There is entire confidence in the substantial accuracy of the census just taken, and there is no desire to have credit or obtain representation in Congress for a arger population than the State has. THE DEMOCRATIC GATHERING.

Grand Ratification Meeting-Crowds of Visitors-The Procession - The Speeches, &c.

The Democratic ratification meeting which began in this city vesterday was probably the largest and most enthusiastic gathering that Wilmington has ever witnessed. The different Ward Clubs of the city, well organized and strong in numbers, entered into the spirit of the occasion with a determination and whole-souled heartiness which ensured success, and in their efforts were abiy seconded by the various committees having in charge the arrangements for the occasion.

The attendance from outside the city was large, incoming trains and boats all yesterday bringing scores and hundreds to swell the throng, and besides these, there were many who came in from the country by private conveyance. The crowd on the streets and at the speaking last night might be safely estimated at 6,000 people.

Early in the evening, the Cape Fear Light Artillery brought two guns of their battery down to the river at th foot of Market street, prepared to fire a signal gun at 6.30 and a salute of one hundred guns an hour later, but when the Steamer John Dawson steamed down to her wharf with the Point Caswell delegation on board, her decks crowded and banners flying, while cheer after cheer rent the air, the guns were charged and a round or two of artillery greeted them.

The different ward clubs assembled promptly at the hour appointed, and took up the positions assigned them in the vicinity of the City Hall, when at 7.45 clock, under the direction of Chief Mar shal Hedrick, amid salvos of artillery and ascending rockets, the procession moved off in the order and over the route appointed. The procession was a full one and more than a quarter of a mile in length. Its progress through the streets was marked with displays of fireworks and blazing bon-fires at every corner; ladies thronged the sidewalks, and with their bright presence and toms." applause cheered on "the boys" and added beauty to the scene.

The Young Men's Hancock and Jarvis Club was a marked feature in the procession. Preceded by the Cornet Concert Club in a band wagon drawn by four horses, they led the wan, and made the welkin ring with their cheers. As one of them remarked last night, "We can't vote, but we

As the procession marched through the streets, passing the corner of Third and Ann, a crowd of negroes, assembled at the corner, threw a shower of stones and brick-bats, some of the missiles striking transparencies belonging to the Second Ward Club and several of the members Capt. John Cowan was struck on the head by a piece of brick, but not seriously hurt One of the scamps was shortly afterwards arrested with a brick in his hand. With this exception nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the meeting.

BANNERS AND TRANSPARENCES.

Among the multitudinous banners and transparencies in the procession, with their inscriptions, etc., which excelled both in number and character any before displayed on a similar occasion in this city for many years, we noticed the following, giving the various wards in their proper order:

FIRST WARD. On one side: "Hancock, English and Jarvis-Will hear from us on Election Day." On the reverse: "We will rally round the Standard of the Soldier Statesmen." Portraits of Hancock and English, one on each end.

The most noticeable display by this ward was a banner 251 feet in length and 6 feet deep, on a wagon drawn by four horses, each covered with a white blanket bearing the inscription, "Hancock, English, Jarvis and Shackelford." On one side of the banner were the inscriptions "Second Ward Democratic Club"-"This Team Can't be Beat" (referring to the inscriptions on the horses) -30,000 majority in North Carolina." In the centre a large eagle measuring 12 feet from tip to tip of wings and bearing in his beak a scroll with the words "Peace and Harmony." On the reverse side: "Hancock and English will carry the Solid South, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut' New Jersey, Delaware, Ohio, Indiana, California." (These were all on a flag in the centre, bearing a star for each of the twenty-two States mentioned). No. 8 to 7." On one corner "Twenty-six thousand dollars sayed New Hanover County by Two Years' Democratic Rule.' On the other corner: "Nothing can intimidate me from doing what I consider honest and right .- Hancock." Also, pictures of Hancock and English.

We noticed other banners and transparencies as follows: On one side-"When fraud, violence and incompetence controls the noblest constitutions and wisest laws are useless."-Hancock's Letter. On the reverse: "It is only by a full vote, a free ballot and fair count that the people can rule."

On one side: "A hearty welcome to all." On the other: "Honor to Ransom and Another noticeable feature in the display of this ward was the Ship of State, thoroughly ship-rigged, with three masts, yard-arms, etc. It had a crew of eight young men in uniform, and the rigging and hull were illumined with Chinese lanterns. At the masthead floated a flug bearing the names of Hancock and English, the whole being drawn by four horses thoroughly caparisoned. The name of the ship-"Constitution"-was inscribed in large letters on the stern. All along the line of march Roman candles were sent up by the crew of the ship and added much to the general effect.

FIFTH WARD.

"The bone and sinew of our city. We are in line for the contest." "No Class Legislation."

"Hand in hand by Hancock and Shack elford the Fifth Ward will stand." Gar-fish (to represent Garfield) chasing a negro (representing the Republican party)

Arm, representing labor and strength, with motto, "The arm that moves the world."

"We shot to get Hancock and we will Carpet-bagger shaking hands with negro and bidding him good-bye. Negre saying, 'Yes, yes !" "Fifth Ward, always the Banner Ward.

We can't be fooled with the Greenback tion, Game-cock-Han-cock, English, Jarvis and Shackelford."

PENDER DEMOCRATS.

The delegation from Pender, consisting of upwards of one hundred of the staunch veomanry of the county, were in line marshalled by Captain Paddison. It was headed by a large and handsome banner borne by two of the members, with portraits of Hancock and English and the motto "ballots not bullets." A large United States flag was also displayed, and transparencies and small flags.

A beautiful banner containing likenesses of onr national standard-bearers, with a scroll held in an eagle's beak bearing the inscription "Hancock and English-Ballots, Not Bullets." This banner was about eight feet deep and from five to six feet

These gentlemen were unanimously elected, and amidst the most enthusiastic applause Col. McRae called the meeting to order.

Capt. R. S. Norment then moved that "a committee of five be appointed to draft suitable resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting." The motion was unanimously adopted and Capt R. S. Norment, Maj. Thomas H. McKoy, and Messrs. Charles H. Robinson. Marsden Bellamy and B. F. Mitchell were appointed as said committee.

Col. McRae took occasion to briefly ad dress the crowd in introducing Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis and was most heartily greeted. Frequent applause greeted his effort, and his reception was most complimentary.

As Gov. Jarvis ascended the stand he was greeted most enthusiastically by the crowd and with music by the band. Gov. Jarvis' speech was to us a most agreeable disappointment. We had heard of him previously but were entirely unprepared to expect the really excellent speech he made. Alluding first to the great success of our meeting, he explained his relations to our people and declared that he had and would always be found advocating any measure favorable to the development of our city and section. He explained from his stand point the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad, and said he believed that eventually his action" would redound to the benefit of Wilmington as 'well as to the good of the whole State of North Carolina. The Governor's him many friends and votes.

In conclusion Governor Jaivis urged the Democracy of the Cape Fear section to meet him at the ballot box on election day and help to elect that man President who, when the war was ended, recognized the fact and acted accordingly, as witnessed by his letter to Gov. Pease and his General Order No. 40.

As Gov. Jarvis retired the Cornet Concert Club played a pleasing air, and when the Emusic ceased, "Vance! Vance!" was called for so vigorously that the Senator was compelled to respond. He spoke briefly and explained that he could not speak until this morning at 10 o'clock. and the crowd rejuctantly excused him. Capt. Norment then introduced the fol-

Gen. Leach made a lengthy, exhaustive and comprehensive speech, that well pleased the Democracy of New Hanover. His speech was rather lengthy but it won for the speaker much praise. When Gen. Leach next visits Wilmington we can promise him a large and attentive audience.

When Gen. Leach concluded our Elector for the Third Congressional District, D. H. McLean, Esq., was introduced. Following as he did two of our most distinguished speakers, his speech was exceedingly good, and won for him much favor. He spoke under the most disadvantageous circumstances, and yet pleased all his listeners.

When Mr. McLean concluded, the calls for Senator Ransom were so unanimous and prolonged that the gentleman was literally forced to respond, by briefly thanking the crowd for the compliment and telling Soon after all the various organizations, them that he would speak to-morrow night at 8 o'clock.
