We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick child suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against a good medicine as Dr. Williams'—The Parents.—Telegraph.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.—Rev. Dr. Williams writes in the "Boston Christian Freeman"—"We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic, pain, quiet sleep, and its parents untroubled rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the child awakes as bright as a button." And during the process of teething, on any consideration, we have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had reached with the teething stage, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists, 25 cents a bottle.

On Tuesday Mrs. Amy Jones of Bear Creek township, being herself with a party of friends, was called to an elderly woman and no cause can be assigned for her suicide. She had been to a neighbor's in the morning in her usual good health, and went home and hung herself without giving any cause to suspect what she was going to do. Her husband committed suicide, many years ago, by shooting himself.

Raleigh News-Observer: We learn from the Fayetteville Examiner that although police have been distributed by the Western Union Telegraph Company along the line of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad from the Gulf to that town. The wire will be strung in a short time.

We sincerely regret to announce the destruction by fire of the extensive cotton mills on the Haw, owned by the Neuse Manufacturing Company. It is a matter that concerns us all. The mills were among the most productive in the State, employing over 800 hands, and furnishing a livelihood to perhaps 800 persons. The pecuniary loss to the owners will also be heavy, as it appears that the insurance is only $70,000, while the property destroyed is said to have cost $200,000.

Charlotte Democrat: Messrs. R. Y. McAdams, Sam'l Whitkowsky and John L. Morehead of this city, and N. Demost of Gaston county, have been appointed Vice Presidents of the Cotton Exposition which is to be held in Atlanta, Ga., in October next. The State, employing over 800 hands, and furnishing a livelihood to perhaps 800 persons. The pecuniary loss to the owners will also be heavy, as it appears that the insurance is only $70,000, while the property destroyed is said to have cost $200,000.

Some of the men who were engaged in the ballot box stuffing and frauds in the recent election in North Carolina are likely to come to grief. The United States grand jury sitting at Raleigh has found indictments against a majority of the Board of Canvassers of Halifax county for a willful and fraudulent refusal to count the votes cast at the Halifax polling place, and against a number of inspectors of election in the same county for changing the ballot-box for another box which contained a very large majority of Democratic ballots for congressmen. It came out in the investigation before the grand jury that duplicate ballot-boxes were made and stuffed with Democratic ballots for every polling place in Halifax county which should give a Republican majority. If these proceedings are pushed as they should be, ballot-box stuffers in North Carolina may learn that elections in that State are not such a farce, after all.

Spirits Turpentine. Mr. Taaker Polk retires from the Warren News and Mr. Robert E. King succeeds him as associate of Mr. H. A. Boyd.

The Charlotte Observer publishes Col. A. M. Wade's address before the Salem Female School, and a good one it is. The last three paragraphs are beautiful.

The Elizabeth City Carolinian has enlarged its borders. It is a good paper and has helped its section if it is kept up. It has just entered upon its thirtieth year.

Lenoir Topic: Hugh Grimes says he killed last Monday, just above W. A. Austin's house, a rattlesnake 1 1/2 inches round, nearly 4 inches through and 4 feet long, and that it had 23 rattles and a button.

The Elizabeth City Carolinian says of the late James P. Whedbee: "Wonderfully gifted by nature, the peer in intellect of any man in the State, what a bright future was before him. But alas! it has all suddenly ended."

Rockingham Bee: The interesting revival meeting at the Baptist church virtually closed Sunday night, (20th); fifteen persons were baptized by immersion in the evening at 5 o'clock. Rev. F. M. Jordan administered, witnessed by a very large number of people.

Winston Sentinel: Mr. William Loman, a well known citizen of this county, died very suddenly at his residence in the northern portion of town Monday evening. He was sitting in his yard, apparently in good health, when he was seized and he exclaimed, "I am getting so blind!" and fell over dead.

Mr. E. J. Hale writes to the Fayetteville Examiner: "Writing of books, I have two nearly ready for publication. 1st. An Illustrated Guide to the Mountains of Western North Carolina, with five photographs of scenery, by Miss Ida F. Chunn, of Asheville, a lady who evidently knows whereof she writes, and writes with taste and enthusiasm. I predict that this will be an indispensable companion for the tourist, who no longer resorts for health and pleasure to that charming region. Price 50 cents."

Concord Sun: It is very likely that before another year there will be an end to the cotton factory in Concord. Mr. Wm. Smith started on the road of cotton on Monday and succeeded in getting $90,000 subscribed the first day. This can and will be easily run up to $100,000 or $200,000.

Speaking of Davidson College we may mention that it began the last year in debt $1,900, and has now liquidated every cent, besides furnishing tuition to a number of worthy students free of charge. A fine financial showing, and should reflect credit upon the management. The college pays to the faculty annually $10,000.

Stationsville American: A large anti-prohibition convention was held in Wilkesboro on the 6th of June. A raiding party in Wilkes, scouting whiskey from afar, visited the premises of a leading prohibitionist, a man of note in that county, who had held high positions, and captured and destroyed his illicit distillery, which had a long time been in use. The Union mass meeting against the prohibition law, which assembled in Statesville, last Tuesday, was the largest assemblage of voters that has taken place here in a great while. The court room was packed to its utmost capacity, and many occupied standing room outside.

Reidsville Times: We hear that the negro Taylor when told he had to work, and with the hope around him, now in Wentworth jail was guilty with him of the crime to say so, refused to say a word and so died. Before that he implicated Gunn. T. E. Reid, Esq., son of Gov. Reid, came from Westworth yesterday. He says his father was dressed and sitting up. The paralysis in his right side is so much better that he can use his arm in drinking water and can cross the affected leg as easily as his good one. His mind is as clear as ever.

THE MALIFAX MATTER. The subjoined article we clip from the Baltimore American, an able Republican paper. It is the first intimation we have seen of the action of the grand jury in the U. S. Court. How much of truth there is in the whole account we cannot say. It is to be wished that there is no basis of truth whatever. The Democratic party cannot afford to tolerate or condone anything akin to fraud or intimidation in elections. If it were to become the practice of the party to cheat and ballotee really, as their enemies have accused them so often (falsely, it would be deserted by thousands of the best and purest of the party. The Democrats of North Carolina are in deed and in truth in favor of fair and free elections and an honest count. The Star stands upon that strong platform and will stand upon no other. But here is what the American says:

"Some of the men who were engaged in the ballot box stuffing and frauds in the recent election in North Carolina are likely to come to grief. The United States grand jury sitting at Raleigh has found indictments against a majority of the Board of Canvassers of Halifax county for a willful and fraudulent refusal to count the votes cast at the Halifax polling place, and against a number of inspectors of election in the same county for changing the ballot-box for another box which contained a very large majority of Democratic ballots for congressmen.
