Who is D. Delany, of North Carolina? He is bankering after the deshpots in Hayti. If he Delany too long he may be saying to himself hereafter-"How Hayti them fleshpots, sayhow."

The Whittaker case is still on hand. The evidence tends to his crimination. D. T. Ames, an expert in writing, confirms the opinion of Mr. Hogan, the other expert, that the negro wrote the note of warning to himself. - -

In 1860 the negroes numbered 4,441,830. In 1880 they numbered 6,577,157. In the South in twenty years the gain was say 45 per cent. So if Parson Jasper is right when be declares that "the sun do move;" he would be equally in order if he were to say -"the negro, he do increase."

A New York letter of the 21st thus epitomizes the dry goods market: "Dry goods jobbers are doing a good business in staple and department goods, but the package trade is light and irregular. Cotton goods are jobbing at irregular prices, but sgents' quotations are without material change. Fine brown sheetings are easier, but heavy fine browns are stendy. Prints are in moderate request. Men's wear woollens are quiet."

Proposed College of Music.

We see by the New York papers that a meeting in the interest of the American College of Music, which was incorporated several years ago under the provisions of the will of Samuel Wood, a wealthy resident of that city, was held a few evenings since. The Rev. R. S. Moran, D. D. formerly of this city, read a paper relating to the object of the meeting. Samuel Wood, he said, had affixed a codicil to his will in 1875, which bequeathed property to the amount of more than $1,500,000 for the purpose of establishing a musical college to be called the American College of Music, or the Wood College of Music. Since Mr. Wood's death in 1878 the codicil had been contested and the case was now in the Burrogate Court. After considerable discussion by the eminent gentlemen present, it was finally decided to appoint Dr. A. Hammond, Judge Fancher and Rev. Dr. Moran a committee to make an investigation and report. The original trustees of the college, which was incorporated by an act of the Legislature, were Henry G. Stebbins, Edwards Pierrepont, William H. Vanderbilt, A. J. Jewett, Alfred S. Simonson, Benjamin Ray, William Elmer, E. D. Morgan, Marshall O Roberts, Charles L. Tiffany, Daniel Kingsland and Morgan L. Harris-

Mrs General Robert Preston, President of the Muntgomery Memorial Association of Virginia, and Mrs. Mary Means, both of South Carolina, but now residing in Virginia, have requested Gen. Lane to solicit contributions from the people of Wilmington to enable them to erect a monument over the Confederate dead at the Montgomery White Sulphur Springs, where are buried a large number of North Carolina soldiers. As the General hasn't the time to solicit contributions in person, he hopes the people will respond without being asked individually, and give him the pleasure of making a remittance to these most estimable and patriotic ladies.

BEE JUDGE STRONG'S OPINION.

RALEIGH N. C., Dec. 1st, 1886.

Mrs. Joe Person: Madam—Some months a.c. I was in bad health. suffering from debility, indigention and loss of appealte, when a friend induced me to try your Si ters as a Tonio. I did so with the most happy results. I take great pleasure in resommending it as a valuable and efficient vegetable Tonio.

Very respectfully, GEO, V. sTriO. G.
