The death-rate in Richmond, Va., for the week ending October 3d, showed 15 06 per 1,000 per annum for whites, and 33.10 for colored; or 22.51 for all.

Gov. Jarvis, whilst passing through Danville, Va., a few days ago, was waited upon by a committee of the Hancock and English Club. He responded to an eloquent speech made by Hon. Thomas S. Flournoy. We find the following in the Richmond Dispatch:

"Governor Jarvis said that he had many reasons for special love to Virginia. Six inches of the bone of his right arm was lying somewhere in Virginia; he had lost ome blood in defence of her at Drewry's Bluff; and Virginia now held his wife."

The Norfolk Virginian has published a special editon, setting forth the trade review for the year. It claims an export trade of over $14,-000,000, an increase of more than $4,000,000 over the preceding year. It claims to be the second Atlantic port and the third cotton port. It says its general wholesale trade shows a business of nearly $12,000,000. It puts its total business at $38,000,000. These figures are encouraging, cer-

Senator McDonald, of Indiana,

says, there is gross exaggeration in the reported importation of negroes. The Philadelphia Press correspondent at Indianapolis represents him as saying: "He said he is not alarmed at it; that for every negro that has been or will be imported into the State heretofore a Republican will vote the Democratic ticket. The Senator bases his idea on the fact that Indiana is and has always been the most intensely anti-negro State this side of Mason and Dixon's line. Before the war they had a provision in the Constitution forbidding the settlement of free negroes in the State, and during this campaign negro orators sent into the State have been coldly received by the white Republicans."

Grant has felt constrained to tone down Fowler's report of his graceless assault upon Gen. Hancock. When what he admits he said is fairly sifted, we apprehend it will be found to contain as little of truth as some of John Pope's lying dispatches he was accustomed to send to Washington after he had been defeated and overwhelmed by Gen. Lee. Gen. Hancock has intimated quite distinctly that Grant's statements will not be allowed to pass unchallenged. He will at least contradict what is false in them. Grant will not add to his character by his course.

October 4th is the date of the latest special to the Philadelphia Times concerning the Indiana election. It is from a staff correspondent. It amounts to this: the Republicans are boasting of their ability to carry the State; the Democrats are confident and not at all apprehensive. We copy:

"Halloway is a brother-in-law of the late Senator Morton, and knows as much of Indiana politics as anybody around the Republican headquarters. He says that the majority won't be three thousand either way, and the actual result in the State won't be known for three days after election. * * * The Republicans have had and probably will continue to have the most money, but they are spending it as while the Democrats are using theirs in a business-like way. They are getting a hundred cents' worth for every dollar they put out. In another way, too. the Democrats are taking a mean advantage of the Republicans. Smart but dishonest Democrats are standing around all over the State absorbing the Republican corruption fund and making more money than they have made before for years. They will turn up solid for their own party on election day, with the Republican money in their

One more extract will not be without interest:

"There is perfect confidence on the part the Democrats. Mr. English places the probable majority for Landers at 7,000. Senator McDonald, who is not given to enthusiastic claims, says it can't possibly go below 7,000, and he would not be surprised to see it reaching away to 10,000 or 12,000. The Greenback vote he believes will not exceed 10,000. Two years ago it was nearly 40,000 and this difference will divide with he largest share to the Democrats."

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1880.

We give the Philadelphia Press speak in Washington on the 22nd, at North Creek on the 23rd. Judge Fowle will be in town on 16th. Come out in crowds and hear all. - We hear of Hancock and Jarvis clubs all over the county, and good work is being done by their organization .--Washington Press.

> We are pleased to announce that arrangements are being made to have a grand Democratic rally and flag raising at this place, on Friday, the 15th day of October. ——Governor Jarvis and Treasurer Worth addressed the people of Chatham at this place on last Tuesday. We were agreeably surprised to see so large an attendance. - Pittsboro Record. It would be safe to bet that Gen.

> Scales would carry Stokes by over 500 majority. - The two Hancock and Jarvis clubs of this place now number about 450 voters. --In making up your mind who to vote for for Governor, don't forget that Judge Buxton endorsed Holden's infamous Kirk war, that most damnable of black acts of the Republican party in this State. - Winston Senti-

Hon. R. F. Armfield's speech at Mooresville was one of the ablest we ever heard. He accorded to his competitor, as to Judge Buxton, the character which their party claimed for them, that of respectability. They lay great stress upon this, as something remarkable, and expect the popular support upon this ground. But where were Furches and Buxton in the worst days of the Republican dominion? These respectable gentlemen raised no hand or voice against the outrages of Holden and his ruffian minions; they stood voiceless to condemn the greatest political crime in the history of North Carolina, and they are responsible for the acts of their party. - Mooresville Gazette.

Judge Buxton and Gen. Barringer dodge their adversaries, and try to The receipts of the colored fair were some t their own crowds. The former, the other day, spoke at Wentworth to an audience of 8, whites and 7 blacks. A regular 8x7 concern. This is a fact; and yet the Judge, if he had been courageous enough for the encounter, might have met the whole of Rockingham county at Reidsville late opinions from day to day that last Friday, or he might have met the whole of Person county at Roxboro the week before last, when Scales and Robbins spoke. - At the Reidsville mass meeting Gov. Jarvis was to speak between Fowle and Vance. Courtesy obtained an audience, but the hearts of the hearers did not go to the speaker until he began to win attention by his clearness of statement, the logic of his arguments, the impressive array of his facts, and the terrors of his denunciation, until at last the large assemblage were caught in a contagion of wonder and admiration, and yielded themselves resistless captives to an oratory they had almost despised. We heard an old Virginian, one accustomed to the best eloquence (of Virginia, the fountainhead of eloquence, say the speech of Gov. Jarvis at Reidsville was the best he had ever heard in his life .-Durham Recorder.

[Hickory Carelinian.] Last week the Wilmington STAR entered its fourteenth year, shining as brilliantly as ever. -- Pittsboro Record: The Wilmington STAR has completed the thirteenth year of its existence. This is the oldest daily newspaper in the State, and is decidedly one of the newsiest and most ably edited. Our best wishes for its continued

-- Elizabeth City Falcon: A shade of gloom was thrown over our community yesterday by the announcement of the death of Dr. Joseph Commander, after a painful and lingering illness of many nths. Dr. Commander was aged fortysix years, eleven months and eighteen majority of the votes cast in this days. -- Salisbury Watchman: It may not be generally known that this county is rich in gold and other minerals. There is not, we believe, another county in the State more interesting to those who have capital to invest in mineral properties than Rowan, excepting alone the county of Montgomery, where gold lies scattered over almost every square yard of territory.

-Correspondent of the Portsmouth Toms: We have lately visited a little inland town, a perfect Utopia in its way, Jackson, Northampton county, N. C. No liquor sold there; not a barroom; no poor people scarcely. They only have court a few times in the year, as they have no wrongs to right. The jail is rarely inhabited; very few pau-pers in the poor house. There is no liquor sold in Northampton county. Come on, gentle-men, the railroad will be completed in a few weeks and Oxford will be the sprightliest town in the State. —We regret to learn that on Wednesday last the residence of Dr. James W. Hicks, near Williams-boro, was accidentally burned. We understand that they were burning some brush near the house and the building caught from the sparks.

- Raleigh Visitor: The Wilmington STAR is giving its readers a rest from the all-absorbing topic of politics, and is discussing in a most able manner the subject of education. This departure is indeed refreshing, and we recommend the articles of the STAR to a careful review by its readers and the public. They are not only admirably written, but contain about as much common sense as we have seen embodied in any newspaper editorial for a long time.

- Charlotte Observer : Mr. John G. Young returned yesterday from Mc-Dowell county where he has been engaged the past three weeks in surveying a canal for the Vein Mountain Gold Mining Company, This is the concern which bought eight thousand acres of gold mining lands in McDowell, a few months ago, paying for the same the sum of $35,000. It is a wealthy corporation of New York, and they have gone to work at once on an extensive scale. A hundred able-bodied men have been employed for some weeks in prepara tion for the commencement of active mining operations. The canal which Mr. Young surveyed is eight miles in length and runs two tunnels and a half dozen trestles.

- Judge Brooks, of Elizabeth City, writes to a gentleman in Charlotte, of the date of 27th ultimo, says the Chserver: 'This whole Albemarle country is but one vast hospital but without the sanitary arrangements, physicians and nurses found n well regulated institutions for the sick. have never known fevers, ague and fever, typhoid intermittent-so violent as to almost equal yellow fever-so universal with our people. Many die suddenly with only three chills. Last week Judge Schenck opened the Superior Court here, and became sick. The bar represented to him in writing that it was scarcely possible to try a case in Perquimans or Chowan counties and requested him to announce that no court would be held in these counties. This was done and he left for the mountains."

Besides these warehouses, new business houses and residences have gone up in every direction, and the population of the town has increased at least one hundred and fifty. Information of a sad case comes to us through a private letter to a business firm in this city afrom Mullin's, S. C., on the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad. A little child of a merchant of that place, by the name of W. H. McDaniel, died on Sunday last of diphtheria, and the following morning the mother of the little one, who had retired to her bed in her usual health, with the exception of the fatigue and exhaustion incident to a sick room, was found dead in her bed. It is supposed by the neighbors and friends of the deceased that the unfortunate lady died of excessive grief at the loss of her child. Much sympathy is of course felt for the afflicted gentleman in his sad double

Cotton Facts." We are indebted to Mr. A. B. Shepperson, the publisher, for a copy of his new edition of "Cotton Facts," it being a compilation of the crops, receipts, exports, stocks, prices, &c., of ootton for a series of years, ending September 1, 1880. It is a work of real merit, and we do not know how we can better show our appreciation of it than by re-producing the annexed notice from the New Orleans Picayune: It is the most concise, valuable and re-liable collection of late statistics bearing upon the great Southern staple ever compiled. The author thoroughly comprehends the wants of practical men in the trade and has confined himself to the field of usefulness. It is not burdened with a mass of encyclopedia information, such as is usually put in works of the kind, but has only the freshest figures of the cotton movement and the most reliable data relative to consumption, etc. This work meets a positive want, and will therefore meet with the proper en-couragement throughout the United States element of commerce.

This useful little book is a marvel of cheapness, the price in flexible cloth covers being only 50 cents, and in leather 75 cents. Address, A. B. Shepperson, 25 Beaver street, New York.

Frank Mayo.

This evening the theatrical season will be regalarly opened in Wilmington by the presentation at the Opera House, by Mr. Frank Mayo, of the "Backwood's Idyl" entitled "Davy Crockett," said to be a charming and thrilling drams. The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph says of Mr. Mayo and his play :

"Last evening, at the Arch Street Thea-tre, Mr. Frank Mayo began an engagement in his well-known original character, "Davy Crockett," in Murdoch's "Idyl of the Backwoods." The theatre was crowded with an enthusiastic audience, who encored the sentiment and action of the piece to the echo. Mr. Mayo was well supported— Miss Josephine Laurens as "Eleanor Vaugho," and other members of the troupe which, as a whole, is a strong one. The plot of the piece is so entirely beyond the bounds of probability as to deserve no consideration as a drama, the entire interest in the piece centering in Mr. Mayo's acting of his part, which, physically, is a decidedly muscular one, and adapted to display his fine figure to advantage. The quiet force of his delivery is highly effective and in marked contrast to the ranting which is apt to characterize actors of the sensational
