A great murder trial has just come off at Maryville, Missouri. Two boys, Albert P. and Charles E. Talbott, were tried, and convicted for assassinating their father September last. They were sentenced to be hanged on March 25, 1881. They both deny their guilt. The trial created the greatest interest, and the scene in court when they were sentenced is described as heartrending. Women shricked and strong men wept.

The traite over Muddy Perk, two miles beyond, is undergoing repairs. Squire Hilton was in town yesterday, and described the accident to the boy Crowell at his mill Friday. The boy had climbed up to pr' the belt on the pulley that runs a grindstope. He succeeded but his sim was caught. The pulley was revolving at the rate of 140 revolutions per minute. The boy was drawn upon the shafting, but at the first revolution was thrown at full length, his arm still held by the belt. He was whirled around two or three times with such force as to break off a scaptling four inches square which was within reach of his body, and was nailed with forty penny nails to the timbers of the mill. The belt broke finally and the boy fell, but picked himself up and walked some steps away, leaving his hand, with on the floor. He was bruised all over, his arm broken above the elbow, the bone of the arm bent, and his collar-bone also broken.

Mrs. Jane Price, who deals in second hand clothing on Fifth, between Walnut and Red Cross streets, made complaint to the Chief of Police, yesterday morning, to the effect that a colored man came to her place Monday night with a piece of paper purporting to be an order from a certain gentleman for a cost and a pair of pants. valued at $5. The piece of paper, which was exhibited to Chief Brock, contained a lot of hieroglyphics which were not transintable, and it seems Mrs. Price contented herself with the man's explanation of the alleged order. She could not tell the man's name, nor give a sufficient description of his personal appearance to lead to his idenification. It is needless to say that the or-

A RARE BARGAIN.-A well established and

The fire which occurred last night about 10 o'clock, in the mortheestern part of the city, originated in a small one-story dwelling, corner of Eighth and Harnett streets, owned by a colored man by the name of Philip Newman, and occupied by Mr. F. P. Booschee. The building was entirely destroyed. Mr. Booschee managed with great difficulty to save the furniture of his bed-room, but the rest of his household effects, upon which there was no insurance, were consumed with the building. Mr. Boosches states that when he was aroused the fire was in an unused closet on a back plazza, and it was inferred from this fact that it was of incendiary origin.

A small house on Eighth street adjoining, also owned by Newman, and occupied by colored people, was consumed, but most of the furniture was saved. A house on Harnett street also took fire and was pretty badly injured by attempts to pull it down. The fire was well under way before the alarm was sounded, and although the fire companies were prompt in responding thereto, they could do little beyond saving the adjoining property from destruction. Mardi Gras.

In accordance with a proclamation by order of the King of the Carnival, dated "Department Lord High Chamberlain, New Orleans, January 22, 1881," and addressed "To His Majesty's Loving and Loyal Subject, Captain Washington Irving Hodgson," the latter functionary gives notice, and requests the newspapers throughout the country to mention the fact that, as the "Chief of the Accommodation Bureau," he will see to it that all who go to witness the brilliant Carnival festivities or Mardi Gras will be comfortably entertained. Parties abroad, expecting to visit New Orleans during the Carnival, desiring the Bureau to arrange for their accommodation, should apply at once, giving day of their expected arrival, how many in party; number of ladies, gentlemen and children, and how long they intend to remain.

Theatre, New York, on Friday, 11th inst., promises to be a grand affair. Here is the programme: "Salvini, in the second act of 'David Oarrick,' Clars Morris in the sleep walking scene from 'Macbeth;' John T. Raymond and Kitty Blanchard (Mrs. McKee Rankin) to the farce of 'Betay Baker,' Agnes Ro- bertane (Mrs. Bouciesuli), with Charles Wheatleigh and William Elton, in the third act of 'Collann Baws,' McKee Rankin in the second act of 'Still Waters Run Deep;' Kate Field is her 'Silent Long,' Rose Ey- tings and Staddard in the second act of 'Bose Michel' (profishly); Rose Coghian, John Gilbert, Ownand Tearle and Mr. Conway in the Screen Scene in the 'School for Scandal;' Professor Locks Richardsor	- Some months ago we referred to a peculiar formation which had been found is a well which was being dug upon the premises of A. C. Sharpe, Esq., four and a half miles from Statesville, on the Taylorsville road. The rock which was en- countered by the blasters was known to possess some ubusual qualities, and upon a late examination of some of that taken from a depth of about 30 feet, Prof. W. E. Hidden, the mineralogist and collector who has been operating for the past six months in the vicinity of Stony Point, Alexander county, discovered in it the presence of an unusually fine quality of sunstone, an aven- taring variety of oligoclass. This sunstone Prof. Hidden describes as being as beauti- ful as any he has seed from an American locality, but it has as yet been found in too areal near the best as gente. States.
