Judge Davis was guilty of a deliberate, malicious libel on Mr. Abram S. Hewitt. Now didn't he catch it in Mr. Hewitt's reply. It peeled off his rind in fine style. It was a hard lick. Oh, the sickening, disgusting prostitution of justice and of those who wear the ermine!

It promises to be a tight squeeze in the Tennessee Legislature. The two Democratic factions are as an tagonistic to each other as the Funders and Readjusters of Virginia. The Radicals will be apt to gain by the dissension and split and the country will be the sufferer in the Sara Bernhardt is actress, painter and sculptor. On the 14th her art treasures were exhibited at Union League Theatre, New York, eight hundred invitations having been issued. There was a great rush, and more curiosity was exhibited to see the artist than to examine her pictures and statuary.

We said some of the Radical organs were delighted at Ben Hill's letter. The Baltimore American, ginger-blue Radical, says:

"Here is one Southern leader, at least who spells nation with a big N; and although we cannot agree with him that the Republican party ought to be disbanded, his manly repudiation of the States' Rights doctrine is certainly one of the most signiticant signs of the times.'

Baltimore Sun says: "Ex-Gov. Brown was a delegate from Georgia to the Republican National Convention of 1868, which nominated Grant. He supported Grant for the Presidency, and since that time, while he has been rather out of politics, no one has seemed to know whether he was a Republican or a Democrat. He was only sworn in as a member of the United States Senate a very few weeks before the final adjournment, and in that period there were no party questions arising which made it necessary for him to show his hand."

VOL. XXVII.---NO, 48. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1880.

It is almost certain the Radicals cussions of the Synod was that will attempt to cheat the South out of. its proper representation. course they are mean enough to make the effort, and of course they will meet with very resolute resistance. The Radicals say they are determined that the present Congress shall not make the new apportionment of the House of Representatives, but it shall be deferred until they get in power. The scheme is to reduce the number of Southern Representatives in this way. We copy from the Baltimore Sun's letter: "The fourteenth amendment to the Constitution provides in terms that when the right to vote is denied to the male inhabitants of any State, 'except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear for the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State 'The claim will be made that the bu k of the colored voters in several of the States are prevented from voting, and the effort will be to reduce the representation accordingly. There is no doubt that this idea has been broached by Republicans here high in the confidence of their party, and it is to be expected that an effort will be made to carry out the idea in Con-

According to Bradstreet's there is is a surplus of 190,724,000 bushels of wheat for export. The home consumption requires 265,000,000 bushels. It thinks the general outlook favors the opinion that prices will keep up. There is a shortness of the Indian corn crop. It says there is an apparent total surplus of the world's crop of 27,250,000 only, including the very large surplus from this country, which goes into the general statement. So many countries have a surplus and so many are short, leaving a balance of but $27,250,000.

Capt. Hooper, of the Corwin, has just published his report of the five runs he made northward of Behring Straits. The Corwin was four months among the ice floes. It went as far to the northwest as Wrangell Land, and as far north as Herald Island during last summer. This steamer was sent in quest of the missing whalers and the Jeannette. The whalers are thought to have been lost, and the probability is the Jeannette met with a similar fate. The story is interesting, but far too long for our columns.

Grant is an immense beggar. He has had millions from the American people, and now the New York Times wants to get up a popular subscription for his benefit. This prompts the Richmond State to say:

"Why, we thought the Whickey Ring and Black Friday had been big bonanzas" for the 'oldest Ex,' and that he at least, was secure against fortune and poor-house fare in his old age ?"

The Mexican war soldiers make one more effort to induce Congress to pass the pension bill. It is a reproach to Northern Radicals that this has not been done before.

Gen. Garfield is flooded with letters. It takes two secretaries to answer them.

the Synod of North Carolina. Raleigh News.

This body has been in session in our city during the past week, its meeting beginning on Wednesday night, and the Synod adjourned, after the transaction of the usual business, on Saturday night. We have given daily reports of the business of the body, yet such reports are but bare statements of wuat was done. There were several discussions of unusual interest that left a profound impression on the community, making our more cultured and earnest people ponder.

Among these was the able address of Rev. Dr. Wilson, the Secretary of Foreign Missions. His venerable appearance, his manifest earnestness and zeal, his solemn and urgent statements, his past services, his tender devotion to the cause, all conspired to make his address one to be remembered, which left its impress not only on the Synod but on the community. Another notable address was that of Rev. Dr. Hepburn, President of Davidson College, on education, and chiefly on college education and the claims of Davidson College. He clearly defined the distinction between a college and a university; his exposition of what a university really is in the European view of it; his presentation of the claims and advantages of Davidson College so modestly and bravely stated; his defense of denominational schools-not to teach denominationalism but to educate and drill the mind; his plainly declared views of the use of an education and the value of the human mind to be educated, and many other points not here noted, were all well put and produced a marked effect on

evoked by the report on evangelistic work in the State, engaged in by Rev. C. M. Payne, of Wilmington; Rev. Roger Martin, of Shoe Heel; Rev. S. M. Smith, of Washington; Rev. Joseph Evans, of Robeson; and Rev. S. H. Chester, of Lowesville.

Nevada and the Chinese. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Nov. 14 1880.-At the late election in the State of Nevada the question of Chinese immigration was submitted to the voters, and from appearances those opposed to the coming of Mongolians preponderate in about the same ratio as was made apparent by the votes of California on the same question two years ago, the official returns of Storey county footing up 5,114 against and 13 in favor.

Late in the evening the dog returned home with a twig around his neck, which alarmed Mrs. Aken, who went at once in search, but without result. Search was continued until about sun-rise, when he was found dead, about half a mile from home, with his gun in his arms, and his dog lying beside him.

- The Raleigh Star makes the statement that Mr. W. J. Best no longer conceals non-ownership, and that the Richmond & Danville Railroad, i. e., the Pennsylvania Central, now comes to the front as lord paramount. The Star, in its comment, says: "Wilmington, Morehead City, and, in fact, the whole part of the State, in a great measure, east of Greens-boro, is to be sacrificed at the dictum of a foreign corporation, aided and abetted by a few interested native capitalists and politicians. As far as the promised Ducktown connection is concerned, it is folly to hope for that now. The promise was made in bad faith. The result of this great sale was planned at its inception."—Goldsboro

A Well Authenticated Case of Lon-

Old Aunt Rainey Cochran, a well known colored woman of this city, died yesterday at the corner of Second and Walnut streets, the Wilmington, Columbia & Augus | and will be buried this afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is to all appearances a wellauthenticated case of extreme longevity, several of our best citizens being conversant with the facts of her age as it has been handed down by succeeding generations. They say there is not the least doubt that she was as much as 103 years old, and the facts appear to sustain the assumption that she was even older than that. Old Billy Cochran, a son of the deceased, died in 1876 at the age of 73 years, and he was the second child by the second marriage of Rainey Cochran, who had three children by her first marriage. Assuming that she was 16 years old at her first marriage-and it is claimed that she was older-and making the proper allowances between the birth of her first and second marriage, and also for the time that has expired since old Billy Cochran died, and it will appear that she had really attained to the age that is claimed

Our Railroads.

We are glad to learn from the reports of the President and Superintendent of the Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroads, that both roads are in first-class condition, and that the rolling stock and other appurtenances are in excellent order, altogether evidencing a very gratifying state of affairs on the part of these two important lines of travel. By the way, we see that the Directors of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company have declared a dividend of 3 per cent. on the capital stock of said Company, payable on and after Tuesday next, November 23rd. - Capt. Robeson, of the steamer Wave, reports that the river had fallen off considerably from the late rise, but was swelling again when he left Fayetteville Monday, at which time there was about eight feet of
