CITY NEWS.

THE MORNING STAR can always be had at the following places in the city: The Purcell House, Harris' News Stand, and the Star Office.

A RARE BARGAIN.—A well established and prosperous Weekly Newspaper, located in a thriving growing town on the line of a prominent Railroad, is offered for sale.

TWO ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly, and you will remove all the most common troubles of the human system.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that his wife's soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child.

TO ALL OUR FRIENDS.—Having had numerous inquiries for advertising cards from ladies in all parts of the country who are interested in the prevailing fashion of making "card collections," we have prepared for them a set of seven beautiful cards, each in six colors and on a solid background, in the highest degree of art, illustrating the "Maiden's Progress of Love."

THE CITY.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. MUNSON—At cost. HEINBERGER—Valentines. J. C. MUNSON—Cologne, &c. LOST—Gold watch and chain. MR. FANNING'S new dancing classes.

Local Notes. — Receipts of cotton yesterday 807 bales. — Storm signal was flying again yesterday. — The Board of Aldermen meets Monday evening. — No cases for the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. — We hear of several cases of scarlet fever in this city.

— Mr. J. E. Duke will remain head clerk at the Purcell House under the new management. — A flag-stone crossing is being placed at the northern intersection of Market and Third streets. — Mr. B. G. Berger, advanced agent of the Berger Family, registered at the Purcell House last night. — Some thief broke into the show windows of Mr. Hahn's store some time during Wednesday night and stole articles to the value of $30. No clue. — The weather yesterday was almost warm enough for summer. At 12 M. the thermometer at the Star office registered 71 degrees in the shade and in the open air. — The only foreign shipment yesterday was the brig Mary E. Pennell, for Aspinwall, New Grenada, by Messrs. Parsley & Wiggins, with 210,575 feet of lumber. — The tramp crop in this particular section is very promising just now. Some eight or nine sought shelter from the inclement weather at the station house Wednesday night. — Mr. E. S. Davidson, advance agent for Miss Calhoun and Ford's Dramatic Company, arrived last night. Wednesday and Thursday next are the dates fixed upon for their appearance in this city. — Two gold sleeve buttons, one gold stud and part of a watch chain, were picked up in the vicinity of the New Hanover Bank by a colored boy, handed to a policeman, and are now awaiting a claimant at the City Hall. — It is now said that Oliver Hargett, the Pender county burglar, awaiting the execution of the death sentence in jail at Kenansville, Duplin county, where his trial was removed, will have his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life. — A joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Produce Exchange will be held to-day at noon to further consider what is known as the Reagan bill, now before Congress, having reference to the subject of later-State Commerce. — Three fire buckets were jolted from the truck of the C. M. Stedman Fire Company No. 1, on Tuesday morning last, on the route to the fire, and two of them are still missing. The party or parties having them in possession should leave them at the City Hall. — The rumor of the drowning of a colored washer-woman a night or two since, while on her way to a vessel on the west side of the river, which was in circulation on the wharf yesterday, proved to be incorrect—that is, if we can take the woman's own word for it. — Messrs. J. L. Dudley, H. C. Prempert, W. H. Gerkin and John Hagar, Jr., all of this city, were appointed a committee on constitution for subordinate lodges, at the late session of the Grand Lodge K. of P., at Goldsboro; to submit their report at the next session. — Cruelty to Animals Again: We intended to say in our last that the Legislature had already passed a bill to prevent cruelty to animals, and as we desire to call the particular attention of those interested to its provisions, we again state that the bill, which is now a law, provides that "every person who shall by his act or neglect maliciously maim, wound, injure, torture or cruelly beat any horse, male or ox, cattle, sheep or any other animal, shall, upon conviction, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for thirty days."

Monthly Mortuary Report. From Dr. J. C. Walker, Superintendent of Health, we have the following statement of the number of deaths occurring in this city for the month of January: Whites—3 males and 6 females; 5 adults and 3 children. Total 8. Colored—7 males and 12 females; 12 adults and 7 children. Total 19.

Mr. Smodes, to amend the law with regard to the removal of causes from justices of the peace. Judiciary committee.

Mr. McCauley, to secure the payment of rents. Committee on agriculture.

A message was received from the Governor in regard to the Confederate dead at Winchester and Shepherdstown, and, on motion of Mr. Rowland, it was ordered to be sent to the Senate, with a request to print.

The Senate bill to repeal section 1, chapter 158, of the laws of 1874-75, requiring 30 days notice before a law can be passed with regard to local prohibition, was, on motion of Mr. Gwynn, put on its second and third readings and passed.

Clubbed to Death. Special telegram to the Dispatch. CHATHAM, Va., February 8.—On Saturday last, at a warrant-trying at Museville, in this county, an infuriated negro, named Dock Wright, clubbed J. O. Arthur to death, broke W. A. Museville's arm, and cut Kendrick's hand, who tried to stop him. It required ten armed men to arrest and bring him to jail, threats being made by the order of "True Friends," of which he was a member, to rescue him on the way.

— It is extremely gratifying to notice that "the beautiful and accomplished" are still to be found in the newspapers. — Carthage Gazette: The residence of Mr. E. Q. Seawell, of this county, was burned some two or three weeks since, the fire catching first in the kitchen at some distance from the fire-place. — Superintendent Scarborough wants the same school books for all North Carolina. We hope the Legislature will not tolerate or authorize any such system. The only good will be to some big book publisher. — Hon. W. M. Robbins, in a public speech in Stateville, took the ground that the Legislature should not pass an absolute prohibitory liquor law, but should submit the question to the people to say whether or not they want it. — Mr. J. H. Myrover has begun the publication of a weekly paper at Carthage with the name The Moore Gazette. Mr. M. has talents, experience and industry and is well qualified to give the people of that section a good paper. — Tarboro Southern: We coincide in the views of the Raleigh News-Observer that the public printer ought to be paid a reasonable price for the printing. Stop increasing salaries and clerkships for State officers and pay the printer a living price at an early day. — Lumberton Robesonian: We have just learned that Rev. A. McQueen was attacked by apoplexy or something similar, and fell while preaching at Bethel. We have heard nothing further from him. — The Town of Bethel: A man residing about ten miles from Shoe Hill in this county, was robbed and burned on the night of the 1st inst.; loss about $500. — Raleigh Farmer & Mechanic: It is an open secret, we believe, that Mr. Theodore H. Hill, stands sponsor to Col. W. A. Scales' witty oration to Judge Simmons' in re Vanderbilt. "The Poet's tribute to the millionaire." (Judge S. is about 54 years of age. He is the son of one of the best men Halifax county ever had, the venerable James Simmons, ex-sheriff of the county, and some 84 years of age.—STAR.) — Charlotte Observer: Charley Allen is a negro butcher and works with J. W. Adams. Marshall Shepard is a College street shoemaker. These two negroes were playing bagatelle in Snyder's bar room yesterday evening about dark. A dispute occurred over the counting of the game and Allen cut Shepard in three places—on the forehead just above the temple, over the rear of the left shoulder and across the fingers of the hand. None of the wounds are serious. — Goldsboro Messenger: Mr. Reed Smith was robbed on the road between Magnolia and Kenansville Saturday evening of $100 in money. Two negroes were arrested on suspicion of having committed the robbery. — The Literary Society of Salem High School, at Huntley's, in Sampson county, will celebrate the sixth anniversary of the 24th of February. There will be speeches and essays by some of the members of the society. Judge A. A. McKoy has been invited to address the society at that time. The early preparation is being made for the celebration, and the recent cold spell. Some of our truckers are plowing up their seed. — Raleigh News-Observer: A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at the Mayor's office last evening, in opposition to the project of the formation of the new county of Durham. — Prof. W. C. Kerr, State Geologist, will, to-morrow evening, deliver a lecture at Commons Hall on the "Mineral Wealth of North Carolina." The lecture will be delivered under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture. It will be full of valuable information, for no man is better acquainted with the sub-ject than the professor. More than 100 members in Congress to use their influence to have the beacon light at Cape Hatteras re-established. [This ought to be done. It ought never to have been removed.—STAR.] — Raleigh Farmer & Mechanic: Col. Thomas M. Holt has appointed a new executive committee of the North Carolina Agricultural Society. In a social and political point of view, they are all "jolly good fellows." — Raleigh News-Observer: September 1, 57,800 bales of cotton, a gain of 17,900 over last year. — We have been looking over the Auditor's report, and find some funny items. As for example the regularity with which big fees are drawn in the Swepson case. More anon. — Our gifted townsman, Theo. H. Hill, his friends will be pleased to learn, is preparing to issue a revised edition of his poems. He has written a new poem entitled "Within the Veil," which will be highly regarded by religious people. — A railroad from Garysburg, near Weldon, to Jackson, in Northampton county, and Windsor, in Bertie county, is on the tapis. It will tap a rich region, and the Albemarle fisheries. — The present Legislature is an Addendum. It has already increased the pay of a number of the "Capitoline Crowd," so to speak, by giving another $1,000 clerk to the Secretary of State, another to the Auditor, clerical assistants to the clerks, and an increased force of colored employes, or increase of pay. It is said the Governor, also is to have another Secretary, or the pay of one. — Mr. Editor:—Noticing the charter of sixteen new railroads in North Carolina and "organizing" (on paper) of a good many of them, I wish to ask if Gen. Milton S. Littlefield is again controlling the map and finances of your State? Emory-Bag-Holder. Certainly not! Of course not! He has lost his grip. Besides, if Littlefield were allowed to come back he would find his match in the big field now.

The Raleigh Farmer & Mechanic, after copying what we said about the six judicial counties, says: "We have had little to say on the new county projects; but it seems to us the 'Projectors' (as the colored member expresses it), because if Swain, with about 300 votes, and Polk with 600, and the rest of them, are entitled to a court house and a Representative in the Legislature, it would be nothing but fair to divide up some of the larger counties. As things stand, the member from Clay or Dare, with 500 voters, has as much weight in deciding the destinies of the State as the member from Catawba or Franklin, with 1,900 voters. The inequality of the thing is seen in the State conventions when a score of little counties west of the Ridge out-vote a score of big counties in the east and centre whose population is six times greater."

There may be something in that. Our paragraph was based on the idea that the evil was great enough already, but if small counties be a good thing, then of course divide all of the counties into five or six. Wake would make twelve or fifteen counties as large as the wee-bit things. Granville would make some nine and so on. The more the—greater misery.

Gen. Ben Butler has been making a law speech at Richmond, Va. He undertook to tell what he knew about the word "bumpious," and said it was of New England origin. But the State says not so, but is discussed by Balwiler in his "My Novel," as is also that other word, "gumptious." We quote: "According to that discussion Bumpious and Gumptious are wide apart, and if we can take the liberty of bolting down Mr. Balwiler's pages into a line or two, we would say that our 'Brother Butler' is well described by Gumptious while a large number of counsel now before the court could be described as Bumpious, since a gumptious man is one who has sense and a bumptious man is one who only thinks he has it."

Gen. Mahone declines emphatically to be again the President of the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Railroad.

Stanley Matthews' chances grow small by degrees and beautifully less, we are glad to believe. The latest is that Garfield's friends are moving against his confirmation also. Good.

Senator Blaine is reported as favoring a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture or sale of intoxicating fluids as beverages after A. D. 1900. That looks like a bid for the Prohibition nomination for President in 1884.

Yesterday a bill was introduced in the Senate looking to an increase of the Supreme Court by the appointment of two additional Judges. We commend the movement very heartily.—Raleigh News-Observer.

There ought to be five instead of three we suppose. We would like to inquire of what politics the "two additional Judges" will be?

The Senate was crowded on Wednesday to see Cookling devour Senator Butler. There was much disappointment that the scene did not occur. Cookling is "nursing his wrath to keep it warm," and it was expected that on Thursday he would first flay the South Carolinian and then proceed to eat him at his leisure. If Butler should happen to lay a shotgun on his desk the mighty Koscoe would perform over his fitness at Canonchet when Sprague was around.

All is not lovely and serene among the Radical leaders, if we may trust many newspaper rumors. Here is what the Washington correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch has to say: "A well informed Northern politician tonight remarked that while all looked happy in the Republican camp, it is really filled with combustible material liable to explode at any time. 'You wait,' said he, 'until the sheet is applied, if you want to see fun.' He added by the followers of Senators Blaine and Cookling are as liable to accord now as are their rival opponents."

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias, held at Goldsboro, Mr. J. A. Bonita, the indefatigable editor and proprietor of the Messenger, was elected Grand Chancellor of the Jurisdiction of North Carolina. He received nearly all of the votes. The selection of our editorial brother is a fortunate one, and the compliment is well deserved. We feel sure he will make a most efficient officer. The flourishing Order is to be felicitated upon its selection. We learn from the Messenger that the officers elected for the next year are as follows: "Grand Chancellor—J. A. Bonita. "Grand Chancellor—J. R. Jones. "Grand Master—Rev. Wm. Byrd. "Grand Master of Etchequer—R. T. Scallie. "Grand Keeper of Records and Seal—J. W. Phillips. "Grand Representative to the Supreme Lodge—John L. Dudley. "The hour for the installation of the officers was fixed for 7 o'clock P. M. on Thursday.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Raleigh News-Observer's Report Continued. THIRTY-FIRST DAY. SENATE. TUESDAY, Feb. 8, 1881.

Mr. Horner, bill relative to the restoration of persons convicted of felony to rights of citizenship. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Williamson, of Davis, bill to amend chapter 281, laws of 1876-77, to allot and distribute the judicial powers in the State. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Dortch, bill to incorporate the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association.

Mr. Mebane moved a reconsideration of the vote by which the bill to incorporate Swepson Mills was passed. Motion prevailed. This and the bill to incorporate Big Falls Manufacturing Company were referred to the Judiciary committee.

Bill to amend chapter 48 of Battle's Revised, declaring a four feet fence lawful, in Pamlico county, was discussed by Messrs. Spruill and Clarke, and passed its second and third readings.

Senate bill 395, to encourage the colleges of the State in establishing libraries, passed its second and third readings.

Senate bill 379, to amend chapter 200 of the laws of 1879, relative to service of jurors. It was explained by Mr. Manning. The object of the bill is to relieve the court against professional jurors. Passed second and third readings.

Resolution of instruction to the Governor and State Treasurer relative to the construction bonds of the North Carolina Railroad, in the hands of the State Treasurer, was explained by Mr. Richardson, and passed its second and third readings.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. Simpson presented a petition with regard to a light house of Croton Island.

Mr. Simpson introduced a resolution for the better protection of commerce in this State, which was referred to the committee on propositions and grievances.

Bills were introduced and referred as follows: Mr. Tate, to amend the constitution of North Carolina so as to have two additional Supreme Court Judges. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Manning, to carry into effect certain provisions of the constitution with regard to the University. Committee on education.

Mr. Austin, with regard to working a certain turnpike, and employing convict labor on the same. Committee on turnpikes.

Mr. Boykin, to make secret assaults with intent to kill a felony; also to make malicious injury to animals or real property a felony. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Banting, to define certain fees to be charged by physicians practicing in this State. Committee on salaries and fees.

Mr. Manning, to amend the homestead and exemption law. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Webster, to change the time of holding the Supreme Court and to fill the places of judges when they are sick. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Manning, to amend the law with regard to the removal of causes from justices of the peace. Judiciary committee.

Mr. McCauley, to secure the payment of rents. Committee on agriculture.

A message was received from the Governor in regard to the Confederate dead at Winchester and Shepherdstown, and, on motion of Mr. Rowland, it was ordered to be sent to the Senate, with a request to print.

It has already increased the pay of a number of the "Capitoline Crowd," so to speak, by giving another $1,000 clerk to the Secretary of State, another to the Auditor, clerical assistants to the clerks, and an increased force of colored employes, or increase of pay. It is said the Governor, also is to have another Secretary, or the pay of one. — Mr. Editor:—Noticing the charter of sixteen new railroads in North Carolina and "organizing" (on paper) of a good many of them, I wish to ask if Gen. Milton S. Littlefield is again controlling the map and finances of your State? Emory-Bag-Holder. Certainly not! Of course not! He has lost his grip. Besides, if Littlefield were allowed to come back he would find his match in the big field now.
