HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Mr. Lineback moved to postpone the special order and consider the alleged forgery case. The evidence was explained at some length by Mr. McClure and other members of the committee. Mr. Sparrow was requested by the Speaker to conduct the examination and Mr. Boykin the cross-examination. Solomon Geer, an employe of the Capitol, was placed on the stand and testified that Newell had given him the warrant for $16, which Wat son had signed at Newell's request, and that he turned over the money to Newell. Gen. Roberts, being sworn, said that he had no recollection about the $16 order. That Geer had said in his presence that he (Geer) believed that Watson had the money.

Mr. McClure stated on oath in regard to Geer's testimony that Geer had said he was certain that the page, George Whitehead, did not have the money, but that some colored person in the House did have it. Geer, some time after this, asked him if questioned as to the general character of Newell, and said it was very good.

Cam. Weir, a page of the House, being sworn, said that Solomon Geer stated in his bearing that Newell had got the money and was trying to make something; that Geer saw

Newell sign the warrant in question. Mr. Newell was then put on the stand. Solomon Geer had a talk with him; said he shought that Watson had got the money; that Watson was a low, degraded man; witness then went to Watson and asked him to write his name; he did so; then Watson proposed to go down and see the warrant in the Treasurer's office; we saw the forged order and Watson said he didn't know who did the forgery; Watson saw the forged check and looked at it closely; I no longer suspected Watson, because the signature was not like the one he had made before we went to the Tressurer's office: I afterwards saw George Whitehead; we had a talk; I told him I was going to introduce a resolution in the morning; he said don't introduce the resolution till we should meet in the evening: George paid me the sixteen dollars the next day; he said be was not guilty; that he would rather lose the money than be accused of it; I afterwards became satisfied that George did not get my money, and I paid him back the sixteen dollars; Geer told me that if I would acknowledge to the House that I had made a mistake I could get fifty dollars; I told him I could not do it; I got Watson to sign the world that I got him to sign two orders for me. Watson here appeared on the stand; said he signed the $16 order; that he signed no other order; admits that he went down to the Treasury and looked at the $16 order; I told him could not see who could have forged the erder; never endorsed but one order; filled out an application for postoffice order; I admit I told the committee that I signed the order and made out the application the same day, but I was mistaken; I was mistaken when I told the committee

$100 order, but no other; I think

Battle was present, but I am not sure about it; I have no recollection in the endersed the $100 order. The evidence here closed, and Mr. Manning introduced a resolution to expel W. W. Watson from his seat in the House. The resolution failed by a vote of 43 to 25. Mr. Nicholson then introduced a resolution to discharge Solomon Geer from his position as servant to the House, and moved to suspend the rules and put it on its passage at

Mr. Green, of Orange, opposed this motion, wishing to put it off until to-night. The motion prevailed, and the resolution was adopted and the doorkeeper ordered to discharge

Mr. Manning sent forward at amendment providing that if the Piedmont Railroad shall get possession of the Western North Carolina Railroad, that road shall be subject to entry the same as under the original contract, and spoke at some length to the amendment and against the bill if unamended. With regard to the sanitary powers and regulations of the city, Mr. Davis recites the language of the supplemental act, which provides that the fish section of the original act shall not be construed to interfere with proper sanitary regulations adopted by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the cities of Wilmington, Tarboro and New Berne, under the direction of the city physicians and Board of Health, and raises questions as to who are the persons meant, which, he says, "in my humble judgment, are questions so embarrassing that no opinion but that of the Supreme Court can settle them. After a careful study I can only give my best impressions, as follows : That the Superintendents of Health appointed by the County Boards are the city physicians meant, as they are the only physicians appointed by law for all the named cities. And that the Board of Alder men have the power to adopt such and only such, sanitary regulations as may be recommended to them by the Board of Health, which includes the Seperintendent of Health, and that they are not bound to adopt any recommendations which do no meet their own approval. Proper regulations,' that is, as I understand it, not 'lawful,' but 'fit' regulations, are to be made 'under the direction' of certain officials. Some check upon the city authorities was certainly meant, and that which I have intimated is the least that can be intended. But this restriction of the powers of the Board of Aldermen is confined to such sanketable articles as mentioned in the act. To that extent only did the original act inrior Court clerk of New Hanover terfere; and the supplemental act is simply an explanation and limitation of the other In respect to all other sanitary regulations, the powers of the Board of Aldermen are > unimpaired." As to the effects and operations of these acts on the police powers of the city, Mr. Davis says: "I understand this question to refer to the authority of the Board of Aldermen over the streets and alleys. Whatever injurious consequences might have resulted from the original act-and they would andoubtedly have been very greatits operation ass been much modified and weakened by the supplemental act."

> He quotes authorities to show that no man has a right, for any purpose, to persist in keeping up a continuous blockade of any part of the street, either under the plea of necessity or otherwise, for public rights and the public convenience are paramount to the necessity of trade or individual convenience, and adds: "The Legislature, so far from intending to impair this paramount right of the public, has declared another intent quite consistent with it. And the farmer or fisherman has no more right than any other person unreasonably to obstruct or abridge this public right of passage over the streets and every part of them. And I am of the opinion that the power of the Board of Aldermen to abate and punish nuisances of obstruction rea mains in full force, notwithstanding the recent acts." Messra. Devane, Russell & Ricaud and McRae & Strange, concur with Mr. Davis, and argue against the constitutionality of the acts, which they allege to be private acts passed in conflict with Art. 2nd, Sec. 12 of the Constitution, which provides that "the General Assembly shall not pass any private law unless it shall be made to appear thirty days' notice of application to pass such a law shall have been given." The supplemental act is claimed to be unconstitutional in another aspect, in that the bill passed three readings in each House all in one day, when the constitution declares that no law shell-be passed "to allow the counties, cities or towns to impose any tex upon the people unless the bill has passed three several times in each House on three different days." It is argued also, that assuming the validity of the contract entered into by the Board of Aldermen and the Wilmington Market Company, these two acts are in violation of the constitution of the United States, as they are intended to affect and impair a contract already entered into. On the whole, counsel are of the opinion that the question ought to be solved, and to this end recommend that the Board of Aldermen should proceed, under proper advice, to take such steps as will make test cases for the decision of the Courts by Mayor yesterday morning, and that was friendly litigation.

Woman's Christian Temperance Very interesting services in connection with the Woman's Christian Temperance Union took place at the Front Street Methodist church Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. In a few well chosen remarks Rev. Dr. Yates, pastor of the church, introduced Mrs. Georgia Hulse McLeod, Corresponding Secretary of the Maryland Woman's Christian Temperance Union, who rose and delivered a short address touching the importance of the mission upon which the ladies are engaged, and the success that has so far crowned their efforts in other States, and then she in turn introduced to the large audience Miss Frances E. Willard, of Chicago, President of the W. C. T. U., who proceeded to deliver one of the most touching, stirring and effective temperance addresses to which we have ever sembly spell bound from its opening to its close. An opportunity was then afforded to those who wished to consect themselves with the Union-the ladies as active, and the gentlemen as honorary members to do so, and considerably over one hundred of the audience signed their names to the papers, thus not only connecting themselves with the movement, but pledging themselves to shatein hereafter from the use of satericating liquors. Less evening Miss Willard addressed another large audience at Tileston Upper Homstelde at Abbettutung. Intelligence was received here on Sunday that Mr. J. W. McLeod, who kept a store at Abbottaburg, and was also Express agent at that place, was using a flat car to haul a lot of shingles with, on Saturday afternoon last, when a difficulty arose between himself and a man named G. W. Thompson, who keeps a boarding house in Abbotteburg, during which, as is alleged, Thompson knocked McLeod off the car, when he fell with his head upon one of the rails of the track. He was taken up in a bleeding and insensible condition, and con veyed to his residence, where he had the best medical attention that could be procared until Sunday morning, when his injuries proved fatal. It is stated that Thompson Sugered in the neighborhood of Abbottsburg until he heard of the death of Mr. McLeod, when he fled and has not been heard of since. Deceased leaves a wife and three children to mourn his untimely fate. He was between 40 and 50 years of age and was highly respected and beliked by those who knew him. He has relatives in this city.

The Charity Club had a very interesting meeting at Col. C. L. Graffin's on Friday night last, the large crowd in attendance being entertained in a very pleasant and agreeable manner by the rendition of various charades, tableaux, etc., accompanied by music. Best of all, however, was the fact that packages containing in the aggregate two hundred and thirty pounds of are ticles suitable for the poor were contribute during the evening, and at the close of the entertainment they were turned over to the ladies of the Club to be distributed to the needy ones in the community.

This is a noble undertaking and worthy of all commendation and encouragement. Fatal Accident.

Giddeon Rhodes, colored, an employe of Mr. O. Y. Wilson, of this city, was accidentally killed on Saturday last, at Milton, a plantation on the Cape Feer river just above Elizabethtown. He fell from the cars of a railroad used for carrying timber to the river landing, and was crushed to death by the wheels.
