Speaker Randall and Gen. Mahone have been closeted in Philadelphia. What's ap?

West Virginia elected the whole Democratic State ticket by 17,000 majority. Good enough.

Gen. Roger A. Pryor made a stirring and eloquent speech to a big audience in New York on the 12th.

"Last year there were 112 newswpapers published in North Carolina."- Charleston

The New York Herald does not think it improbable that that Radicals may have the next House of Representatives. Democrats of the Third do you hear that?

"Ouida's novels have been ordered off the shelves of the Elinburg Philosophical Library by the Directors."-Richmond State.

It would be a good thing, no doubt, if they were "ordered" out of every household and sent to the paper mills or the gutter.

Richmond, Va., had a grand Democratic demonstration on Tuesday night. There was an imposing street parade and brilliant illumination, with numerous speeches. Letters from Gen. Hancock, Gov. Seymour, Senstor Bayard and others received.

The dramatic editor the Richmond State is a competent critic and we value his opinions in theatrical matters. He says of Miss Belgarde:

"We have not been so pleased by the acting of any actress since the lamented Neilson as we were last night by her splendid rendition of the beautiful character of Viola in Shakespeare's delightful comedy of the "Twelfth Night," and this, too, in spite of the almost insurmountable obstacles against which she had to contend."

The poor negro, deluded and bought, having served his masters in Indiana, is turned out to grass. The Philadelphia Times thus notes the turn of the tide:

"The tide of negro emigration, which a few moths ago was from North Carolina to Indiana, is now from Indiana to North Carolins. This is significant in a large degree. It would be distressing, however, if so many of these misguided colored people burried back to North Carolina to vote as to leave the Republicans of Indiana with insufficient strength to carry the State in November."

The Richmond Dispatch copies what the STAR said of the prospects of Mr. Shackelford and Maj. Latham, and then adds: "This ischeering news indeed. Those very districts may turn the scale in favor of the Democrats in the next House of Representatives. We don't think that there are in the United States any two districts now represented by Democrats which the Republicans stand a better chance of carrying than the Democrats do of carrying the two districts referred to by the STAR. 'Men and brethren' of North Carolina (as Horace Greeley used to say) see to it that you do your duty on the 2d of No-

We wonder if Gen. Rufus Barringer has forgotten the time hethrashed severely a darkey during the war because he overheard him refer to his distinguished self as "Aunt Nancy?" The negro-saw Gen. B. riding into camp, when he remarked to another "colored man and brother, "It is grub time, for there comes Aunt Nancy." The irate General instead of passing on without letting the negro know he had overheard him, dismounted, gathered some stout hickories and gave the darkey a severe dressing.

peech at Charlotte, thus referred to Major Rebbins :

"He had met Robbins and brought out the twenty-dollar charge against him; and after two days Robbins was willing to re-tire if he (B.) didn't bring up the charge

Major Robbins, in a manly card in the Observer, emphatically contradicts Aunt Nancy's statement, telling him that he was anxious, as he (Barringer) knew, to canvass with him and Dockery, but could get no division of time, not even one hour. He concludes as follows:

"Without descending to epithets, I beg to remind General Barringer that there is a bar of conscience and of God to which he and I profess to hold ourselves amenable; and in view of that arraignment I ask him how he expects acquittal unless he offers amends for the utter misrepresentation of the real truth which he makes in the statement above reported. He well knows how utterly and stupendously false that statement

The Philadelphia Times, Independent, of Tuesday, contains a pleasant account of the harmonizing in New York. There seems to have been genuine love feast. The Democratic address concludes:

"Let vigilance at every poll guard the ballot-box sgainst bribery. Let every Democratic vote be cast. Let every Democrat strive to be first in the cause of reunion and reform.

The Times, one of the ablest and fairest of American newspapers, says of the prospect:

"It is needless to add, what everybody knows, that this perfect union of the lately warring factions not only assures New York city a Democratic government-that is of the least importance-but makes it as sure as anything in the future can be that the electoral votes of the State of New York will be given to Hancock and English. It also greatly increases the probability that the electoral votes of the other States of the metropolitan group, New Jersey and Connecticut, will be given to the Democratic candidates, and it signal for the healing of Democratic dissensions in every other State."

It seems a difficult matter to have election tickets printed correctly at Raleigh. Some grievous errors occurred in a part sent out in 1878, and the same thing has occurred again, as we learn from the New Bernian. That paper says of some sent to that

"In one instance the given name of Mr. Busber, one of the Presidential Electors, is printed Pabius instead of Fabius. Such is the case with a part of those sent here and which are mixed up indiscriminately with those correctly printed. Of course this has been done by some scoundrel em-ployed in the job office where the work was done."

It is extremely important to have the tickets printed correctly. Remember that Gen. Plaisted lost over a thousand votes in Maine because of incorrect tickets. His name was spelt wrongly and variously.

The attendance at the State Fair on the first day was not large. The display is said to be large and gratifying. Everything is well arranged. The races were not specially exciting, says the News and Observer, which contains a full report of the exhibit. The North Carolina State Agricultural Society held a meeting. The Board of Agriculture also met. The report of the News and Observer

"The Board met last evening at the rooms of Governor Jarvis. There was a full meeting, all the members being pre-sent. Montford McGehee, Esq., of Person, vas elected Commissioner.

"Dr. Charles W. Dabney, of Virginia s graduate of the University of Gottingen, Germany, was elected chemist of the Agricultural Station at Chapel Hill."

The petition of General Clingman was dismissed in the Washington Court because patents did not cover such cases. It will be remembered that he was refused a patent by the Patent Office for an improvement in electric light. He appealed, with the result as given. The Baltimore Sun thus explains his claim :

"Mr. Clingman has a mine of zircon soon his estate in North Carolina, and he claims that by reducing the zirconia to a powder and combining it with carbon he can make a loop for electric light which will never wear out nor change, and, at the same time, will afford the most powerful resistance to the passage of the current, and thus develop the utmost incandescence. The court held that while this would be patentable if the loop had been made and found effective, there was nothing now to patent except a theory."

- The following interesting items count of the celebration at King's Mountain: He (Maj. J. W. Daniel) had before him a tall goblet of claret punch from which he occasionally sipped. Its color was that of rosin. During one of these sippings a plain North Carolinian, full of the subject and the speech, called out in a clear voice, "Drink your dye stuff, shake your foot and give us some more." This was a great compliment to the orator and the speech, and shows how deep the subject and how deep he impressed his hearers. After the speech Vance was loudly called for. He was on the stage, but he came not—he was not on the programme. Carolinians had to do with the day, except to furnish the crowd of men and women for the occasion. South Carolina prayed, Georgia read, Virginia and Tennessee spoke,

The effort of Capt. W. S. Norment at the Court House Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Third Ward Democratic Club, was very favorably commented upon yesterday. He touched upon National, State and Congressional politics, and made one of those rallying, telling speeches that is calculated to arouse the enthusiasm, as well as awaken the earnest, thinking portion of the community, to the magnitude and importance of the issues involved in the present campaign. There was a good crowd present, and we have no doubt that Capt. Norment's well chosen remarks, so earnestly and impressively delivered, will have a decidedly beneficial effect. We hope to have several more speeches from him between now and the 2d of November.

We omitted to mention at the proper time that several of our county candidates were called out and accepted the respective nominations tendered them by the County Democratic Executive Committee. Mr. H. A. Bagg, our candidate for Sheriff, was the first to respond, and did so in his usual earnest and effective manner, and was followed by Mr. Walker Meares, one of our candidates on the Legis lative ticket, and Mr. Hugh W. McLaurin, our candidate for Register of Deeds, both of whom made brief, but fitting and appropriate responses. All pledged themselves to do what they could for the success of the party in the brief space intervening between this and the election

A Bloody Encounter.

A man by the name of Marshall got into difficulty with a well known colored woman by the name of Julia Ford, in what is known as Wallace's alley, Tuesday night, during which he struck her over the head with the round of a chair, inflicting an ugly wound, from which the blood flowed in great profusion. The woman, in company with one of her colored friends, made her way to the station house, in the hope of securing medical attention and to report the occurrence, and in the meantime Marshall had surrendered himself to a police officer and was taken to the station house. The latter declares that the woman made an assault upon him and he struck the blow in self-defence. The woman, it is said, was literally covered with blood when she reached the station house. Her wounds were looked after by the city physician, but her condition was such that it was deemed advisable to postpone a hearing of the case before the Mayor's Court until this

Raising the Wind." A colored man, whose name we did not ascertain, was going about the streets yesterday begging money for the purpose, as he said, of burying his wife. It finally transpired, however, that the man had not lost his wife, but that he had settled upon this plan to replenish his depleted funds. Officer Nelson, of the police force, became acquainted with the facts in the case and arrested the dusky disciple of Garfield, who confessed that he was guilty of the transaction, but was only "doing it out of deviltry." On the way to the guard house, seizing a favorable opportunity, the fellow broke and run, and the officer gave chase, but failed to recapture the shrewd and slippery financier. Constipation has been called the father of cisea-ses, therefore it should not be regarded as a trifling ailment. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a cos-tive habit of body prevails. Take a half table-spoonful of Simmons Liver Regulator after each meal, the bowels will be gently moved, as naturally as if no medicine had been taken. Regularity in taking the medicine daily will effect a permanent pation of the Bowels, caused by a temporary de-rangement of the liver, for the last three or four yeurs, and always, when used according to the directions, with decided benefit. I think it is a great medicine for the Derangement of the Liver; at least such has been my personal experience in the use of it. HIRAM WARNER, Chief Justice of Ga."

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING STRUP.-Rev. any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing byrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest at aight. Mest parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any considera-tion whatever.
