OUTLINES.

Further reports from the cotton crop published by Savannah Cotton Exchange. -A frightful collision of trains in Pittsburg, Pa., occurred; about forty persons were killed and fatally injured; many were slightly injured; twenty-one deaths have occurred: -The political excitement in Indiana is intense; two affrays of a serious character occurred on Saturday; at Shelbyville numerous bar-room fights occurred: Sheriff McCorkle, Democrat, was killed by a Republican, supposed to be Ed. Kennedy: parties are hunting him and if found he will be lyuched; Sheriff Lee was badly bruised; at Evansville a white man and a negro shot each other; Rouse, white will die. -Baltimore is celebrating its 150th anniversary. - Bogardus and Honworth had a shooting match at St. Louis at wild birds; tie, each killing 92 of a possible 190 - The Indiana vote will be compared with that for Governor in 1876. - John Merritt, who murdered E. M. Hicks at Weldon, is again in jail for a deadly assault on J. T. Evans, postmaster, and J. O. Brady, bar-tender; the latter is seriously burt. - McClure House at Red Oak, Pa, burnt by lamp explosion. -New York markets: Money 2@3 per cent; cotton firm at 115-16@117-16 cents; southern flour quiet and very firm at $5 00@7 00; wheat, ungraded red $1 09@$1 18; corn, ungraded 554@56c; spirits turpentine higher and firm at 43@43} cents; resin stronger at $1 70@1 80.

INDIANA, OHIO AND WEST VIR-GINIA.

The great battle in Indiana and Omo comes off to-day. The campaign has been as enthusiastic and earnest as any that ever occurred in our country. Who will be victors remains to be seen. We do not expect to carry Ohic, and we have strong hope of a victory in Indiana. If we were engaged in a contest with an honorable adversary we should expect Landers to be elected by at least 7,000 majority. But remembering the character of the men who lead the Radical hordes we cannot predict confidently the result. If we are defeated in Indiana it will be by fraud, by local issues, and by the unpopuiarity of Landers. Senator Mo-Donald says he is weaker by 3,000 than the State ticket, but will not run probably much behind, as the Democrats know they are really voting to elect Hancock when they vote for Landers. We do not, therefore, believe that a defeat in Indiana would settle the election in November against Hancock. Let us look at it for a moment.

It is stated as a fact that there is not a Democratic candidate in Indiana running for any office who is as strong among his own people as Hancock is stronger than any candidate of his party now in the field in Indiana. What may we expect then? Why, naturally, that he will receive at least 3,000 more votes in November than the State ticket will get today. Senator McDonald thinks if the present State ticket were to be voted for on their own strength alone, without help, it would run much behind the vote it will receive to-day.

So we do not give up Hancock's election, though we are cheated out of Indiana to-day. The Radicals caunot cheat on November 2, as they can now. Their repeaters and rascals will be needed at home. If the election to-day should be adverse let us work the harder; let us redouble our exertions. This is the way we look at it now.

West Virginia also votes to-day. We have reason to expect a victory in Indiana and West Virgenia.

The head lines of the Indianapolis letter (from staff correspondent) to the Philadelphia Times read thus: "Indiana Democratic. The showing a good majority. The lowest estimates leaving the Republicans 6,000 in the minority. Fears of bloodshed on election day. Philadelphia roughs by the score rallying to Indianapolis." That tells the wory. Comment unnecessary.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says if the thousands of negroes who have gone from Kentucky to Indiana within the last month are allowed to vote the Democrats will be beaten. It publishes letters from Proctor Knott and a large number of men of honor and intelligence giving partioulars of the large negro exodus from various counties.

The Maine Republican Committee met at Portland, and conceded the election of Gen. Plaisted. He has a plurality of some 300. He will be naugurated.

He has a be escaped annur, but it must have been a very narrow escape, as the weapon was pills will restore you to health, more to be sufficiently near as to flash its fire into his desired than gold.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXVII.---NO. 17.

WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1880.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

Maj. John W. Daniel, of Virginia, made an hour and a half speech at Greensboro that is spoken of as exceedingly brilliant. Gov. Jarvis briefly spoke also.

Senator Vance will speak as follows: Monroe, Tuesday, 12th inst.; Olin, Iredell county, Tuesday, 14th; Concord, Saturday, 16th; Durham,

We are informed that Dr. W. G. Pool, of this county, a brother of ex-Senator Pool, and a life-long Republican, will vote the Democratic ticket at the coming election. With a full vote, a free ballot and a fair count, Latham will be elected by Jail. 2,000 majority. Mark what we say.

—Elizabeth City Falcon.

Senator Ransom will address the people of the First District as folows: Coleraine, Bertie county, Wednesday, October 13; Gatesville, Gates county, Thursday October 15; Cedar Grove, Perquimans county, Friday, October 15; Camden Court House, Saturday, October 16; Currituck Court House, Monday, October 18; Elizabeth City, Tuesday, October 19. Speaking to begin at 12 M

Senator Vance has consented to address the New Hancock Club at the Hornets' armory on Monday night immediately after the club organization has been effected. --Major Dowd has just returned from two weeks work and speaking in the lower counties of the district and he reports cheerfully of Democratic prospects, especially in Anson and Montgomery, where we can expect large the sawdust. — Maj. R. C. Badger is gains. — Charlotte Press. canvassing the State of New York under

Mr. H. R. Bryan, the Hancock and English elector for this district, addressed the citizens at Wilson last week in behalf of the Democratic candidates for President and Vice President. Mr. Bryan is a fine speaker and made a very favorable impression. - We are sorry to say we have never known so little interest taken in a political campaign in this county as is at present. There is not the first Democratic club in the county. - Toisnot Sunny Home.

The extract concerning the State ticket credited in our last to the Economist ought to have been credited to the Elizabeth City Carolinian. The braf comment was separated by a paragraph intervening in making up the form. Judge Merrimon will make a brief but effective canvass in the First District. His appointments are as follows: Bayboro, Pamlico county, Thursday, October 21; Washington, Beaufort county, Friday, October 22; North Creek, Beaufort county, Saturday, October 23; Falkland, Pitt county, Monday, October 25; Plymouth, Washington county, Wednesday, October 27; Windsor. Bertie county, Thursday, October 28; Coleraine, Bertie county, Friday, October 29; Elizabeth City, Pasquotank county, Saturday, October 30.

Gen. Cox, in the Fourth, is weeding a wide row. Put him down for at least 3,000 majority. -- There will be a grand barbecue and ratification meeting at Jackson, N. C., on Wednesday, October 27, 1880, at which time Gov. Vance, Gov. Jarvis, Gen. Ransom, Judge Fowle, Maj John W. Daniel, of Virginia, and other distinguished speakers will address the people upon the issues of the day. -- Politics in this county is very much mixed in the Radical camp. The Rads have nominated a negro named Hicks, which causes dissatisfaction among the white Radical brethren. The Greenbackers have also put a ticket in the field. The Democrate have made no nominations as yet. Mr. Fab. H. Busbee returned to the city last evening. He spoke at Scotland Neck on Wednesday. He will speak at Smithville, Johnston county, on Tuesday. -- Governor Jarvis arrived in the city last night from King's Mountain. He spoke at Company Shops and came in on a special train. - Raleigh News and Ob-

Spirits Turpentine.

- Maj. John W. Moore is to make speech at Chapel Hill, October 12th, on what is called "University Day."

- The venerable Edward J. Hale s the New York correspondent of the Charlotte Democrat, His letters are entertaining and often instructive:

— Senator Ransom is fifty-seven years old to-day. — Greensbore Patriot. Our impression is he was born in 1826. We do not think he is more than 55 .- STAR.

Charlotte Press: The bed plat of the cotton compress, weighing twenty tons, was broken on Saturday and it will about lay that institution up for the remainder of the season.

-Oxford Free Lance: The Oxford Female Seminary is simply blooming. Nine new additions among the boarding house pupils. There are now eighty-five girls at the Seminary with the certainty of many

- Toisnot Home: Elder Bennett Pitt, of Edgecombe county, died at his home last Friday, aged 65. He was pastor at Town Creek Church at the time of his death. — Mr. J. G. Rawls, of Wilson, has invented and obtained a patent on the spiral cotton chopper. — There will be a grand tournament and coronation ball at this place on the 10th of November,

— Monroe Enquirer: As Mr. J. M. Long, of Goose Creek Township, was driving along the road, near his home, he driving along the road, near his home, he of fast living, the excessive use of Whiskey, was fired upon by some one concealed in the injudicious use of Mercury, exposure the bushes on the roadside. Fortunately in missmatic regions, sedentary habits, face. -Mr. Howie, of Goose Creek, while on his way to Charlotte early on last Monday merning, was knocked from his wagon by some one by being struck on the back of the head with a stick. The object of his assailant was, no doubt, robbery.

- Milton Chronicle: On Saturday night before last while Mr. Glenn, who, we think, lives in the Olive Hill township, of barn curing tobacco, a negro man who was employed on the farm went into the dwelling house of Mr. Glenn, and, entering the bed room of Mrs. Glenn, proceeded to pass himself off for her husband by getting in bed with her, but the lady's hand coming in contact with the wool on the negro's head, her screams aroused the family, and the daring villain made his escape, but not without being seen and identified. He was arrested, however, a few days afterwards, as we learn, and committed to Roxborough

- Charlotte Observer: W. R. Cochrane of this city, who had the beer privilege at the King's Mountain Centennial, soon dealt out 128 kegs of that beverage to the patriotic crowd. That is 1,280 gallons or thereabouts. — When the exercises at the speakers' stand at the Kings Mountain centennial grounds, day before yesterday, had been concluded, the immense crowd raised a cry for Vance. He declined persistently to come forward, but the call continued. The managers en-deavored to proceed with the programme, but their voices were drowned. Finally the Senator had to yield, and as he arose before the almost countless throng, such a shout went up as will never be heard reverberating through those hills again.

-Raleigh News and Observer: Mr. Ford's excellent company will give us some good acting in pleasant performances at Tucker Hall Fair week. — There were only ten companies of troops at King's Mountain. Had the State Guard gone as a body there would have been thirty-six companies present from North Carolina alone. Young to Lowlow, Some of the boys say that is just a shade rough on the knight of an appointment by the Republican Committee of that State. - President Kemp P. Battle, of the University of North Carolina, will deliver an address before the North Carolina Agricultural Society at the Capitol during Fair week. - There are some strange people in this State. We see that parties from Charlotte had two curious people on exhibition at the Centennial celebration. One was a colored woman fortynine years old and fourteen inches high, from Cleaveland county. The other was a white man, over five feet high, but possessed of a silken beard five feet long and reaching nearly to his feet.

The News To-Night. Our friends are cordially invited to call on us to-night and hear the news from the great October States. We know we can give them good reports from West Virgins, we believe we can give them good reports from Indiana; and as to Ohio, if we get anything good from that State it will be more than we have any right to expect.

The peanut crop produced in 1879, like all the agricultural crops of that most prolific year, largely exceeded the estimates of the 120,000 for North Carolina, making a total of 2,220,000 bushels, against the estimate made one year ago of 1,725,000 bushels. The old crop has not been all marketed, and it is estimated that there remain unmarketed 75,000 to 100,000 bushels in Virfew in North Carolina.

A Convict Makes an Assault upon Mis

On Friday last, we learn, an old colored man let John Fisher, an inmate of the County Work House, where he was sent for a term of one year, have his gun to shoot some birds with. Mr. Thomas Smith, the guard in charge of the prisoner, reported the matter to the Deputy Superintendent, and he said it must not occur again. Fisher got wind of the fact that the guard had reported him, and on Saturday, seizing a favorable opportunity, he cursed and abused Mr. Smith at a fearful rate and finally assaulted him, knocking him down and striking him several blows, besides threatening to kill him. Mr. Smith was armed only with a very small Smith & Wesson's pistol, and was afraid to use it on Fisher, being apprehensive that in case of a failure to inflict a serious wound the desperate man, who is very powerful withal, would carry out his threat and kill him.

Mr. S. was here yesterday, and received advice as to how he shall proceed in case Fisher or any other convict makes another -At a meeting of the French demonstration, and from appearances when
