Gen. Hancock says he has not thought of desponding. He does not believe that Indiana will go Republicac in November.

The Richmond papers are crying lustily for more water. That sort of ery is a sign of thirst. The supply is running low. A water famine is threatened.

The delegation elected from Indiana to the House of Representatives stands 8 Radicals and 5 Democrats. In the present House the delegation stands 6 Radicals, 1 National, and 6

The business condition of the country is much improved. During the nine months of 1880 ending September 30, the number of failures compared with last year is very much reduced. The amount is less by $36,-

Col. W. T. Thompson, editor of the Savannah News, is in luck. His friends have presented him with a fine suit of clothes. They evidently believe in Hancock's election, and the Colonel will wear his new clothes at the inauguration.

Gov. Vance is not cast-down or discouraged. He was asked by reporter of the Charlotte Observer what effect Indiana would have on the election in this State. His reply

"None worth speaking of. It may make ome of the weak-kneed shaky for awhile, but that won't amount to much. Just show our people the danger, and you need have no fear but that they will come out."

The Louisville Courier-Journal's Indianapolis correspondent furnishes the following:

"Bill Coates, the boss leader of the Rad-ical repeaters, brought into this State to defeat the people, as great a scoundrel and villan as ever went unhung, remarked in the rotunds of the Grand Central Hotel last night: 'The people wonder at the large vote polled yesterday. Lord! but I could tell them how it was done if I wanted to.' And then he gave a hoarse horse-laugh and walked off with his som in that of a local Republican politician. This is the kind of a man brought here to do the dirty work for the Republicans'

The Boston Herald, an Indepen-Republican paper of very large circulation, in its issue of the 16th, thinks it is not impossible by a great deal that the Democrats may recover Indiana. It thinks New York doubtful with thances favoring its party, but it is kind enough to say as follows: "The tide is clearly with the Republicans, but will it be strong enough to break down the solid wall of majorities in the seaboard cities indicated by a probable registration of 200,000? Plainly, New work is still a doubtful State; and, though the other indications point to its being carried for Garfield, the Democratic managers need not despair while buttressed behind such a vote as their cities promise to throw. The public feeling that the Ocober States virtually settled the Presidential contest is not likely to be greatly changed; but we imagine that another week will convince the Republicans leaders that they will need all the "push" they are now displaying. The tough old Democratic party has an ugly most gratifying and encouraging is used instead of the wortness habit of not knowing when it is whipped." ports of the progress of the campaign that are sold in this country."

— We have received the Evening Star, published at Raleigh by George M. Woods & Co. It is independent politically and is neatly printed—price $3 a year.

- Concord Sun: Cadet John Henderson, one of the Carolina Military Institute boys who went to King's Mountain, slept on the ground, soldier like, and has been at home here all the week trying

- Oxford Free Lance: The clerk informs us that there are about fifty cases on the criminal docket, all of minor importance, except three upon the charge of murder, viz: Ann Watkins, Christian Allen and Henry Riddick, all colored.

- New Berne Record: An attempt was made yesterday morning at about 12:30 o'clock to fire the long building at the corner of Middle and Johnson streets, commonly known as the Congregational church, and now used as a school room. A timely discovery by two of our citizens and with the prompt assistance of the people in the vicinity, the building was saved from any material damage.

- Greensboro Patriot: A car-load of sheep, numbering about one hundred passed this point last night from Lexington, Davidson county, for the Baltimore markets. — There were received at this point Friday night by express from More-head City, for shipment South, seventy-one tubs of fresh fish, weighing about 8,000 pounds. The receipts every night run from 2,000 to 3,000 pounds. — Maloy Allred, of Randolph county, convicted at the present term of the United States District Court, in this city, of counterfeiting United States nickels and dimes, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Dick to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at Albany, New York. - Stephen Garner, who lived near Jamestown, in Guilford county, and died mass meeting held in that place last about 45 years ago, was the grandfather of three Governors: Gov. Jonathan Worth, of this State, Stephen Garner, some years ago Governor of Iowa, and Albert G. Porter, the Republican Governor elect of Indiana. — A gentleman from Indiana, a highly interesting speech at Raleigh on Friday night. Dr. Worth also Republican in politics, who arrived in this city yesterday, on his way to visit triends in Randolph county, stated to some parties at the depot that in his township there were one hundred men who voted the Republican ticket at the late election who will vote for Hancock in November. And this was largely the case also in other townships.

- Raleigh News and Observer: Thirty-six shares of North Carolina Railroad stock sold yesterday for $81, dividend - At the practice of the Carolina Rifle Club yesterday, Dr. R. H. Lewis made the excellent score of 44 out of a possible 50. — The cotton yard is 420 feet square. It is crammed with cotton, even to running over, for the bales are out him out and turned him over to the policein the streets on all sides. There are probably ten thousand bales there. - The Concord Silver Cornet Band, which plays for the fair this year, has a high reputation as one of the finest bands ever organized in the State. The engagements of the New Berne band were cancelled by reason of sickness. — The total receipts this season, which began on the first of September, up to Friday, were 23,016 bales. The total receipts up to the same date last year were 10,467 bales. This gives a total increase of 12,549 bales this year. Up to the same time in 1878 the receipts were 10,479 bales.
—Policeman Royster handled a pistol just a shade too carelessly at the guard house door, Saturday night, and it fired, shooting him in the foot. The wound was slight. —The First Presbyterian Church here is altered for the better, and its appearance now is pleasing, both as to ex-terior and interior. The arrangement of the pulpit and gallery is excellent, while the seating capacity is greatly increased. The stained glass windows are handsome, though plain in design. - Yesterday morning two convicts escaped from the Penitentiary brick yard, by means of a ladder, with which they got over the stockade. They were Solomon Crawford, sentenced to three years' imprisonment for larceny, from Robeson county, age twentysix, stout, black; Daniel Dove, sentenced to eight years' imprisonment for manslaughter, from Lenoir county, age twenty-three, slender, mulatto. Another Probable Candidate for the Penttentiary. George N. Jones, colored, was arrested at the W. & W. R. R. depot, yesterday afternoon, by Officers Allen and Capps, of the police force, charged with larceny. It seems that a lot of men in the employ of W. H. Howe were engaged, under the supervision of Mr. James F. Post, Jr., one of the officials of the road, in unloading freight from some cars, during which it was discovered that the lid of a box containing was found that one or two pairs of the boots were missing. Shortly after this discovery a pair of the boots was found under one of the cars, when, at the suggestion of Howe they were left there in order to lead to the detection of the thief, who, it was thought, would seize the first opportunity to make sure of the prize. At dinner ime Howe, instead of going to his meal at the usual time, remained in the vicinity of the car on the watch, and pretty soon Jones was discovered sauntering down in the direction of the place where the boots were hidden, and when he had got off against the spot he stopped and crawled under the car. Howe kept him in view and saw him go to the place where the boots were concealed-there being then two pairs of them-and commenced covering them up with sand. Howe then intwo surprised Jones in the very act, took | the matter.

Jones charged one James Ivey, colored. with being implicated in the theft, but the prosecutor in the case declined to prefer any charges against him. He was recognized, however, to appear before the Mayor's Court this morning, while George Mayor's Court. Wm. Davis and Elias Smith, two colored boys, were arraigned on the charge of acting suspiciously on the wharf, near the foot of Market street, on Sunday morning, about 2 o'clock. Officer Harriss testified that he was called upon to make the arrest, and that Smith was on the wharf, while Davis was found concealed among a lot of wood on a flat. Smith made a statement which was calculated to create a favorable impression upon the Court, which was corroborated by Davis, when the former was discharged and the latter was ordered to be held for further developments.

John Walker and Aun Walker, whites, who were soliciting alms on the street on Saturday to bear their expenses away from "our city by the sea," but afterwards massed their capital, invested it in mean whiskey and got drunk, were released on the condition that they would leave the city instanter, with the understanding that if they were caught inside the city limits after a certain hour they would be sent below for thirty Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the "Boston Christian Freeman":—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soething Byrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing isdeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest at aight. Mest parents can appreciate these bleasings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever.
