

OUTLINE.

Joseph P. Britton, of Philadelphia, succeeds Judge Robert Olds as President of the R. F. & P. R. Co. — Gen. Grant called from Vera Cruz for New Orleans on Saturday. — Edward Despard, of Brooklyn, New York, finally shot his wife and then killed himself. — The schooner Charlie Norton was wrecked at Cape Lookout, North Carolina. — The Collier, White Lead and Oil Works, at St. Louis, Missouri, burned Sunday; loss about $250,000. — Two men met with accidental deaths at the fire. — A box of flame bullet-proof vests was burned to death. — The State works suggest that the New York Legislature take a recess until after the November elections, and then come together and vote on United States Senators; the Administration supports this proposition. — A discount and deposit bank at Greensboro has announced its intention to wind up its assets; liabilities stated to be $106,000 and assets $106,000. — A. C. Schaffer, of Baltimore, was found dead in his bed; he is supposed to have been dead a week; the clerk thought he had gone out of the country; coroner's verdict—suicide. — Decoration Day was more generally observed than usual throughout the North and West; business was suspended in the principal cities. — The British government settles the Portuguese Bay outrage question by agreeing to an indemnity of $1,000,000 for the losses sustained by American fishermen. — John F. Nolan fought with his nephew, George Nolan, near Princeton, West Virginia; the latter was killed in the mouth and it is thought will never recover. — About a dozen persons were severely injured by a railroad accident near Trenton, New Jersey, to a passenger train from the city of New York. — The election on Prohibition takes place the first Thursday in August. This is correct. — When last heard from had won the best record eighteenth mile. He will get the O'Leary belt. — Professor Smith is disciplined for "heretical articles" he wrote, and not "heretical" as we were made to say. There is a very wide difference. — The curious consulting Worcester's enlarged dictionary at page 1878 will find the following: HETEROGENEOUS—Greek, diverse another, and placed to speak. The saying of one thing with meaning another. — It is thought now in Albany that the Senatorial contest will be postponed until next winter. It looks as if Lord Roscoe had been playing at hanging and somehow had knocked the chair from under himself. — Let the Democrats at Albany make no bargains that do not elect two staunch Democrats. They hold the balance of power and should not attempt to help either Garfield or Cleveland. It is not their funeral. — The Philadelphia Times of Saturday treated its readers to an editorial in Latin. We venture to say read oftener than any other in the paper. Everybody was anxious to know what it was all about and translators were in great demand. — North Carolina, according to the census, mails less letters and postal cards than any State or Territory, except Alaska. This will never do. Let every patriotic North Carolinian resolve to write five letters as many letters as formerly. — White Barley tobacco raised in Virginia sold for $20.75, and this is deemed such a remarkable price the Richmond Dispatch notes it in an editorial. Greenville tobacco fetches from $50 to $275 per hundred. It is not the White Barley either. — We are requested to state that all members of the N. C. Press Association who expect to attend the Press Convention, which will convene in Winston on June 1st, will please notify Mr. Samuel H. Smith, Winston, N. C., Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements. — There is said to be talk at Albany that the Senators will elect Conkling and Platt; if there will be no Republican Senators. That ought to be the game now they have entered upon war. Victory for themselves and no victory for their enemies should be their war-whoop. Let Conkling keep a stiff midriff. — Gov. Jarvis is to deliver the annual address before the Alumni of Randolph Macon College, Va. Senator Hanson is to speak both before the University and Davidson. He has already addressed Wake Forest and Trinity. In our State columns we have noted the selection of many gentlemen throughout the State who will soon address various colleges and schools. — The Emperor William, of Germany, has been threatened seriously by the Nihilists. He went to Wiesbaden, but did not remain because of letters from England warning him of the dangers that threatened him. A telegram says: "Great preparations were taken during the imperial stay there. Herr Madal, Chief of Police of Berlin, arrived with an extra force of detectives for the first time, instead of in the Wilhelm Strasse, where it is generally held. The large place in front of the Karlsruhe is now completely surrounded by police and soldiers. The public were kept at a great distance from the imperial party. On the last Sunday which he spent there the Emperor abstained from going to church. The exact time of his departure for home, which took place five days earlier than was originally planned, was kept secret." — What the assassins can hope to gain by killing an old and worthy man, 84 years of age, would puzzle the puzzle makers. — A correspondent of the Washington Post says a package of Senator Vance's speech has been sent to Mr. Carmichael, and adds: "The only criticism Vance would have passed on the postal would have been that 'd-a-m-m' is not the way to spell it; it is 'd-i-a-m-o-n,' according to Vance's dictionary. It is a good word, of classic origin, and would not have shocked his nerves. As to the 'dog' part of it, Vance compared Mabone to a 'worthless dog' in the speech referred to, on the door of the Senate." — Gov. Vance is a member of the Presbyterian Church, and cannot favor the use of "house words" that are neither elegant nor polite, however emphatic. — That conspicuous censor of the South, the Philadelphia Press, is talking actually about "the rowdism and ruffianism" in the Pennsylvania Legislature. It is all owing to Dan Cameron's very bad example. Even since he took to his bottle and began to tote pistols and shake his fist at Senators every Pennsylvania of Stalwart proclivities has had an irresistible proclivity to get on a bender and kick up a row. — Here is the outlook of the New York dry goods market on Friday: "Cotton goods continue active in first hands and prices are very firm. Leading makes of brown drills are advanced quarter of a cent (1/4). Prints quiet. Lawns and piques jobbing fairly, and ginghams active. Heavy cashmeres and worsted coatings in fair demand. Print cloths advancing." — Rev. W. S. Leay, of Jonesboro, is to deliver the address before Peace Institute, Raleigh. — There is a new daily paper at Greensboro entitled the State Ground, and its staunch supporter of prohibition. — An announcement to the late Chief Justice Peaslee will be unveiled on June 1st. Judge R. P. Dick, of Greensboro, is to deliver the address. — Columbia (S. C.) Register: It is reported that the South Carolina Railroad will build a branch line from Camden to Chadotte, in self-protection. — Hamlet Argus: Mr. Archibald Henry, a young man about 24 years of age, accidentally shot and killed himself one day last week in Montgomery county. — So many articles are copied from the Star without credit we must again repeat our request to be more careful. The workman is worthy of proper credit. — Reidsville Times: Old Mrs. Wilson, aged 67, in Caswell county, has entered suit at the court for divorce from her husband, with whom she has lived for the past forty years. — Kinston Journal: J. H. Pollock, of Jones county, informs us that the cotton is playing havoc with the cotton in that section. He wishes some one to give him a remedy for them. — Elizabeth City Economist: Jos. West, an old citizen of Camden county, aged about seventy years, went fishing on Friday and did not return. His dead body was found Tuesday morning, in Sawyer's Creek, near the river. — Winston Leader: There is a twelve-year-old girl in Atwood township, Rowan county, who is four feet eight inches high, and weighs about four hundred pounds. She has four feet two inches across the chest. — Floating Head: The work of opening the canal of the French Broad river, which is being done by the United States government, is progressing well, and a steamer will be plying regularly between Revere and Asheville by the 4th of July next. — Charlotte Observer: Senator E. B. Vance is at home for a few days' rest, as part of his public duties will attend the commencement at Chapel Hill and Trinity College, and then make a tour over the Western North Carolina Railroad as ordered by the commissioners appointed by the Legislature. — Warrington Gazette: On Saturday night last, the dwelling house of Mr. George B. Clements, of Shocco, was destroyed by fire. — The graduates of Wake Forest have not been disappointed in their hundred—got so many as many other colleges of equal age, but it is believed that for good learning, mental worth, pure morals and consistent usefulness, the Alumni is in this respect will compare favorably with that of any other college in the land. — Raleigh, Times-Observer: Elder L. M. Berry, a native of North Carolina, has been engaged in extensive and exhaustive missionary labors in Missouri for the last few years. — Messrs. H. A. Guggler and J. M. Broughton spoke on Thursday at Wake Forest, to a audience of some 250, in favor of prohibition. At the conclusion of the speeches a vote was taken, and every ballot was cast for prohibition. — The proof sheets of the magnificent new map of the State, which Prof. Kerr is preparing, are being received. On Thursday were held the commencement exercises of Greensboro Female College. The programme was an attractive one. We are all interested in the prosperity of our own city, New Bern, which has won such a reputation as a trucking centre, dividing the honors with Norfolk, and beating her three weeks on an early crop. — The position of assistant physician in the hospital of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, of Baltimore, has been tendered to Dr. Will. H. Bobbitt, son of Rev. Dr. J. B. Bobbitt, of this city. — The "rockers" have been at work again. On Thursday one of them broke a window of a car in which sat Colonel R. R. Bridgers and his wife, on their way to Wilmington. — Messrs. W. J. Best and D. J. Sprague, of New York, and Messrs. Lewis Coleman, W. S. Deane, and W. Carruth, of Boston, who have been on a tour of inspection on the Western North Carolina Railroad, returned to the city yesterday morning, and left on the Raleigh & Gaston train for the North. — Since September 1st we have received 71,954 bales of cotton. Good for Raleigh. — The sad news of the death of Michael T. Whaley, Esq., reached the city yesterday. One of the most esteemed and beloved citizens of the county, he was alike a favorite in the city and county. He was a gallant soldier in the cavalry, North Carolina troops, and lost a leg in battle. In 1874 he canvassed the county as a Democratic candidate for the House of Commons, and was returned by a handsome majority. — THE CITY. — NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. — J. G. BURR—Tax notices. — R. M. MCINTIRE—Matings, etc. — UNIVERSITY OF VA.—Law lectures. — MUMSON—Sack coats and vests. — REPLETION—Little Golden Hair, etc. — Local Ads. — Goldboro is so "dry" they have to use a street sprinkler. — Col. Walter Clark, of Raleigh, registered at the Purcell House last evening. — There will be an excursion to Smithville and the forts on Wednesday, the 8th of June, under the auspices of the ladies of the Fifth Street M. E. Church. — Rev. Mr. Pitts, Rector of St. John's, made the gratifying announcement to his congregation Sunday morning that the Church was entirely free from debt. — There will be a prayer meeting at Fifth Street M. E. Church this evening in behalf of seamen, and especially of Capt. Reed and crew of the Albatross, now on the eve of departure from this port, to which all are invited. — In our article in reference to the Washington excursion, published Sunday, we were made to say that it would occur on the "23th" of June instead of the 19th, as we wrote it. It is generally known, however, by this time, that it is to start on Monday, the 19th. — Insulting and Threatening an Officer. — William Brown, a colored drayman, was before Mayor Smith yesterday on the charge of insulting and threatening a police officer in the discharge of his duty. It seems that Health Officer Scharriff had a city cart in an alley on North Water, between Princess and Ochsens streets, removing some trash, rubbish, etc., when Brown drove his dray into the alley, insisting upon the officer's removing his cart. This latter said he would do so as soon as he got through with the work he was then engaged upon, whereupon, according to the testimony of Officer Scharriff, Brown was very impudent, and finally threatened to whip the official in question the first time he caught him "on the hill." The officer then shook his stick over the head of the offender, using some pretty harsh language, after which he stepped one side to look after his cart, and upon his return, a minute or two afterwards, Brown and his dray were gone. He subsequently had him arrested on a warrant, and Brown also had him arrested for assault, on a warrant issued by Justice Hill. — These were about all the facts brought out on the trial, and at the conclusion of the testimony Mayor Smith, after advising the officer as to his duty under such circumstances, suspended judgment in the case of Brown until this morning, at the opening of court, when the defendant was required to be present with witnesses to prove his character, he being placed under bond in the meantime for his appearance. — HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE—PALATABLE—Horsford's Acid Phosphate is easily acceptable to the stomach and palatable when all other medicines are objectionable.

Golden Hair and the Three Bears. — Although last night was exceedingly warm and sultry—the Opera-House was crowded with people assembled to witness the performance of the juvenile opera, "Golden Hair and the Three Bears," by amateur talent under the direction of Mr. A. B. Chase. — It had been generally whispered that the opera had been frequently and carefully rehearsed, and that it was to be an event of no ordinary interest, and seats for the entertainment were eagerly sought after as soon as the sale commenced. — Previous to the performance proper, the audience was favored with a song by a triple quartet of male voices, that produced a splendid effect and earned the singers a warm recall, in response to which, in our opinion, they surpassed their first effort. — After a brief delay the curtain rose on the first scene of the opera, disclosing a large and beautiful assemblage of children and young ladies, that captured the audience at once and called forth numerous expressions of their appreciation and enjoyment of the scene. — The story upon which the composition is founded is of course familiar to all, but the introduction of several original characters, thereby lengthening and changing somewhat the old story, gives it additional interest, and a plot stretched to afford a most agreeable diversion for an evening. — Miss Mary Lilly Keenan appeared as Golden Hair, and rendered her part with an ease and confidence of manner that was exceedingly winning, and the spectators were always quick to assure her of the pleasure her efforts gave them. The Woodland Queen was personated by Miss Fannie R. Williams, and regally attired, she bore herself with the becoming grace and dignity so well befitting the character. She made an elegant appearance, and her acting and singing were deservedly and enthusiastically praised on all sides. We are induced to hope that the success attending this her first appearance will result in giving the public the benefit of her services in our amateur entertainments hereafter. — Miss Annie Empie sang Faithful splendidly and was well entitled to the plaudits she so warmly received. Miss Fannie Empie looked lovely as Faithful, and acquitted herself with the greatest credit, as did also Miss Annie Whitehead and Miss Jackson in the minor, but no less important, roles of Lightfoot and Airy. — The Will of the Wisp, though having very little to do, did it exceedingly well, and Miss Thelma Lippitt, who took the role, showed herself easily capable of succeeding in a much more difficult part. — Mr. Geo. P. Welsh, as Big Bruin, Master Bennie Kuhnweiler, as Mummy Muff, and Master Dennis Hutton, as Tony Owl, were all good, and afforded great amusement by their queer antics and singing, but Master Hutton was the center of attraction, and all things considered, the best actor on the stage. His performance was wonderfully realistic, and the audience was never heard to better advantage than on last night, when he appeared as the Bard, and his singing gave much enjoyment. The success of the affair is due to this gentleman's untiring energy and patience in directing and training the performers who were kept laughing constantly when he was before them. Master Hutton came from Goldboro especially to appear in the part, and certainly it would be difficult to find his equal. — former, and the final result is one of which he may well feel proud. — Mrs. M. P. Taylor and Miss Anna Spruill played the accompaniments—a difficult task, but one which they apparently easily performed to the satisfaction alike of singer and auditor. — The appearance of so large a number of children on the stage, dressed as they were in light and airy costumes, was a most charming sight, and the effect of their singing was highly agreeable so thoroughly and admirably had they been trained. An especial feature of the evening was the marching of the young ladies and children. They went through the most intricate and pleasing manoeuvres with skill and correctness almost suggestive of military. The effect was magical, and literally brought down the house. — The whole affair was eminently a success, and all who witnessed it were well pleased, in fact so much so, that in response to a general request the management have been compelled to announce a repetition to-night, particulars of which appear among our advertisements. — Proposed "Outoken" Steps" on a Grand Scale. — We learn that there will be a cooking mass here on the 16th of June which will "astonish the natives." It will be between Wilmington, Charlotte and Mr. G. Arrington, of Nash county, and is expected to be the grandest affair of the kind which ever took place in North Carolina, it being anticipated that as many as fifty pairs will be pitted on the occasion. We need not say that our old friend, Mr. Edward Glavin, will be on hand and "in his glory," if spared till the important day arrives. — Arrested for Nighting. — Charles Anderson and Fred Bear, two men, engaged in an affray at the foot of Walnut street yesterday afternoon, but before much damage could be done by either, Officer Latham, of the police force, arrived on the scene and arrested the delinquent "pair" and took them to the guard house.

THE MORNING STAR can always be had at the following places in the city: The Purcell House, Raleigh News and Mail, and the STAR Office. — A LADY MARSHALL—A well established and prosperous Weekly Newspaper, located in a thriving growing town on the line of a prominent Railroad, is offered for sale. Terms easy. For terms and particulars apply to the editor of this paper. — "I DON'T WANT THAT STUFF," is what a Boston lady said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of a headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter it was administered to her with such good results that she continued its use until cured, and was so much benefited in her health that she has since sent two of the best families in her city to adopt it as their regular medicine. That stuff is Hop Bitters. — WHO IS MISS WINSLOW?—As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of forty years has unflinchingly devoted her time and talents as a Spanish Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of the infant class, and, as a result of this effort, and her practical knowledge obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children, which, if properly used, is an invigorating rest and health, and is moreover sure to relieve the most distressing ailments of infants. It is a household necessity. In consequence of this article, Miss Winslow is becoming world renowned as a benefactor of the race; children certainly do more and more benefit; especially this little Sufferer of the city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this humane article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by the timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No one who has ever used it can fail to be benefited by it. In our opinion, until she has given the benefit of Miss Winslow's Soothing Syrup, try it, and there—may it never cease to be sold. It is sold in every city, sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle. — NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. — OPERA HOUSE. — Tuesday Evening, May 31st. — REPETITION OF Little Golden Hair and the Three Bears, BY UNIVERSAL DESIRE. — General Admission Tickets only 25 cents.
