OUTLINES.

Contracts have been made for large shipments of wheat from St. Paul to Europe via New Orleans. ——A shoe factory at Epping, N. H., burned; loss $35,000. —— The Albany Express (Conkllogite) gives up all hope of securing a caucus. ——Geo. Rielly fatally shot Anthony Domas, at Louisville, Ky. ——Hon. John Preston, a prominent citizen of Kentucky, is dead. ——A locomotive-boiler explosion at Chattanooga, Tenn., killed two men—one at a distance of a half mile. ——Five distilleries captured in Patrick county, Va. —— French officials suppressed telegrams from the Tunis correspondent of the London Standard. ——A Lancashire cotton mill burned; loss £20,000. ——A classification of legislators in Albany gives 58 Administration men, to 40 Conklingites, with 8 on the fence. ——The Atlanta & Alabama Railroad Company organized; A. Haskell, of Columbia, S. C., President. ——New York markets: Money 2½@3 per cent.; cotton quiet and firm at 10¾@11¼ cts; southern flour fairly active and firm at $5 20 @7 50, wheat 1@1½c. better; ungraded red $1 15, corn heavy and lower, ungraded 51 @59 cents; spirits turpentine firm at 38 cents, rosin firm at $1 95@2 00.

New York is crowded with foreign immigrants. There are over 14,000 there now looking out for help.

Does stock raising pay? Mr. A. J. Alexander, of Woodburn, Ky., has just sold 35 yearling colts for $35,-250.

Archbishop Purcell is not dying, is not ill, but is "reasonably vigorous," says Bishop Elder. Oh, the papers, how they do —.

The walking or running match in New York for the O'Leary belt is growing in interest. Robert Vint leads, and 600 miles are predicted for him.

Conkling is reported as losing ground. His friends were not able to force a caucus. The boasted 75 were not there. There seems to be good grounds for believing that the Half Breeds will get the victory.

We notice that Rev. W. F. Tillett, a very promising young North Carolinian, now connected with the Virginia M. E. Conference, is to deliver the annual address before the M. J. P. Literary Society of the Farmville Female College on the 30th inst.

The Scotch Free Church is threatened with a serious split, and all about the historical articles of Professor Smith. A motion to deprive him of his chair but keep him on pay was carried by 394 ayes and 231 nays. The minority is much dissatisfied and have appealed.

The Conkling-Platt excursion boat has swamped, it appears, and the excursionists are now floating about on bladders. They are out of fix somehow and two cases of drowning are almost ready for the accident column. A plank is what they need in their extremity. Grant tried to throw them one but it was rotten. Vanderbilt is asked for a helping hand.

The Garfield set are ungrateful. The talk is that Mahone and his tribe will be allowed to take care of themselves as best they can. Little Mahone begins doubtless to wish he had never been born a Republican. Born out of due time, he died before he was three months old. The infant's epitaph suits:

"I wonder what I was begun for
If so soon I was to be done for."

Riots and evictions are progressing in Ireland. Secretary Forster is in Dublin. The attitude of the people is threatening. Herald dispatches of the 26th say:

"A rumor has reached Carrick-on Shannon, county Leitrim, of a serious process serving affray at Geevah, ten miles distant, but the details are indefinite. Two men are said to have been mortally wounded. Eight houses were burned by incendiaries in county Cork on Wednesday night. It is stated that the object was to get at one man whose house was not known."

It is thought the Carmichael postal card case may involve the superserviceable official who read it. The Washington letter in the Baltimore Sun says:

"This matter will be thoroughly examined into, and if the law is found to justify it, proceedings will be taken. It is asserted that it has become too much the habit of the post-office officials to inspect postal cards simply to gratify their curiosity. Many persons are in the habit of writing about private matters on postal cards under the belief that they were safe from prying eyes, as the law certainly contemplated they should be."

The new revision in England is not popular with literary men. They love the old, familiar language, and care not for the errors. But literary men are not Biblical scholars, and whilst their efforts will retard the adoption of a new revision, one is inevitable. The real scholarship of the world will insist upon it; and the generation to come will use the new in spite of adverse criticism. Such is our belief. The London secular papers condemn the work and accuse the translators of being at times "frivolous and capricious." That is to say, some forty men of unquestioned learning, after ten and a half years' labor, are condemned by men who may or may not be Biblical scholars, and after a hurried examination of a few hours or a few days. No doubt the new revision is defective, but it is an improvement on the old. It is the part of sound scholarship to remove the defects, but not by going off half-cocked.

The New York Sun is the great fraud hunter among newspapers. It can nose a fraud a long way off. Its Friday's issue has an ominous heading. Here it is:

"Blaine and the Star frauds.—The secretary said to be implicated.—Is he trying to suppress evidence?—Why came he to New York?."

Its Washington special of the 25th says:

"He has been caught in the Star route swindles. Hence his business in New York was urgent, as well as private and personal.

"Weeks ago Bradly and Dorsey gave Mr. Blaine notice that if the proceedings against them were not stopped, they would foreclose on him. I conclude Blaine has not been able to stop the proceedings. Hence the beginning of the foreclosure against him. His visit to New York was to fix things up."

An Open Letter

From the Leading Clothier of the Metropolis.

NEW YORK, May 20th, 1881.

L. J. OTTERBOURG, Esq.,
Men's Wear Depot,
Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir—Your letter, containing wise suggestions regarding special importations of Cloths and Cassimeres, to be manufactured into Fall and Winter Clothing, to be sold exclusively by you during the approaching season, has been received and decided upon. Without the least hesitancy we declare the same a tip-top idea, and with pleasure give you exclusive right in Wilmington for the sale of our Clothing, which we are proud to say has reached a standard reputation. We are now manufacturing for your "OWN TRADE" such styles and patterns as have never before been known to the buyers of Ready Made Clothing. Garments in every way calculated to satisfy the most stubborn tastes, and quality and make beyond the limit of unprejudiced criticism. Have taken the liberty of shipping you by steamer to-day a few dozens of the VERY LATEST in Spring Suits. We are satisfied our selections will not prove an "Elephant" on your hands, but more off rapidly, so handsome are the styles. In conclusion, allow us to offer our sincere congratulations upon the deserved success which has followed your efforts, to extend to you thanks for the extensive patronage so liberally bestowed on our house, and to assure you that every thing in our power to the advancement of your business, shall be our special aim in the future as in the past.

Hereafter your fine Black Cloth Coats will be lined with satin as requested.

Trusting to see you soon in New York, we are

Yours, very truly,
L. H. FALK & CO.,

J. C. STEVENSON WILL REMOVE HIS RETail Stock of Groceries during the early part of this week to the Store on Second Street, four doors from the corner of Market, in the Dr. Carr Building, until his present old Stand can be remodeled, repaired, enlarged and improved. He hopes his friends will find him in his new quarters and make due allowance for any mistakes which may be made during his demoralized condition. His temporary quarters will be very contracted, but he will do his utmost to move his customers with dispatch and satisfaction. He thanks the public for that liberal patronage which has made it absolutely imperative that his quarters should be enlarged, and as he is determined to offer every facility to the citizens fo getting supplies of the highest grade, and superior facilities for having their orders promptly attended to, he hopes to be rewarded for the expense and inconvenience which he is about to incur.
