The following is of special interest just now, in view of the organization of the next Senate. It may be that the death of Senator Carpenter may give the Democrate the control :

CHICAGO, February 3&-A private dispaich from a well-informed gentleman at Madison, Wisconsin, says: "Our Legislaare will be notified of the death of Benater Carpenter this evening. Under the law of Congress his successor cannot regularly be elected until March 9, the vacancy not having occurred during a recess of the Logislature. The suggestion has been made that the Legislature adjourn after indicating its preference for Senstor, and permit the Governor to appoint a successor. The question might arise, however, as to the legality of such appointment and action by the Legislature."

The Newly-Invented Spirits Barrel.

We dropped in yesterday and found Mr.

J. L. Barlow busy with his soldering-irons, seems perfectly sure that it will prove the

barrel capable of all that is claimed for it.

The barrels seem to be perfect in every particular, every joint being carefully soldered, and from all appearances they cannot fail to meet the demands of the trade in all the requisites which they are designed to fill. There is a cap both to the barrel proper and the metal lining, the first of which is fastened with screws and the latter with solder, both of which can be readily

on the inside, and then replaced again.

The small space between the staves and the metal lining is filled with composition so as to make them solid; then brass bungs are screwed tightly into position, and there is no chance for either leakage or evaporation.

Mr. Barlow is doing the most of the work

himself, and seems to have no apprehension

as to the ultimate result of what, if successful, must prove a most important invention. It is expected that the twenty-five barrels, constituting his first order, will be

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1881.

Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad; also, a proposition to print the same. The proposition to print was concurred in by the Senate.

CALENDAR. The bill to revise and consolidate the public school law, and to make more efficient the system of education in this State, was placed on its third reading.

Amendments were offered to section 9 by Mr. Glenn, providing that the county board of education shall determine the book to be used instead of the State board, as provided in the bill. Adopted.

Mr. Finger, that the State Board of Education shall recommend a series of text books to be used in the public schools when adopted by the county board of education. Adopted. Section 62-An amendment was proposed by Mr. Finger fixing the rate of taxation at 124 cents on property and 374 cents on the poll. The mendment provoked a good deal of discussion.

Messrs. Finger, Merritt, Whitaker and Mebane favored the amendment. Mesarm Lockhart, York and Richardson opposed it. The amendment was

The bill as amended passed its third reading by a vote of 40 to 2. A motion was made to reconsider and lay that motion on the table, which motion prevailed.

The hour arrived for the special order, which was the consideration of the bill for the establishment of the new county of Durham.

The question was upon the motion of Mr. Staples to reconsider the vote by which the question was indefinitely postponed. The question was discassed at length, Messrs. Staples and Glenn in favor of the new county, and Mr. Parish in opposition.

Pending the discussion the Senate adjourned at 3 o'clock p. m. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Bills were introduced and disposed of as follows: Mr. Green, of Orange, to establish a graded school in the town of Durham. Calendar. Mr. Foy, to allow produce to be sold in all the streets of Wilmington free of tax. Referred. Mr. Glenn, of Stokes, submitted s report for the committee on internal improvements. The bill to charter the Danville, Mocksville & Southwestern Railroad Company was reported on favorably.

The bill establishing the maximum rate of freight and fares was taken up as unfinished business.

Mr. Rose offered a substitute for section 2, allowing the commissioners to fix the rate of fare on all the roads at a rate not exceeding four cents per lineal mile, and spoke in its favor.

Mr. Ragedale said he was opposed to the bill and moved to lay it on the table. Motion prevailed; yeas 57,

House bill 335, introduced by Mr. Thomas, was put on its second reading. It provides for the election of three commissioners every two years, who shall have power to regulate freights and fares.

Departed this life, at Oxford, N.C., at $% o'clock on the morning of February 26th, 1861, Makky GRACE VENABLE, eldest daughter of Col Thos. B. and Delia Venable, aged 22 years 7 months and 21 days. She had been ill for sixteen days, and yet her death was sudden. Her disease was an affection of the heart. She was conscious to the last, and her triamph over death and the grave was another beautiful manifestation of the sustaining power of the religion of Jesus. She cied in full hope of a blessed resurrection. "Blessed are they who dis in the Lord." In the rich bleom of womanhood, buoyant with hope and expectancy, the young life was cut down like a flower of the field. But there is consolation for the bereaved. If earth has now one amiable, gentle, trustful, loving heart less, Heaven has one angel more. Her life closed amid home scenes, surrounded by those sile loved.
