Dr. Worth, for State Treasurers received 1,336 more votes than Gov. Jarvis received.

Good for Garfield. It is asserted as a fact that he has promised no man an office thus far.

Georgia will be another item in the argument for the abolition of the electoral system.

Send the "silent man" to the Senate, and then the country will understand how very little he knows. He will vote.

The Washington Post says the Republicans will have a majority of 13 in organizing the next House. This includes 6 Greenbackers and Independents who will vote with

"Bildad," of the Richmond State, is back again at his Washington post as correspondent of that excellent Virginia daily. "Bil," bedad if wedon't wish you a long life and plenty of news.

May Providence deliver us! Roscoe Conkling is beginning to speak flatteringly of the South-to fawn upon it, so to speak. We prefer his lies and his spites. In the latter he is honest.

It is announced that Martin F. Tupper is still live and kicking. He is the platitudinous scribbler of forty years ago, whose "Proverbial Philosophy" did not contain but one line of poetry. He is still Tupperizing now and then.

Henry Bergh can break up a meeting sooner than any other known philanthropist. His productions are such bores the crowd disperses. He broke up two gatherings recently in this way. He ought to be indicted for cruelty to animals.

Col. Robert G. Ingersoll says that Sepator Hill's proposition to kill the Demo-cratic party, provided the Republicans will kill their party, is much like the proposal of the rooster to the horse—that they should not step on each other's feet. — Exchange.

This is smart, but it is not happy. Garfield out of over nine million voters gets a majority of contemptible three thousand. There is no horse or rooster there. They are very nearly of the same size. The only "rooster" we see about it is that Garfield's chicken was allowed to crow a "very leetle," whilst the Democratic horse was within a throatstrap of victory. It was Radical "fowl" riding that did the business.

An anti-duelling bill of a very stringent kind has been introduced into the South Carolina Legislature by Col. Edward McGraw. It will not pass, we apprehend, and if it became a law it would not be enforced unless public sentiment is educated in that direction first. We find the following given as its provisions: "It provides the death penalty for any person who shall kill another in a duel, or shall inflict a wound from which any person shall die within the space of six months from such wounding. Another section provides that whoever shall carry a challenge to fight a duel, or to be present at a duel, shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary for two years, and fined, the amount of the fine to be fixed by the L-gislature."

Goldsboro Messenger: We are indebted to Rev. J. T. Bagwell for the following interesting information concerning the Goldsboro : Methodist Chuich : During Grimes, at Bear Creek, on Saturday the year 34 members have been added to the church; during the past four years 166 have been added. — We were pleased to receive a call from Col. W. K. Pigford, President of the Sampson county Agricultural Society, yesterday. Col. Pigford feels hopeful of a successful Fair, and says Gen. Hampton is certainly expected.

- Raleigh News-Observer: We earn that parties other than the Raleigh & Gaston road yesterday made a proposition to the Directors of the Oxford & Henderson road for its purchase, and that the proposition was accepted, and the property - The, mails are working badly We don't gain anything by the "fast' service. We have failed for several nights to get Baltimore and Washington papers. - The Catholic fair is a very attractive place to visit. We are glad to know that despite the bad weather it is successful.

- Weldon News: Capt. A. Lynch, formerly conductor on one of the through freight trains of the Wilmington road, has been promoted, and will in future run a passenger train. - Mr. Morris, whose iven name we could not learn, engineer at H. M. Paschall's steam cotton gin on the Roanoke river, near Warrenton depot, accidentally shot himself Tuesday. He was floating down the river in a boat with some cotton, his gun lying on a bale. The bostman told him to take his gun away or a brush might drag it off. He took up the gun and by some accident the load was discharged, making an ugly wound four inches long in Morris' arm, tearing away the flesh.

- Oxford Torchlight: Our country friends report the roads in a fearful condition, and, in some places impassable. - At an early day in December, there will be issued by the Publishers, Messrs. W. A. Davis & Co., a Guide Book on the cultivation, curing and handling, of yellow tobacco. It is the aim of the publishers to make this in every respect a farmer's Text Book, and they have placed the possession of it within the reach of every one by charging only fifty cents for a copy. The book will cotain 200 pages, and the printing is done in first-class style. All persons desiring to gain all possible information on tobacco, should be in time and send in fifty cents to W. A. Davis & Co., Oxford, N. C.

- Raleigh Visitor: We hope our friends throughout the State will send in their names as fast as possible for our weekly edition, which will appear the first Wednesday in January next. It will be a twenty four column paper. —We are glad to learn that Mr. Joseph B. Batchelor, Jr., of this city, has received his commission as Lieutenant of Infantry in the United States Army. He has been assigned to the 24th Infantry. —A prominent man of this city took it into his head that to eat a horse was a big thing and the more be thought of it the more determined he became to lo it. Four weeks ago he come menced the task and ended yesterday, making just one hundred meals, and is still living, fat and healthy, and says he will eat a mule next. - Fayetteville Examiner: The STAR ought to recollect that the upper Cape Fear "is moving in that direction." We have a tobacco factory in Fayetteville, of which the proprietors are Messrs. Huske & Whitted, who make good qualities of chewing tobacco, and a very fine article of smoking tobacco. - One of the pleasant est features and most beautiful sights connected with the Fair was the attendance of the Graded School on Friday, to the number of three or four hundred pupils. They ranged from beautiful young ladies of sixteen or eighteen years of age, ugly but stalwart young men of about thr same age, down through the intermediate stages, to little toddling boys and maidens—all with beautiful banners and devices, marching in procession; a fair happy throng. - Charlotte Observer: The Raleigh News-Observer says that on last Saturday the Rockingham, Mocksville & Western Railroad Company was chartered at Raleigh under the general Railroad law of the State and all the necessary papers filed in the office of the Secretary of State, as prescribed by law. The road is to extend from the State line, near Danville, through Leaksville, Mocksville and Statesville, The road will be built to Madison immediately. Major Nicholls, of New York, the engineer in charge, will commence the survey in a few days. —The fast mail doesn't bring us any nearer Raleigh. We are as far away from our State capital as from those of Virginia and Georgia. Perhaps the only editor of a secular newspaper who is a delegate to the North Carolina Conference, is from Charlotte, and he is stopping at a hotel and paying his own bills. — Charlotte is now nine hours from Richmond, Atlanta, Augusta and Raleigh, and will soon be only nine hours from Wilmington. — The total of the bullion assays at the Charlotte Branch Mint for November is $7,698 17. number of persons in and around Charlotte have secured from the State Superintendent of Fish and Fisheries the promise of a lot of German carp. - Asheville News: Notwithstand. ing the assertion that the building of the Western North Carolina Railroad is "being pushed with energy," we still say that the Ducktown branch will not be built by the present management. By the terms of the sale to the Best Syndicate the road is to be completed to l'aint Rock by the 1st of July, 1881, and an equal amount of work is to be done on the Ducktown branch. Up to this Under this question all the regular time only two miles of road has been completed by Best & Co., and on that two miles a greater part of the grading had been done. The road is not completed to the Asheville depot but stops at the Swannanoa depot, two miles from the contemplated lotte and Fayetteville Districts were site of the Asheville depot. A gentleman called, and all the members thereon who lives on the Ducktown branch told us the other day that the hands had been taken off that portion of the road, but for what purpose he did not know. -Chapel Hill letter: The State Experiment Station is again in full operation. Dr. Dabney, the newly appointed Director, has assumed the duties of his position, and Chief Assistant Phillips is at his post. The corps of workers for this year is as follows: Director, Charles W. Dabney, Ph. D.; Assistant Chemists, W. B. Phillips, Ph. B., and James C. Taylor, B. S.; Stenographer, A. D. Mickle. Although extensively advertised I doubt if many people of the State a nest little daily during the session of the understand or appreciate this branch of the Department of Agriculture. Criminal Court. The following cases were disposed of by this tribunal yesterday: State vs. J. H. Hanson, charged with false pretense. Defendant found guilty. State vs. Allen Armstrong, charged with larceny. Defendant found guilty and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. State vs. George Myers, charged with burglary. Nol. pros. with leave.

State vs. J. T. Pacetly, charged with false pretense. Nol. pros. with leave. State vs. Wm. P. Myers, charged with larcenv. Nol. pros. with leave.

Several other cases of minor importance were disposed of. In the case of Mary Ann Davis, mentioned in our last, the jury found her not guilty of the offence wherewith she was charged. In yesterday's paper, through an inadvertance, she was incorrectly reported as having been found guilty of using profane and obscene language on the street.

Magistrate's Court. William Phinney and Richard Stowe both colored, were arraigned before Justice Millis, yesterday morning, on the charge of having been engaged in an affray. The investigation resulted in a fine of $5 and the costs being imposed upon Phinney, while Stowe was let off on the payment of costs. Upon failure to pay the fine and and committed to jail.

York Elkins, colored, living on the corner of Second and Marsteller streets, says he heard a noise which he could not account for around his house about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and seizing a loaded gun he went out to see what it meant, but could discover nobody or anything out of the way. About half past 2 o'clock he was aroused by cries and shouts, and the startling information from his wife, who was awake before him, that the house was on fire. To all appearances, when he first opened his eyes, the building was in flames. His wife was so badly frightened that she seized her child and sprang through one of the windows with it. Elkins made his way through the dense smoke to the back door, where, the flames having in the meantime been extinguished through the efforts of his neighbors, he found that a fraction of weather-boarding had been torn off above the door and a piece of old carpeting, saturated with spirits turpentine, forced in through the cavity and fire set to it. He then went into the kitchen, which adjoins the house, and found that full of smoke also, which he discovered proceeded from a ball of cotton which had been saturated with spirits turpentine and forced through a hole made in the side of the house and thence dropped in between the weatherboarding and ceiling, which in the kitchen reached only about breast high. Fortunately no great damage ensued, but the affair evidenced a very determined effort on the part of the incendiary to destroy the building, with, perhaps, its inmates, which might have been the case but for the prompt discovery of the fire by the
