OUTLOOKS.

James Melding, a drummer of Galveston, was murdered by three Mexicans. Land League meetings in New York...

This far $75,000 has been subscribed to the World's Fair stock for 1883.

Shackelford's majority in Carteret is 202 and not 365 as reported before. This brings his majority down to 1,339.

The noise about contesting Garfield's seat grows less. The country wants no revolution and the South demands peace.

Senator Kernan's successor, it is thought, will be Chauncy M. Depew. He is an able lawyer and knows but little of statesmanship or even politics.

Another highway robbery in broad day and in a thoroughfare has been committed in New York. The victim was a leather importer, Harry P. Smith.

Ben Hill's followers in his effort to disrupt and destroy the grand old Democratic party are very few and not excessively confident. Ben ought to get him a drum and fife.

The Augusta Chronicle says of the dead Mrs. Drenux: "She was a very lively corpse at our Opera House some nights afterward. Miss Stuart is like the Democratic party, she does not die every time an announcement of that kind is made."

Where in Vincent, N. C.? The following is interesting if true: "Elopement has become a contagious disease in Vincent, N. C. A party consisting of four couples—all of whom had been forbidden to marry by their parents—met by appointment at a railroad station, rode to a village twenty miles away, and then stood up in a row before the clergyman."

Some of the Radical organs are now poking fun at Mr. Ben Hill and rabbing him down with a corn-cob. The Democrats everywhere despise his proposition and spit upon it. Ben Butler and Billy Mahone are in favor of a "third party." These are B. Hill's only recruits. They B's.

Is Baltimore further North than Boston? To read that model Radical sheet, the Baltimore American, when it discusses Southern questions, you would suppose it was published on the top of Mt. Washington, or perhaps just under the North Pole. It is so very frigid, so extremely Northern, and so patronizingly withal. We call a few lines here and there:

"For this reason we are not disposed to question the sincerity of the South in avowing its desire for a closer union of States.

"On the other hand, what the North most devoutly cherishes is perfect freedom of speech, press and ballot. We have had our Tweeds just as the South has had its Scotts and Pattersons—and we have turned them out on a free and fair vote of the people."

Now that is not the proper tone of a Baltimore paper. We have not yet learned that Maryland was a Northern State.

From the Raleigh News and Observer. SYNOPSIS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Fourth and Last Day's Proceedings. Several animated discussions occurred during the day. The report of Rev. C. M. Payne, agent of evangelistic labor, awakened an earnest debate.

THE MORNING STAR.

colored minister was introduced to the Synod, who made some remarks with reference to his work, and was followed by members of the Synod. An event of more than ordinary interest was the reading of a memorial of the distinguished and useful missionary, Rev. Daniel Lindley, D. D., for forty years a missionary in Africa. The Synod heard with deep attention the tributes of various brethren, and the paper was adopted by a rising vote, and the Synod was led in solemn prayer by Rev. Dr. Robert Hest Chapman.

The statistical report to the General Assembly represented that the Synod consists of 115 ministers and 227 churches, and has under its care 8 licentiates and 16 candidates. The singing of the Synod in its parting hymns was noticeable, and the voices of many Christian gentlemen joined in the magnificent doxology. Rev. Dr. Jos. R. Wilson, of Wilmington, preached at 7.30 o'clock, and notwithstanding an exceedingly inclement night, more than a hundred persons assembled for divine worship. Dr. Wilson's sermon was on the following text: "And this is the record, that God hath given us eternal life, and this life is in His Son." It was rich in thought, and the drapery of the thought was exceedingly elegant and beautiful. His rhetoric and diction are most fascinating, his manner impressive and his discussion vigorous.

Spirits Turpentine.

The Charlotte Observer's to-day on Monday. —Charlotte is in ecstasies over Gus Williams and "Our German Senator." —There were thirty deaths at Raleigh in October. Of these thirteen were white.

A young man named Taylor attempted to poison Mr. Bridgman at Aurora, a week or so ago. Taylor fed.

Elizabeth City Falcon: Once more we parade before the public the notorious facts as to the before they speak against the Republican party. It is a strange fact that Woodhouse received a majority in this Senatorial District, of 329. Dr. Eugene Morton, of Tyrrell county, is dead.

The Bakersville Voice, Republican, of the past week says: "Natt spoke here Tuesday, and told all about Democratic stealing, extravagance and malpractice. Such a revelation has never before been made in Western Carolina. Being one of them Natt knows how it is himself."

Winston Sentinel: The epizootic has made its appearance in Winston, and a strange feature of the disease is that it spreads among horses that never come in contact with animals suffering from it. Two weeks ago, one of the C. P. R. Y. V. R. R. near Summerfield, Guilford county, made their escape last week.

Rockingham Spirit: A difficulty occurred at a corn shucking, on Morris Hill, in the upper part of this county one night last week, between a white man and a negro, which, if not carefully settled, would have resulted in a riot. Y. V. R. R. near Summerfield, Guilford county, made their escape last week.

Elizabeth City Economist: It is now thought the shrill whistle of the E. C. & N. R. R. will be heard in Elizabeth City during the month of January, 1881. —The authorities of the town have ordered a vote of the citizens of Elizabeth City to be taken on the 11th of December, upon the question of issuing bonds of the corporation to the amount of $25,000 to be applied to the purchase of that amount of shares of stock in the Elizabeth City & Norfolk Railroad.

Elizabeth City Economist: Let us not forget Ransom. At the peril of his feeble health he came among us, and he has given his memory upon the hearts of Elizabeth City, as in other parts of the district, and his varied gifts as a popular speaker drew crowds and produced effects. Nor Fowler, the silver-tongued.

Durham Plant: Mr. John Knox Hughes, independent candidate for sheriff, received 907 votes more than the regular Democratic nominee. Mr. Hughes will make an excellent sheriff. —In days gone by Chapel Hill was notorious for immorality and vice. It is to-day one of the most moral and best regulated towns in our State. —The revenue collected from manufactured tobacco alone in Orange county during October amounted to $68,848.63. This tax is mainly paid by the manufacturers at Durham.

Concord Sun: It will take Zeb Vance to save the State from the Republicans four years from now. We nominate Vance for Governor next year.

being the largest in any one day. The total receipts this season, to Friday, are 88,870 bales. Up to the same date in 1879 they were 24,355 bales. This gives a handsome increase of 12,431 bales. The North Carolinian, a Republican paper published at Elizabeth City, says that Grandy will contest Latham's seat in Congress. —A Fayetteville negro was running for constable against a white man, Judge Burton. It is said, voted against the negro, and the white man was elected by one vote. —Charlotte Observer: The man Parker who was shot in Union county last week by some one hid in the bushes on his premises, was at last accounts improving, and it was hoped that he would recover. —It is said that Lincoln people are uneasy on account of a proposition to change the present line of the Chester & Lenoir Narrow Gauge Railroad by which the interests of that town will be materially affected. —The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of North Carolina met on Thursday, at St. Paul's Church, near Conover, Carolina county. —Col. Armfield's majority in the Seventh Congressional District was 1928. Judges, his opponent, carried Ashe, Davie, Wilkes and Yadkin counties, but his combined majority in these four counties was only 479. His majority in Ashe county was only five votes. Judge Seymour will hold Chambers' Court in this city on the 24th inst. Among other matters to be heard by him is a habeas corpus case, a cross suit between J. H. Maxwell and his wife, lately divorced, for the possession and custody of their children. —There were 849 bales of cotton weighed in Salisbury within the past three weeks, besides the amount stored, which is said to be considerable. —"Bring returns: $1,000 fine and six months imprisonment for failure." This little piece of information caused the registrar of Enochville township, in Rowan county, to ride 17 miles in two hours in order to be in on time. —W. H. Vanderbilt has recently presented the Episcopal church at Concord with a check for $150. The amount paid the debts of the church.

snatched from the jaws of death. A colored man, who gives his name as Jack Sweet, was picked up near the corner of Front and Queen streets, about half past 9 o'clock on Sunday night, almost in a frozen condition. He was barefooted, and what little clothing he had on his person was so torn and rent that it afforded but little protection from the terrible weather which prevailed at the time. He was placed in a cart and carried to the station house, where he will be cared for until he can be sent to the Poor House. The poor man is old and in feeble health, and would soon have been beyond all earthly help if he had not been so opportunely discovered by the police. He has relatives here, but they say they are not able to take care of him and keep him out of the Poor House.

THE CITY.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Rev. J. P. King—Wolf. J. C. MUNDY—Winter medicines. MASONIC—Wilmington Lodge No. 319. WILMINGTON DYING ESTABLISHMENT.

Local Notes. —Cotton receipts yesterday 870 bales. —The storm signal was up again yesterday.

Nothing for the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. —Rev. Dr. Teasdale was in Raleigh Saturday.

Gov. Jarvis has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation. —It is reported that there was six inches of snow at Magnolia yesterday.

A. Pope, Esq., General Passenger Agent of the Associated Railways, is in the city. —The Rev. J. P. King will discuss the question of the immortality of the soul and future punishment at the Second Baptist Church Wednesday evening.

About twenty timber rafts have already arrived here, and a large number of others are on the way, taking advantage of the freshet which set in a few days ago. —Mr. W. H. Chadbourn, Senior Warden, will deliver a lecture before Wilmington Lodge No. 319, this (Tuesday) evening, at which time all Masons in good standing are invited to be present.

"Fair and mild" was the prediction of the Almanac for yesterday. Well, if it hadn't been for the wind, and the cold, and the snow, and the rain, and the hail, perhaps we should have had it "fair and mild," and then the "Almanac" would have "hit the nail on the head" sure enough. —When we penned (or penciled) the line, "Delightful weather and lovely nights," which appeared in Sunday's paper, we had strict reference to the past and present, and not the slightest allusion to the future. We have seen better weather and lovelier nights than that which followed.

Zola's Court of Napoleon III.

"We are so badly split up in this county with independent candidates that I was fearful Shackelford would be beaten. Canada, or his friends, promised if he was elected to have a light house built at all the points of shoals in Ooar Sound, which, with the amount of money used, gave him a great advantage."

Increase in Receipts.

The cotton receipts at this port for the week ending yesterday footed up 8,073 bales, while for the corresponding week last year they only amounted to 4,480 bales, showing an increase in favor of 1860 of 3,593 bales. During the present cotton year, commencing with the 1st of September, the receipts have been 59,009 bales, against 45,130 bales for the same period last year, showing an increase in favor of 1880 of 13,879 bales.

RIVER AND MARINE.

The steamship Regulator, which went to sea Saturday morning, probably had to contend with the severe gale of that night, unless she was fortunate enough to get under the lee of Cape Lookout in time to avoid the full fury of the storm. The steamer Raleigh remained in the harbor at Smithville until the storm was over. —[At last accounts the river had fallen a little, but it is thought the rain and snow of Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night, will be likely to produce a considerable freshet.
