Wherefore it muse be clear, even to the Vermonter who has just found out that the civil war is not over, that the new sectional attack on the South by the Republicans is only a fresh illustration of the aptness of the old fable about the difference, in point of cruelty to animals, in the goring of oxen belonging to different owners -- New York World, Dem.

[New York Star, Sept. 4th, 1980.] The condition on which Cadet Whittaker received his leave of absence seems to have been that he should take the stump for Garfield and Arthur. As the judgment of an impartial court condemns this aspiring young African to bear the reputation of a notorious har, perhaps there is no way in which he could employ a reputation of that sort to better advantage than in supporting a candidate who has himself been impaled as a perjurer.

Tyler, candidate for Congress from the Second District and Director of the Ruined First National Bank, received 651 votes, as against upward of 900 in 1876. ANOTHER DEMOCRAT SHOT DOWN.

Another of those little innocent escapades which the Radical party is quite capable of, it seems, occurred at Washington, Ohio, on Saturday night last. A Democratic procession was passing, just as was the case in Wilmington when some devilish Radical hurled the brick, when a shot was fired into it, and Perry Wilson, a spectator, was instantly killed. The killing is accompanied with the announcement that "no arrest was made." A mere looker-on, standing on the side walk, is shot down by some Radical fiend, and no arrest even follows. This form of amusement on the part of Radicals will become a little stale before the election. Probably, they will resort to tar and feathers and burn their victims with kerosine oil by way of variety and divertisement. Such outrages are pleasant pastimes provided Democrats only are the victims. But if a score or two of Radicals were hung to lamp posts for their villainies what a howl would smite the skies.

It is really getting serious when the members of one party cannot turn out with transparencies and lamps without being assaulted and mardered by members of the other party. The law of retaliation is terrible, but it may become a necessity. The shooting may not be all on one side, and will not be all on one side if the Radical amusement is prolonged much further.

Every outrage of the present campaign thus far committed has been by Radicals-by the fellows who are eternally prating of free action, free speech and free ballot. Two Democrats tie in bloody graves because of processions; two others have been mobbed in the North for daring to indulge the right of free speech; on two occasions Democratic banners have been torn down, and yet no retaliation and no outrage has followed. We are glad of this. We are gratified that Democrats have foreborne thus far to commit any wrong or to meet with condign punishment the scoundrels who have insulted, as-perty and hard-earned taxes to the hands of the accursed Radical harpies-the ignorant negroes and a thousand times meaner white men, who unfortunately have white skinsby unfriendly legislation, then hope is crushed out in the Eastern Democratic heart. To the West we look, and have to look, for help in this regard, and if our brethren there could know, see and feel, as we have known, seen and felt the bitter pange of the East heretofore chained to negro Radical death, never would they suffer

ern counties be remitted-their liberty, pr

any change in this regard." He then shows that if magistrates are elected by the people that in Henderson township (Henderson itself has over 1,400 inhabitants) would be dominated by five ignorant negro Justices, such as they have been afflicted with in the past. He says they were "vile, abandoned and depraved," and that the same cup will be forced to gard to the improvement of quarantheir lips again if the present system tine law. The meeting is important is abolished. Our readers already know what rascalities and villainies were practiced by the Radical Boards in Granville and other counties. We hope the West will not be a party to any Radical schemes of plunder, They seek to degrade and pillage the East, and the West has the power to prevent it. We hope that no scheme will prosper for a moment that looks to the losing of all the benefits thus N. C. far secured by Democratic reform,

We have started right; let us keep on in the way of peace, justice, economy and progress.

No man can have any respect for John Sherman who has proper respect for himself. He squarely declared in Cincinnati that "he had never said one word impugning Gen. Arthur's honor or integrity as a man and a gentleman, but he was not in harmony with the views of the administration in the management of the Custom flouse."

Well, here is what he said precisely in January, 1879, when Arthur was at the head of the New York Custom House and was not dreamed of as a possible candidate on the Republican ticket :

"Gross abuses of administration have con tinued and increased during your incumbency. Persons have been regularly paid by you who have rendered little or no services; the expenses of your office have increased, while its receipts have diminished. Bribes, or gratuities in the shape of bribes, have been received by your subordinates in several branches of the Custom House, and you have in no case supported the effort to correct these abuses."

We knew all along that Sherman

We cannot refrain from expressing our regrets at the political apathy which marks the condition of the Democratic party in this section. Our sleepless opponents are organized at all points, and are working like beavers, day and night. What are we doing in Craven county to poll a magnificent vote for Hancock, and to place our State ticket in advance of even the brilliant riumph of 1876? Some weeks ago we organized a Hancock and Jarvis club in New bern, placed it in the hands of capable officers, and cherished the hope that earnest, incessant work would follow that organization. But as yet nothing has been done .-New Berne Record.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Rock away, Garfield, high as a kite, Soon, in November, you're bound to alight When the vote 's taken, Garfield will fall, Down comes Arthur and platform and all. - Gen. Hancock is quoted as saying that, in his judgment, the Democratic record in the last Congress with reference to Southern claims is a sufficient answer to Secretary Sherman, and anything additional would be but a work of supererogation. -- Wash. Post, Dem.

- Cassius M. Clay writes to the Louisville Courier Journal: "A submission for another four years to a rape of the Presidency would be cowardice rather than prudence or regard for peaceful remedies. It is not safe for freemen to submit tamely to outrage and tyranny. 'Eternal vigilance' and prompt action are 'the price of liberty.'' -04
