VOL. XXVII.---NO, 84.

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1880.

reorganized. At a mass meeting held at Cooper Institute on Tuesday night this was accomplished. Franklin Edsen presided. Among the Vice Presidents were David M. Stone, editor Journal of Commerce; C. A. Dana, editor Sun; W. H. Hurlbut, editor World; Erastus Brooks, editor Express; Wm. A. Beach, Wm. H. Appleton, Pierre Lorillard, Abram S. Hewitt, Daniel F. Tieman, Charles S. Fairchild, Simon Sterne, Wm. C. Whitney and Robert B. Roosevelt. Mr. Hewitt was one of the main speakers. Among other things he is reported as saying:

"Neither Garfield nor Hancock had obtained a majority of the popular vote at the ate election, and he laid the Democratic defeat to the schism in the New York city Democracy. Eleven thousand votes in this city would have changed the result in the city, State and United States, and had the city Democracy been united more than the needed votes would have been obtained. He repudiated Tammany Hall, and did not accept Irving Hall, but argued that a new Democratic organization should be formed out of the best elements of those factions and of those who held aloof from both.

It is said Senator David Davis wishes to resign his Senatorship and be appointed on the Supreme Court Bench. We hope this will not be done. He resigned his Judgeship at a most inopportune time. If he had been on the Electoral Commission, as he would have been, probably, if he had not left the Bench, Hayes would not have been counted in by fraud. Now his vote is necessary in the Senate to checkmate Radical plans of mischief, and he wishes to resign again. To get him out of the Senate would be just what the Resorate turpentine quiet at 451@451 cents; publicans would like, and we have no doubt he will be returned to the Supreme Beach if he will signify his assent or desire.

> It is a little curious that John Sherman prefers a Sanatorship to being Secretary of the Treasury, and that Senator Blaine prefers a Secretaryship to being a Sepator, if it be true that he will have a place in the new Cabinet. The Richmond Dispatch does not believe it will be the Secretary of Stateship, as reported, because he is not a lawyer. It says:

"No other Cabinet officer has so much valuable patronage at his command as the Secretary of the Tressury; and it see as to be understood that Mr. Blaine is : have that office. We suppose that is perhaps the only one which he would accept. He is not a lawyer by profession, and there-fore is hardly equal to the duties of the office of Secretary of State."

The STAR noted promptly the cool courage of Engineer Wisenbury, who stood bravely at his post of great danger and trial. His conduct is attracting attention beyond the State. The Baltimore Gazette nays:

"He appears to have fully realized his danger, and yet he coolly remained at his post and did all in his power to avert the salamity. Such an act deserves more than simple words of praise, and we trust that this brave man will receive some more substantial recognition of his heroism."

He ought to be presented by his company with a testimonial of at least $5,000. What is that sum to a prosperous railroad anyway?

The New York dry goods market is thus epitomized in a letter of the

"The dry goods market remains quiet and steady. Cottons dull and firm. Shirting prints are in fair demand for future delivery, and agents are receiving liberal orders for dress ginghams, piques, and low grade printed lawns. Men's wear woollens quiet, but prices well maintained. Gauze underwear is in fair demand at first hands."

Dr. Schaff met with a very cordial reception in Richmond and Petersburg. He preached and lectured three times in the former city to large audiences although the weather has been failed. - Mt. Airy News: The News will not observe the old custom of "no paper next week," but will appear as usual on Friday next. - The Wilmington STAR has been received. We now feel at home. It is as hard for us to do without the STAR as it is to issue the News without paper.

New Berne Nut Shell: Officer Mc-Greggor, in effecting the capture of Israel Jones (the colored burglar who broke into the store of Mr. W. F. Rountree on the night of Dec. 22nd, and in endeavoring to make his escape tried to murder the faithful officer with a meat knife,) has done the citizens of New Berne a great service. From information furnished us by a reliable party, we have no doubt Jones was implicated more or less in all the robberies that have occurred here for several years.

- Mr. Hiram Morrison, a native of Iredell county, was murdered in Mexico. The Statesville Landmark says: "A few weeks ago, according to the letter which we have mentioned, the store of which he was the proprietor and in which he slept, was one night burned down and in the ruins the next morning, was found the body of Mr. Morrison. Nothing positive is known to confirm the theory, but there is a suspicion that Mr. Morrison was robbed and murdered and the building then fired to conceal the evidences of guilt.

- Statesville Landmark: It is not generally known that there is an agricultural association in the northern portion of this county (Eagle Mills township,) with some members in Yadkin and Davie counties, as well as in Iredell. - We learn that a strong English company has taken hold of the Peach Bottom Copper Mines, in Alleghany county, and will go to work at once on a large scale. It is stated that a large vein of the best of ore has already been struck. - Typhoid fever of a very virulent type is raging in Alexander county, along the line of the river, with particularly fatal results in Wittenberg Wilnin three have died in one family—that of Mr. Cephas Bauman-Mr. Bauman himself, his wife and two children. His wife's grand-mother, Mrs. Mollie Fry, an old lady 80 years of age, has also died, and two other children of the family are yet ill of the fever. It is of the same character as the disease which a few months ago swept away the Downs family, of Caldwell county, and is believed by the people to be contagious. A cotton factory has been built and will soon be in operation at Sulphur Springs, Alexander county. The projectors of the enterprise are Capt. James L. Davis and his sons and W. A. Pool, Esq., clerk of the court, and it will be operated under the

ing Company. It will be run by water power and the factory will commence with 500 or 600 spindles. - Raleigh Star: The State Prohibition Convention meets in this city January 12th, 1880. - Eggs reached the unprecedented price of 75 cents on Saturday. -We were too fast in stating we had secured the fast mail. It came once only, but that once was sufficient to convince the people that a fast mail for Raleigh is possible. - The Fayetteville Graded School now has 350 pupils and nine teachers. More than 100 of the pupils are taught the Latin language, while 30 receive instructions in Greek, Algebra and Geometry. - Several fights took place on Christmas day, the most serious one occurring at the North Carolina depot. Two drunken colored men attacked a drunken white man and were giving him "jessey," when a Mr. Bunch, with a big club, commenced playing a holiday air upon the craniums of the blacks, which caused them to retreat hastily. - It is conceded by all who witnessed it that the Christmas tree (or grove) of the Salisbury Street Baptist Church, at Tucker Hall, on Christmas Eve, was the grandest thing of the kind ever seen in the city of Raleigh. To give a faint idea of the magnitude of the affair we state that the trees and trailing vines were hung with 2,500 cornucopias filled with candy, 700 Florida oranges, 2,000 apples, small bags containing in all a barrel of chesnuts, candy packages to the amount of 800 pounds, and a great many other pretty and useful things. The "substantial" feature of the picture was the 500 sacks of flour and meal sitting under the trees, contributed by the mem-

Cold Weather. The weather yesterday and the night previous was the coldest experienced here in several years. Yesterday morning at 8 o'clock the thermometer at this office indicated 12 degrees above zero. Ice formed in rooms, and was plentiful in the streets, and in the ponds and branches in the neighborhood of the city. By to-day, if the cold weather continues unabated, skating will no doubt be in order, if some of it has not been done already. Police News. A white tramp, who gives his name as William Young, was arrested yesterday afternoon for acting very disorderly on the public streets, being intoxicated. Joseph Baker, alias Edwin Edmondson, a seaman, was arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct and consigned to the

EXTENSIVE STEALING.

A Safe Hobber Taken in the Act-How He Carried on His Thieving Operations-The Trap Set for Him. A colored boy named George Williams.

some sixteen or seventeen years of age, was arrested yesterday morning, charged with the larceny of money from Mr. Daniel O'Connor. It seems that Williams had been retained about the office by Mr. O'Connor for upwards of two years, being employed to do such edd jobs as sweeping out, building fires, bringing water and attending to the horse. He and his family had the utmost confidence in the boy, and he was frequently left in charge of the house. Latterly Mr. O. has been missing small articles, such as studs, cuff-pins, etc., and later still he began to miss money from his safe. He has two safes in his office, one being on the combination order and the other one of the kind operated with a key. There were two keys to this safe, and it appears that Williams got possession of one of them about the time that Mr. O'Conner moved to his present office, and during that time has been in the habit of taking money in smaller or larger quantities from the safe. Mr. O'Connor missed the money, and was in a quandary as to what had become of the safe key, as well as other keys belonging on the premises, but so great was his confidence in Williams that he had not had the least suspicion of his being concerned in the matter. He first began to suspect him about seven days ago, when he began te set traps for him, which were so far successful that he was convinced three or four days ago that George was the guilty party. One of the plans he adopted to make sure of the thief was to mark pieces of silver left in the safe, which would disappear, and a day or two ago Williams actually took one of the marked pieces-s trade dollar-to Mr. O'Connor to get it changed. He had also noticed that Williams had been spending money pretty freely in hiring vehicles, and on Christmas day he sported a double team, being at the same time dressed out in fine clothing. Upon being questioned by Mr. O'Connor as to how he could afford such extravagancies, he replied that he was in the habit of doing some odd jobs for the keeper of the livery stable, and he let him have the teams free of charge. The livery stable man was consulted, and informed Mr. O. that Wil-

Wednesday morning last two dellars with private marks upon them were taken from the safe, and a pressure was brought to bear upon Mr. O. to have Williams arrested at once, but that gentleman decided that he would try one more experiment to make assurance doubly sure that Williams was indeed the thief. He got an auger and bored a hole through the ceiling immediately above the safe, through which any one might be observed who attempted to open the same. This was on Wednesday night, and early yesterday morning Mr. O'Connor's clerk, who was stationed at the hole, saw Williams come in at the front door, proceed to the safe, open it, and take something from it. The clerk immediately notified Mr. O'Connor, and measures were at once taken for his arrest, when the sum of $1.75 in marked silver, which Mr.

liams always paid for his teams like other

O'Connor had previously placed in the safe, was found on his person. After his arrest Williams confessed to the whole transaction, stating, however, that he had never taken more thangfive dollars at any one time. He had duplicate keys to every door in the office, and also had one to the inside vault of the combination safe so that in case, by any accident or neglect the outside door should be left unfastened, he could easily effect an opening of the vault. He was found to be possessed of quite an extensive and valuable wardrobe, and had, in fact, been literally "living in clover" for some time past at Mr. O'Con-

Mayor's Court. John Davis alias Tucker Townsend, the colored boy who was arrested Wednesday afternoon on the charge of stealing a sail cloth from the flat of one Joe Johnson, was arraigned before Mayor Fishblate, and, at the conclusion of the examination, he was ordered to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was committed to fail.

Jerre M. Johnson, a very small colored boy, arrested for stealing pocket flasks from Capt. Boatwright's store, on Front street, at about 71 o'clock Wednesday evening, was ordered to be locked up until further orders.

Charlotte Sidbury, colored, charged with arceny, was next called, but her case was continued to some future day.

Accident to a Sallor.

A sailor belonging on the schooner Jesse Elizabeth, loading on the west side of the river, met with quite a serious accident yesterday morning, about 9 o'clock. It appears that he was passing a hatchway when he was struck by a barrel of rosin which was being hoisted into the vessel and knocked down into the hold, a distance of some eight or ten feet, falling across a barrel of rosin and breaking the thigh of one leg and dislocating the knee pan of the other. The poor fellow had prompt media cal attention, and was subsequently sent to the Marine Hospital.
