OUTLINES.

A number of railroad magnates are it council in New York relative to establishing railway communication with Mexico; Gen. Grant presided. - A railway accident occurred in Texas by which fortytight U. S. soldiers were injured, eight seriously. - President signed the commission of Ezeklel Turner as U. S. District Judge of Western District of Texas. -Two colored murderers were executed in Washington City yesterday. - The treaty with China relative to immigration has been concluded. - A boiler exploson at Stevenson, Ala, destroyed a saw and grist mill and killed four men; four o bers were seriously injured. - Doxie's grain and provision exchange, at Chicago, failed yesterday, owing to the rapid depreciation of values; liabilities about $30,000. - Eviction of miners at Durham, England, continues with great cruelty. -An English coasting steamer foundered with the loss of twenty-seven lives. -A British steamer from New York for France foundered in the Atlantic; all hands lost. - An explosion in a coal oit in Belgium caused the loss of a number of lives. - New York markets: Money 3.26 per cent; cotton quiet and firm at 11 @111 cents; southern flour a shade stronger at $5 25@7 00; wheat 1@14 cent bet er, u igraded red $1 18@1 231; corn 1@11c better and fairly active, ungraded 57@60; surnts turpentine strong at 47c; rosin firmer at $1 80@1 85

Hancock's plurality in New York city is 41,329. Garfield's majority in the State 20,842.

There is a rumor in Washington that Gen. Miles has been appointed as Chief Signal Officer.

Thus far $13,751 has been raised by the New York Times for the great American mendicant.

Sara Bernhardt, like the greatest of French actresses, Elizabeth Felix, 15 a Jewess, and both are of France.

We are unable to give the proceedings of the Baptist State Convention as none are to hand as we expected.

A large unknown steamship has been lost with all on board, off the coast of Wales, says a cablegram of the 17th inst.

The population of the city of New York according to the revised census is 1,206,577. There are 25,000 more females. There are 727,-743 native and 478,834 foreign born.

National Associations are as common as sand-fiddlers at Smithville. The latest that met was the N. A. of Trotting Horse Breeders, and it met in New York. W. H. T. Mali, of that city, was elected President.

The Charleston News and Courier of yesterday says there is a rumored Northwestern combination to obtain an outlet to the South, Atlantic by way of Rabun Gap, and that it has a capital of sixteen million dollars.

The Tiger Democratic Club, a South Carolina association, has determined not to employ any one who voted for the Radical ticket, or to rent them land. This is all wrong, but they only follow the bad example set them by all of the Radical manufacturers in the North.

Gov. Cornell, of New York, favors the project of giving ex-Presidents of the United States seats as Senators at large in the United States Senate. He will unquestionably recommend it in his next annual message, it is reported. This is for the benefit of Grant and Hayes, a pair of noble brothers.

It is said that Grant's fortune is reduced very greatly. He has been splurging around for years and it has cost something. When he junketed at the Government's cost the pile increased, but not so now. He has lost heavily in mining speculations. His income is put down now at but $4,000 a year. He will become a pauper if left to take care of himself.

From an exceedingly well written and caustic notice of Sara Bernhardt in Forney's Progress we take the fol-

That flashy phantom is a sort of female Calvin Edson-an attenuated sorceress-a shadowy sin-a transparent torturer of the public-one of the serpentine vertebræ of humanity who are sent at intervals as if to prove what strange people come from mother nature. Sara pretends to nothing but her art.' She does not apologize for her aberrations. She lives by the license of her career, and wins because she is gracefully wanton.'

VOL. XXVII.---NO. 51. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1880.

New York's police cost the tax- | leigh & Augusta Air Line, a distance of | Theatrical. payers $4,000,000 annually. The condition of this branch of the public business is said to be bad and unsatisfactory. Read this from the New York letter in the Philadelphia Ladger of the 17th inst.:

An ex-Police Commission, thoroughly informed of the interior workings of the Department, said that "a principle of bargain and sale pervaded the administration of the whole system. 'The local political associations governed everything and dictated everything.' 'The men had to pay for their appointments'" As regards the Street Cleaning Department, "the employes were principally drones, and did not do a fair eight hours' work for their day's pay. All the Inspectors were indebted to politicians for their places."

This is the testimony of one of the outs, be it remembered.

Mr. Alex. Stephens is in Washington and talks freely, as is his wont. He does not believe there will be an extra session. He will vote to pay the marshals and their numerous deputies. Georgia has many men of superior abilities, but men of wisdom in that State are scarce. It would be difficult to find in one State three abler men than Toombs, Stephens and Hill, and it would be difficult to find three unsafer. Here is one of Mr. Stephens's recent utterances:

"The Democrats were fighting for no principle, but were making merely a grand rush for the-hog trough."

The Chicago Inter-Ocean -extreme Radical-says of the contests to come off in the Louisiana delegation to the House of Rapresentatives:

"The fraudulent count and ballot-stuffing of the Louisiana Democracy will be contested by the Republican candidates in three, and possibly four, of the Congressional Districts of that State. The result will doubtless be the exposure of more out rageous frauds, with, of course, additional chapters of Louisians lying

- Raleigh News and Observer The sale of 32,480 acres of land belonging to the United States in Western North Carolius, advertised by the Solicitor of the Treasury to take place on the 25th inst., has been indefinitely postponed. —There are only two colored State fairs in the United States. One of them is in this State, the other in Alabama. The latter opened at the fair grounds at Montgomery, to-day, and will continue five days.

- Raleigh Star: Captain White, Register of Deeds, yesterday paid to the Sheriff and County Treasurer each $225.15, taxes on marriage licenses issued from September 1, 1879, to August 31, 1880. The uumber issued was 474. Pretty good.
—At 11:30 to-day Mrs. Medora Upchurch, wife of George C. Upchurch, died at her residence, on Hargett street, after a painful illness of about ten days. Mrs. Upchurch was about thirty years of age, and leaves wo small children.

- Raleigh Star: Last evening while cars were being coupled at the Ra-leigh & Gaston depot, Mr. Joseph Green, superintendent of the shops, and Mr. George Gill were working between an engine and tender, when the engine moved back, catching them between the bumpers. Mr. Green managed to extricate himself without injury. Mr. Gill had his forearm crushed and broken and his body badly bruised. His injuries are very painful, though not considered dangerous. - The New Berne Nut Shell reports the accidental killing of a negro boy named Hudley, aged 16. It seems that he had been out hunting, and, after loading both barrels of his gun, had placed the stock on the ground and was looking around for game, when his foot, being carelessly moved about, came in contact with the trigger, causing the discharge of one load, which entered the boy's neck, severing the main arteries, and came out near the top of the head, resulting, no doubt, in immediate death. - Charlotte Press: The comparaive increase in the cotton receipts of Charotte from May to October inclusive, shows a net gain of 9,400 bales over last year. This is a gain of one-fourth. Hurrah! - Several fights have occurred this fall in the middle and ditches dug on each side, leaving a space too narrow for vehicles to pass. - The stills in Gaston, about two-thirds of which are discontinued during the summer, are being fired up for the winter. Full forty, they say, will be in operation within a week.

- Favetteville Examiner: A light snow fell at this place on Monday morning.

A cutting affair took place in this town on Monday last. A difficulty occurred between a man by the name of James Overton and Charles F. Johnson. The former was badly cut in the face and body. The wound is regarded as dangerous, and Johnson has been committed to the county jail until further developments. - At the the time of our going to press (Wednesday evening) there have been six hundred entries of various kinds in the different departments of our County Agricultural Exhibition, and it bids fair to be successful, as it usually is. Visitors are pouring in from the adjoining counties, and there is a prospect that Col. Steele will have a good audience to-morrow.

the taxes in this county exceed the consti-tutional limitation—including that for State, county, road, bridge and city? No matter what the decision of the Supreme Court may have been heretofore, the matter should go to that court again, especially in view of the proposed increase of city taxes for various schemes and projects. -There are now about twenty tobacco factories in Winston for manufacturing the leaf into chewing and smoking tobacco, and three large warehouses for the sale of the leaf. The trade in the "weed" is large and constitutes the main business of the town, though there are considerable transactions in grain, dried fruit, etc.
—Salem looks like one of the old-time landmarks, without much growth at present, except the building of a large threestory cotton factory by the Messrs. Fries, which will be completed in early spring and put in operation with 6,000 spindles. The old Salem Female Academy stands where it has stood for the past three-fourths of a century, though enlarged and improved in latter years; and the old Moravian chapel or church is there, where a horn is now blown from the top of the cupola when a citizen of the town dies, as was done many years ago. And the "Sisters House," where old, destitute females, connected with the Moravian Church, are aided to live comfortably and decently, is still a monument to Christian charity and Moravian customs, as it was one hundred

- Charlotte Observer: Oates' cotton factory will begin operations with 2,000 spindles about the first of January. All the machinery has not yet arrived - Mrs. Byerly, who was stricken with paralysis day before yesterday morning died about 10 o'clock the same night. She was in excellent health before the attack. - A man who lives up on the Western North Carolina Railroad came down yesterday and asked if it really was so that Hancock was elected. Said he hadn't heard anything late. — A gentleman who returned yesterday from the western part of the State reports that he saw no snow on the mountains, but it was certainly cold enough for it. - The bridge over the south fork of the Catawba river, on the Chester & Lenoir Narrow Gauge Railroad is about finished and trains will be running on it within the next few days. The grading is now completed from Chester to Lenoir, except that portion of the line between Newton and Hickory, and about a mile in the vicinity of Lincolnton. The road is now free from debt, having discharged the claims against it by the sale of its bonds, and, it is said, still has money to purchase iren for completing the line. A sufficient quantity was recently bought to complete the road from Dallas to within three miles of Lincolnton. -At the present term of Rutherford Court Daniel Keith, a white man, was sentenced to be hanged on the 24th of December, for one of the most revolting crimes ever committed in this section of the State. The victim whom he first assaulted and then coldly murdered was a small negro girl, twelve years old. The crime was committed in Cleaveland county, but the case was removed to Rutherford where Keith was convicted. An appeal was taken, but the decision of the lower Court was sustained, hence the necessity for a resentence. During the interval Keith has remained in jail at Shelby, and has conducted himself in a manner which shows him to be a perfectly reckless being. Latterly he has been engaged in writing a confession of the crime for which he was convicted, and the story of other crimes he has committed.

During the war he spent most of his time in Bladen, but after the war he removed to Brunswick, where he married, and where he resided until about a year ago, when he returned to Wilmington, where he resumed the business of timber inspection, which he continued up to the time he was seized with the fatal disorder which terminated his life. He enjoyed the reputation of being an honest, upright man, and had attained to the age of about 58

The theatrical season in Wilmington bids fair to be rather dull. At the opening we had a promise of quite a number of troupes, mostly above the average in point of talent and respectability, but so many - Charlotte Democrat: Do not have found it necessary from one cause or another to cancel their dates that it now begins to look as if we may be "left out in the cold." It is possible, however, that we may yet have Mrs. Alice Oates, who used to be a favorite here, as it is understood that she will soon appear at the head of a new comic opera company, which style of performance is entirely suited to her training and capacity.

The following explanation of the step taken by her in New Orleans, given in the shape of a circular, may be of interest to our play-goers:

"New Orleans, November 13, 1880.— To the Managers and Proprietors of Theatres throughout the country: On the - day of June, 1880, in New York, I signed a contract of partnership with Mr. C. R. Gardiner, in which, among other points, he obligated to have written for me a musical comedy, in which I was to have a part commensurate with my style, ability and professional standing. After ten weeks of trial I have been forced to the conclusion that the piece known as 'Long Branch,' furnished me by Mr. Gardiner, does not possess one of the requisites Mr. Gardiner obligated himself to observe. To continue with the piece would be ruinous to me, professionally and financially. I cease the peformance of 'Long Branch' Saturday, November 13th. No one can regret this step more than myself. During my professional career I have never failed to keep my dates or other obligations. I give this notification in time, so that the dates made by you for me, with Mr. Gardiner, may be filled by some other attraction.'

- A gentleman of this city, who served in the navy of the Confederate States during the "late unpleasantness," gives us some additional facts in reference to the Steamship Gulf Stream, some reference to which was made in our last, and at the same time corrects us in one particular of our brief statement yesterday morning. He says the steamer, then known as the North Carolina, happened here at the opening of the war, not having been built as a blockade runner, and was loaded with spirits turpentine and rosin and sent to Liverpool, where she was consigned to Frazier, Trenholm & Co., at the same time taking out the officers ordered to join the Confederate privateer Alabama, which was then being built. The steamer was rechristened the Anna Childs, and under that name she was subsequently captured, and afterwards was enlarged and improved and given the name of Gulf Stream
