And now the Garfield boom has heen helped again immensely by the support of another great soldier. The colored cadet, Whittaker, who razeed his own ears, has made a speech in favor of the saintly J-Ames Golyer Garfield.

Senator Wallace has brought cheering news to Washington, says the Baltimore Sun's special of the 6th inst. It says:

"Senator Wallace says that not less than 4,000 Republican soldiers of Pennsylvania have written to Gen. Hancock that they intend to vote for him for President. This looks as if there might be something in the claim that Hancock will carry Pennsyl-

New York news: Foreign importations last week, $7,845,151. Two steamers sailed for Europe, taking out 750,000 bushels of grain, besides cheese, fresh meat, &c. Edward Hanlan, the champion oarsman, sailed for England. Leading dealers say the trade outlook is much healthier than it was this time last year.

Grant says he is now in favor of "a fair count." He said once "let us have peace," and he at once began his deviltry with his army. His "fair count" is only a precursor of the biggest cheating and frauds ever perpetrated in America if it be possible to improve on those of 1876, when Grant did all he could to help count Hayes in.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXVI.--NO. 146.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1880.

The Democrats of New York have harmonized beautifully and much to Next Saturday is the day to organthe disgruntlement of the Stalwarts. They know that harmony means defeat to all of their projects. In Virginia, we are glad to learn, the more considerate Democrats are convinced Saturday. most profoundly of the necessity of The Rads claim that Judge Buxton uniting all of their strength to carry the eleven votes for Hancock. It would be highly criminal in them to so divide among themselves as to allow the Radicals to conquer. Virginia's vote may be necessary to elect encouraging: "The proposition for a compromise beween the two Democratic wings in this State has awakened general interest here, and to day it was an all-absorbing topic of conversation among all classes, streetcorner politicians as well as those who aspire to be statesmen. As it is now pretty generally known the correspondence addressed to the leaders of the Readjuster party was inaugurated by Mr. Koiner, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, on August 28. It has not yet been concluded, but Gen. Mahone expected a letter from Mr. Koiner to day in which the time for holding the conference of the two committees will be definitely fixed. "The plan to which Mahone's attention was especially called by Mr. Koiner was what is known as the Shenandoah plan. This provides for retiring five electors on each of the tickets and replacing them by five on the opposition side, giving each Democratic wing an equal representation. The eleventh man to be by the National committee. Of course there are all kinds of theories advanced as to what will be the result of the proposed conference, and many inquiries as to who inspired the inauguration of the correspondence from which has resulted an agreement for the leading men in the two "Gen. Mahone, and for several days there has been a strong auspicion that he was down here for the purpose of endeayoring to secure a harmonious settlement of the differences between the Funders and Readjusters on National issues. But whether he had anything to do with bringing about the correspondence just concluded is not known. There seems to be little doubt, however, with all of the present lights, that the National Democratic Committee has had a finger in this political pie.'

The news from Indiana is that both parties are making a desperate fight, and that the Republicans are crying out lustily for money. The State is thought to be doubtful by the correspondent of the Philadelphia Times, in his letter of the 5th inst., but he encourages us nevertheless with the following:

"The leaders of both sides have got down to business and hard work in Indiana, and the Republicans to-day openly confess, for the first time, that Chairman Jewell has been utterly outgeneraled in Indiana. They know that Indiana is naturally a Democratic State; that it elected Hendricks Governor in 1872; that it gave 17,000 Demo-cratic majority in 1874; 5,500 in 1876 and 14,000 in 1878, and they now see the vanity and folly of Jewell's 'splendid dress parade' begun by himself in Indiana more than two months ago and followed up by a lavish waste of money. * * Barnum has always said to all who interrogated him on the subject: 'Indiana is a Democratic State and it will not be lost. We will fight the battle there but once, and that will win.' Literally interpreted, that means that when Jewell's money shall have been paid out to corrupt Democrats, many of whom were set up to deal with him, and all of whom have been reported to English unhis complete organization and canvass that has reached every voter, Barnum and English will come in on the last charge of the campaign, double up the contracts of Jewell and make all possible inreads upon the Republicans. There is not anything like confidence felt in Indiana now at Republican head-quarters. * * * Another new feature of the State contest that has been unexpectedly developed since Barnum's late visit to Indianapolis, is a fierce, aggressive campaign against Judge Porter, putting him on the defensive by charges of gross corruption as Controller of the Treasury. The charge has been worked up by exdetective William P. Wood, once Chief of the Secret Service, and it makes out a plausible case against Controller Porter for paying a fabricated and fraudulent claim, knowing it to be such.

A correspondent gives us the following facts, in relation to Captain Howgate, who is prominently mentioned as the successor of Gen. Myer. We trust Capt. Howgate will receive the appointment:

"Capt. H. W. Howgate, of Michigan, has been prominently connected with the Signal Service nineteen years and since the incorporation of the Meteorological branch with it in 1870 has been Gen. Myers' executive officer, and the high success and efficiency attained by it is due in great part the person best fitted to have the position offChief Signal Officer, having been so closely connected with it since its inception. He has always been very active in all scientific work. Capt. Hall's Polaris expedition was greatly indebted to him for services and he also has an expedition now enroute to the North Pole, entirely at private. expense, without any aid from government

A colored man by the name of Henry Johnson was arrested yesterday afternoon, by Special Deputy J. W. Millis, charged with stealing a steer from another colored man by the name of David Granger. Johnson was arrested on suspicion a few days since, at the instance of Mr. Williams, the clerk of the market, and he was taken before the Mayor, but there was not sufficient evidence to hold him. Since then, however, Granger has come into possession of certain facts tending to prove the guilt of Johnson, and finding, too, that he was on the point of leaving for this city yesterday with a cow, also alleged to have been stolen, though from another party, he (Granger) started and got here ahead of the alleged thief, made the necessary affidavit, and, with the officer, met Johnson at the ferry with his newly acquired prize and arrested him. Johnson was then taken before Justice Millis, who required him to enter into a justified bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance this morning to undergo a preliminary examination for larceny, in default of which he was committed to jail.

The steer referred to was brought to this city and sold by defendant to one of our

How it Happened.

In our last we briefly alluded to the fact that a colored man named Council was drowned on Tuesday at the wreck of the brig Fred. B. Rice. The vessel is ashore about two miles south of Sloop Point, and on the day named there was a heavy southwest sea, which finally carried away the boat attached to the stern of the brig, which the wreckers had used in going to and from the vessel. Their only means of reaching the shore, therefore, was in utilizing the life line, which had been previously put in connection between the wreck and the beach. There were some seven or eight persons on the wreck at the time the boat was carried away, all of whom succeeded in reaching the shore in safety but the unfortunate man alluded to, who lost his hold upon the line by reason of the heavy sea, and was drowned. Deceased was a resident of the Sloop Point neighborhood, and had been employed to assist in removing the cargo from the vessel to
