The Garfield movement in Virginia is now said to be full of earnestness, and more so than has been reported.

Old Simon Cameron is reported in the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph as saying that it is not probable that the Republicans will carry Indiana.

It is something to know that according to Behm and Wagner the population of the earth is calculated to have increased 17,000,000 in two years. They give the estimated population at 1,456,000,000.

" Yhen the Baptist State Convention was organized, in 1848, it was estimated that there were 1,800 Baptists, white and colored, in the State. The semi-centennial will be held in Goldsboro on the 17th of November."—Raleigh News and Observer.

I'here were probably over 30,000 at that time. There were probably a thousand in Granville alone.

Smalley, the New York Tribune's correspondent in Indiana, only ventures to say in his last letter that he regards "the outlook in Indiana at this time as sufficiently favorable for the Republicans to warrant them in doing the best work possible to win."

Sarah Bernhardt, the French actress, is to appear at Booth's Theatre, New York, soon. On October 1, the sale of tickets to her series of performances began. By noon it amounted to $25,000, and $60 is the price for each. Some few months ago a masterly and not very complimentary criticism of her acting appeared in Blackwood's Magazine.

The New York Herald's corespondent at Cincinnati, in his letter of the 29th ult., represents the Republicans of Ohio as depressed at the prospects in that State, and the Democrats as being elated. He says:

"Despite the fact that Ohio has been Re publican in every national contest since the party came into existence, of late its maority has been so narrowed down by the Democracy that they never affect to regard it as a doubtful State and express the strongest hopes of carrying it for Hancock.
"One of the signs of the times that has given the Democracy great eucouragement is the large attendance at its meetings. There seems to be no trouble in getting up big processions, and most any speaker, no matter how commonplace an orator he may be, can find eager listeners. A prominent Democrat, who has campaigned it through Ohio for the Democratic party ever since the memorable hard-cider campaign of 'Tippecanoe and Tyler too' in 1840, said to me last night: 'We are going to win. It is in the air. Our people feel it in their bones, and it stimulates them as they were never stimulated before.' Certainly the Democrats act as if such was the case, while the Republicans seem anxious and annoyed. Hancock's letter on the rebel claims question has fallen like a bombshell in the Republican ranks. We had never seen the play before, and we may now say we have rarely been better pleased or entertained than by the faultless presentation. Mr. Mayo links so completely his own identity in the noble character of "Crockett" that one becomes unconscious of the surroundings, and is impressed with the reality of the scene and persons. Nothing more natural, graceful, and freer from gush or rant have we ever seen on the stage than Mayo's "Crockett;" and, indeed, we may say that so faithful a portraiture of a chivalrous, pure, and noble character is equal to a
