The deposed priest, James V. Mo-Namara, who figured at Raleigh ome eight or hine years ago in disreputable role, is now known as "Bishop" McNamara, of the Independent Catholic Church. He was stoned at Hartford, Connecticut, last Friday night. It is strongly sus pected that he is of "unsound mind." The suspicion is no doubt unfounded. He is a mad of very violent temper. He has an organ called the Independent Catholic Magazine. The Hartford Times of Saturday says :

It was not the red-handed murderer of Currie after all who was killed. So sorry.

Postseript : Since the above was written, we rejoice to learn that it was Carrie the murderer of Porter, the actor, who had Nemesis after him. A special from Chicago, of April 2nd, says :

"His identity has been proven by interested persons who have investigated the affair. The shooting occurred at Las Vegas, N. M., about two weeks ago. While under the influence of drink, Currie visited house of ill-fame, became involved in a dispute, when Eilbright, husband of the keeper, killed Currie. President Garfield is said to be extremely annoyed at the condition of matters in the Senate. Conkling is the leader of course of the Stalwarts in the eSenate. "One potent cause of besitancy among Senators who desire to break the deadlock is a feeling that if the Republican Senators should now turn their backs upon the Independents of the South after having for so many years appealed to them to come out from the ranks of the solid Democracy of the South, Republicans could not expect for them any fate but utter defeat in coming elections."

Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, made a rather original speech in the Senate that was a success. Staunch Democrat as he is, he took the part of Garfield, and, personating him, made an appeal to the Senators who had deserted him by name. The Richmond Dispatch's letter says:

"After saying that Mr. Garfield is worse treated than any President who has ever occupied the White House, he made his excellency make a speech, in which he appealed to Senators by name. To Mr. Sherman he said: 'I nominated you at Chicago and did my best for you, and I expected you would stand by me; but instead of that you have refused by your vote to consider my nominauons.' To Mr. Hoar he said: 'You presided over the convention that selected me, and your face grew radiant when I beat the third-termers; and yet you, too, have deserted me. To Messrs. Hale and Frye his appeal was pathetic. He told them that he had made Maine's favorite son the premier of his Cabinet, and had a right to count upon their support; but they also had refused even to aid in opening the messages he had from day to day sent to the Senate. A Colored Woman Horribly Burned. A colored woman by the name of Martha Foster, living in what is known as Price's alley, between Fifth and Sixth and Church and Castle streets, aged about 50 years, was accidentally burned yesterday afternoon, and it is thought she cannot recover. It appear that she was lying on the floor in front of the fire asleep, when she was aroused by her little daughter, who was the only person in the room besides herself, and found that her clothing was on fire. Her cries, together with those of the child, brought several of the neighbors to the scene, but before the fire could be extinguished nearly every vestige of clothing was burned from her body, and her person was one mass of scorched and shrivelled flesh, from her head to her feet. Dr. Winants happened to be passing about the time the flames were subdued and did all he could, assisted by Officer F. M. James, for the comfort and relief of the sufferer.

At last accounts the unfortunate woman was still alive and conscious, but very little hope is entertained of her recovery.

The accident occurred about 8.30 P. M. and was the occasion of the alarm of fire which was sounded at that hour, but which was quickly stopped by the report that the fire was out.
