The Proposed Extension of the Virglata Midland Railroad.

Charlotte Observer, 31st. A letter received here yesterday from a gentleman residing in Baltimore expresses the opinion that the Virginia Midland extension to Charlotte is still contemplated, notwithstanding the recent lease of the Air-Line by the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company. It is said that Baltimore merchants have taken the matter so much to heart that a public meeting has been called, and the opinion prevails that the business exigencles of the Monumental City absolutely require the penetration of at rast one railroad from there into the cotton belt, and that the business men there are ready to put their shoulders to the wheel. The Virginia Midland is now regarded as a Baltimore road, and as it butts up against the Richmond & Danville Railroad combination at Danville, there is no friendly Southern outlet. Baltimore capital save it must and will have one, and

> Two Pictures. THE DANGER TO PROHIBITION.

Biblical Recorder. We do heartily desire to see the bill passed by the vote of the people, and we honestly believe that the chief danger to the success of the cause will arise from the friends of Prohibition. We can uonceive of no surer way of failure than for the committee to import "professional orators" and female temperance lecturers. Let these take the field and we think the cause is gone.

Charlotte Observer.

As the interest in prohibition increases in Charlotte, we suggest that the association here invite Miss Willard, President of the Ladies' Temperance Association, to deliver one of her lectures here. It is said that apart from the profound interest generally felt in the subject which she treats -that of temperance-there is found a magnetism in the manner of that treatment which everywhere this lady has lectured, has been found not less convincing than attractive.

To! Shortffe. Raleigh Visitor.

The synopsis of the new revenue State press recently contained an error. In that synopsis, retail dealers of malt liquors only were placed upon the same footing with dealers in spirituous liquors. There is a distinction between these dealers-retail dealers of malt liquors only are to pay a license or of thirty-six dollars per year in advance, while persons who sell all kinds of liquors, cordials or bitters, in quantities less than a gallon, shall pay a license tax of sixty dollars per year in advance. In either case the license is not to be saued for a shorter time than twelve

The Virginia Debs Question in a Nutohoil.

Wash, Correspondent Dispatch. The McCulloch bill, which the debtpayers of Virginia advocated, fixes the debt at $32,000,000, makes the rate of interest an average of 4 per cent., makes coupons receivable for taxes and other dues to the State. and the bonds non-taxable. This bill was agreed upon by the creditors and the State authorities. The Riddleberger bill, which the Readjusters advocate, fixes the debt at less than $20,000,000, makes the coupons nonreceivable for taxes, dec., and the bonds taxable. It fixes the rate of interest at 3 per cent., and its authors neither sought nor had any conference with the creditors. The creditors oppose it.

Our venerable and venerated fellow-citisen, Mr. L. B. Huggins, with his estimable lady, celebrated their golden wedding at their residence on the corner of Seventh and Mulberry streets, yesterday. Mr. Huggies was married to Phoebe Newbold, at the residence of her mother, in what was know as White Oak District, in Onalow county, on the 31st day of March. 1881, by Geo. A. Thomson, Esq. Both were born in Onslow county: Mr. H. on the 28th of November, 1808, and Mrs. H. on the 29th of May, 1805. He followed the business of farming until 1849, when he removed to New Berne and commenced merchandizing. Here he remained until 1852, when he came to this city and continued in mercantile pursuits. Of those present at the wedding in 1831 only one is now living, and that is Mrs. Clarissa Rothwell, now residing not far from this city, in Brusswick county, and aged about 70 years. Mr. Huggins says the 31st of March, 1881, was pretty much such a day as vesterday, and was succeeded by a very fair and pleasant one.

The venerable couple received their friends during yesterday afternoon and evening, and a large number called and partook of their liberal hospitality and congratulated them on the consummation of their first half century of married happiness, which has suffered no diminution with their increasing years,

The tables were handsomely and tastefully arranged and were almost literally groaning under the weight of good things which were spread upon them. Over the door leading into the dining-room were the words, "Welcome to All," painted on white cloth and festooned with ivy, and over the opposite door, at the rear end of the tables, were the words, "50th Anniversary," in gilt letters on white cloth.
