Barring that very cheap John head, the new dress of the Baltimore Greette is extremely tasteful and becoming. It should get some one to "out a head on it."

Mahone has gone clear out of sight. Some of the Stalwarts and office seekers are now hunting him with a dark lantern. The new fighting attitude of the Administration reduces the little Brigadier to ranks. He is now Corporal Mahone of the Mulligan Guards.

The writer in the Chicago Inter-Theira who accused us of being either a fool or a liar, at long range, now informs us that he was born in North Carolina. Sorry and glad too, Sorry, that the State every produced such a vile slanderer of Southern pupile; and glad he left his country for his country's good.

Here is from "Bildad's" last letter a the Richmond State "In estimating Conkling's strength the Republicans count the following Democrate as certainly with him in the Robertson case: Farley, Ransom, Cockerell, Brown and Hill, of Georgia, Mcl'herson, Maxey, Garland, Harris and David Davis, and four others doubtful. Maxey and Garland are absent for the session. Granting Cookling even fifteen Democrats, Administration men think be cannot command the twelve Republican votes necessary to reject Robertson,

It is well Gen. Ransom contradicted the report concerning himself, for here it is again. The Philadelphia Times of Friday mentions the same rumor-that Ransom will vote with Conkling against Robertson.

It is thought in Washington that (iarfield has strengthened himself very much in his recent dealings with Conkling. The Democrats are very hopeful, in good spirits, and enby the situation. The following shows how a leading Democratic vditor, on a visit to Washington, looks at it. The Richmond Dispatch's letter says:

"I was fortunate to-night in hearing the matter discussed by a Republican journalist of note and one of the best known Democratic editors in the United States. The Republican said with emphasis, and sorrowfully, that it was a mistake, but the Democrat contended that there was nothing else left for Mr. Garfield to do. He had, in his judgment, made a mistake in waiting so long; for he could not afford to allow Mr. Conkling to fill the trees along his line with sharpshooters to pick off his men. He added, 'and has not Mr. Conking made a greater mistake in not getting his nomination through before this? He could have done it, because the Democrats have always been in favor of going into executive session.' A bystander, with a glee, said, 'Isn't Jim Blaine a 'daisy?'

Judge Robertson says Garfield will prove "the Andrew Jackson of the Republican party." It is beheved that the fight will be sharp and hot, and that Garfield will play the part of "Old Hickory." Here is a speculation telegraphed from Wash- deserved other surroundings, and a tis, Smithville, N. C.

of to-day that pleased the average observer. No one credited the vigorous perve to the President. Some credited it to Blaine, others to Col.

Bob Ingersoll. At any rate it was certain that the two last named were not displeased. Mr. Conkling, as is usual when he is deeply interested, has said but little. He is calm. He has uttered one epigram. He says that he believes Mr. Blaine 'will be that may mean. He is willing to wait. If he is beaten now he will be on the alert for his chance. If it does not come he will make earnest the Charlotte Military Institute in 1878. He was from Barnwell, S. C.

He killed a negro named Harley in a saloon in Charlotte. He got off on the plea of self-defence before Judge Schenck. He has just killed his own father. Here is the account that appears in the Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist, as furnished by a Barnwell correspondent, after mentioning

"She had resolved two or three times to leave young Priester and return to the home of her father.

Capt. Billie, the father, prevailed upon her not to leave his son, as it would no doubt be his rain. She remained only in the hope that she might, by enduring everything, work some improvement in the young man. His reckless ingratitude reached its highest point, and she resolved to stand it no longer, and on Thursday morning, at the breakfast table, she requested the Captain to remain a moment as she desired to see him. Young William Henry Priester, the hasband, was at the head of the table opposite his father, and on hearing his wife's remark, said: "I propose to hear that conversation." Captain Priester replied,

"Certainly, my son, I have no objection." Young Priester went up steirs to his room and came down to where the Captain and Mrs. Priester were standing, and when within five or ten feet said: "Father, I'm going to kill you." "O no, my son," said Captain Bullie. "What for?" He got no reply further than a ball, which the Captain said is the one he thought passed through his stomach, entering two inches to the left of the navel and coming out about the same distance from the spinsl column. The Captain said he closed in on his son after the first shot and caught the pistol, but found that the shock from the first ball was such that he could not control the unnatural arm of his son. The next ball he thought was the one that entered the left side and penetrated into the region of the spleen. (This ball went through the spleen.) A third ball lodged in the left wrist, and a fourth in the left thigh, and the fifth struck a back-horn handle knife in his pants pocket, tearing it up and lodging in the iron sides. Captain Priester said that he was shot so rapidly that he could not save himself.

and the only thing he did was to hold on to the pistol and change the range until it had been exhausted by the cruel hand, and then he thought he struck his son with a stick. Peter, a win-brother, who left the table for the store, hearing the shooting and the screams of Mrs. Priester, reached the house too late to render his father any assistance in the struggle. Capt.

P. went to his store, some two hun-

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Howard Relief Fire Engine Co. No. 1 Whereas, the infinitely wise and merciful Creator, to whose divine ruling we humoly submit, has seen fit to remove by death from all earthly scenes and associations our beleved brother Fireman and worthy Treasurer, Henry Ohlandt, and whereas it is proper that we give appreciation to the faciling worthy Treasurer. Henry Ohlandt, and whereas it is proper that we give expression to the feelings this sad dispensation of Divine Providence has inspired; therefore be it.

Resolved, That in the death of Henry Ohlandt his friends and associates of this Company reflize the painful trath that a seat has been made vacant in our Cempany that he has filled to the entire satisfaction of every one, and that as a memorial of the sad event our Engine Hall be draped in mourning, and that on a page of the Secretary's books shall be inscribed his name and the date of his death, and that the members of this Company wear the usual badge of mourning for the space of thirty days.

Resolved, That we share in the affliction that has thus overtaken the relatives of the deceased, and offer them the assurance of our sympathy and condolence in this hour of their bereavement and distress.

Resolved, That a copy of this tribute of respect be sent to the family of the deceased as a token of our respect and veneration for the excellent character of a good man gone to his rest, and of the in-terest felt by his brother firemen in those he loved and cherished, and that a copy be sent to the daily papers for publication.
