back door. Defendant was ordered to enter into a justified bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

A colored man named Woodcock, who has charge of a flat, reports that while coming down the river yesterday morning, and when about two miles this side of Mosby's Point, his attention was attracted by a bellowing noise, and soon discovered an ox swimming in the middle of the stream. He knew the animal as soon as he saw him as one belonging to Captain Paddison, and he called him by name, when drunkenness and disorderly conduct and the ox made for the flat, reaching which he defying the police. Officer Bryan got his managed to get his head on the gangway. where he held it until the men on the flat could place a rope around his horns. The animal then swam on behind the flat until eight miles; and there is no telling how long captor. Officer Bryan clung to his prison. he had been swimming when Woodcock he had been swimming when Woodcock took charge of him. He is supposed to have been routed from his usual pasturage by the freshet. His oxship is for the present sojourning at Messrs. Vennor's Prophecy.

Mr. Henry Vennor recently wrete from Montreal, Canada, making the following forecast of August weather. It should be remembered that his calculations are for more northern latitudes: Heat will in all probability extend through the first half of the month of August, and equal if not exceed the heated terms of July. August will likewise be characterized by severe storms and heavy showers of rain, or in places hail; but on the whole the month will be comparatively a dry and hot one in Canada and the bordering United States. A cool to cold term with frosts may occur between the 15th and 20th days, after which heat may again be expected up to September 1. The month will resemble that of the year 1876. I already foresee mind, in police circles, the fact that on the very early and severe cold, with snowfalls

WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW ?-As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a Female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has devoted her time and talents as a Female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Boothing Byrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world renowned as a senefactor of the race; children certainly do mrs. Up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Boothing Byrup are Dally sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yot unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed.
