This is a practical illustration of the old saw, "Do not speak unless you have something to say." We have contended always that Gladstone was a wise and great man.

Amos Pitkin, of Charlotte, Michigan, has been married three times. I'wo of the women are living, and he has no wife and there has been no divorce. But the story is too mixed, and long, though probably true, for us to copy. His first wife died; his second wife was the widow of a dead soldier who would not stay dead and came back. His third left him after a few months because she was "home sick" and wanted to go back to her children. This is romantic, very.

THE CONDILION OF THE PRESI-

We are glad to be able to say that the condition of the President is somewhat improved. He is still in danger, however, and the country will be relieved very greatly if the attending physicians shall be able to say decidedly and soon that he is out of danger. The unexpected relapse has excited the popular apprehension afresh, and the suspense is painful. The prayers of all who have access with God should be offered up to the Restorer of the wounded that His healing power shall be applied. Our dispatches will give the latest intelli-

Whether Mr. Henry Irving is a great actor or not may be questioned. but that he is magnanimous, liberal and appreciative of art in others there can be no doubt. He said in London on Saturday evening, at the close of his annual benefit performance, of our greatest American actor, gence concerning the President.

"Of his great qualities as an actor you have had no scanty proof, for, after representing at the Princess Theatre many of the leading Shakespearean characters with signal'abilitv. he was received here with nightly demonstrations of enthusiasm, which have more than confirmed the great mpression he had already made, and which were as gratifying to myself as they must have been to him. Mr. Booth's artistic fellowship, high courtesy and single-minded devotion to our art has made his engagement one of the most delightful associations in my remembrance. Above all, I am gratified to think it an additional link to the many bonds of amity and good will which it should be the pride of Englishmen and Americans to maintain.

— Gastonia Gazette: Mr. William Smith, an old and respected farmer of Steel Creek, Mecklenburg county, was registered at the Kee Hotel Monday. He had his sixth wife with him.

— Wadesbore Times: Our farmers generally report ection small, though looking well, notwithsianding the dry weather. Early corn is nearly ruined, and weather. Early corn is nearly ruined, and that planted late will not make more than a half crop, except in low grounds.

- Henderson Tobacconist: Several new buildings have been commenced since our last issue. — $13,714 was paid out by one firm from one sale of tobacco. The first station on the O. & H. Road has been reached, and is called Herndon.

- Elizabeth City Economist: In the indications of thorough manhood, there is no part of Western North Carolina that equals the 800 population of Roanoke Island. This is probably attributable to their proximity to the ocean, to the abundance and superior quality of their food, and to the hardy and strenuous labors that they are often compelled to perform in the perils of their adventurous life.

-Charlotte Observer: A statement of the shipments of cotton from this market up to date for the last cotton year begin-ning September 1, 1880, has just been made out and sent to the New York Cotton Exchange. The total of the shipments is 51,142 bales. - Miss Ella Franklin, an estimable and well known young lady of this city, died at the residence of her mother at 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

- Morganton Blade: A man by the name of Sparks, employed by Mr. P. A. Abernethy in a mica mine near Bakersville, became offended at him by some means and threatened last Saturday to kill Mr. Abernathy before aundown. That afternoon he sttempted to carry out his threat, whereupon Mr. Abernethy shot him. He is said to be in a very critical condition. The whole community regard Mr. A. as being justified

- Charlotte Observer: A basket picnic at Brevard's station, in Gaston couny, Saturday, ended in what is described as a bloody free fight. A man named Rhyne struck another named Brady with a rock. The latter in turn literally cut Rhyne to hurt. Warrants were put in the hands of her wharf at 9 o'clock. A good chance for the sheriff of Gaston for the arrest of Brady, but he has not yet been apprehended. Rhyne is not yet deed.

- The following is a synopsis of the railroad arrangements for the celebra-tion at Kinston on the 3rd day of August: From Weldon, $1.50; Tarboro, $1.25; Raleigh, $1.00; Dutham, $1.25; Hillsboro, $1.25; Greensboro, $1.50; Winston, $1.75; Salisbury, $2.25; Statesville, $2.60; Charlotte, $2.75; Wilmington, $1.50. Troops will be transported over the Carolina Central Railway at two cents per mile, and over the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley road at one fare.

- Fayetteville Examiner: It is believed now in the best, informed quarters that the wheat crop of 1881 will be less than that of last year. Nor does the prospect of an overwhelmingly large cotton crop appear as good now as it did some time back. - Haynes Sheridan, a colored man, lost his life in the Cape Fear River on Monday last, at McDowell's Barn, four miles above Elizabethtown. He went in bathing, and got beyond his depth, and being unable to swim, was drowned.

- Elizabeth City Economist: The dry weather that prevailed so long injured crops, caused the cotton to be attacked and injured by lice and fears of rust are entertained by farmers. The truck crop has not been a success this season, owing to the low prices. The oat crop is poor and forage is scarce. —We had the pleasure of a call from Aug. Dough, of East Lake, last week. He informs us that a wealthy English sporting club is negotiating for the purchase of the Roper Swamp lands, of Dare for the purpose of bear-hunting. The Ro per tract is said to embrace some 180,000

- Shelby Aurora: The building of the Air Line Railroad has increased the value of the property at King's Mountain from $3,500 to something over $100,000.

— It is an undeniable fact that the extension of the Virginia Midland Railroad will save the farmers of Cleaveland from 75 cents to $1 00 on every bale of cotton that they sell. — Flux seems to be the prevailing disease in this section at present. - There is not a vacant dwelling in this place. - Cotton is looking much better in all sections of this county since the recent rains. - Our town is filled with strangers They are mostly from the eastern portion

- Lenoir Topic: Lenoir will, in time to come, when all of the projected railroads are finished, be one of the most important railroad centres in Western North Carolina. The Chester road, the Yandkin Valley road, and the Tinsalis road all tend this way, and now there is man has been interviewing Capt. William Cain, late on the Imboden survey, but now employed on the Midland route, and he says that Gen. miles from Pittsboro. — Gul., N. C., July 25, 1881. N. B. Taylor was captured to-day at J. W. Talley's by Sheriff Brewer, of Chatham, who carried him to Pittsboro jail. This is an important arrest. The prisoner and various other crimes against the State law, and has violated the revenue laws again and again. For two years he has been hunted by the revenue people and by the county authorities. - Statesville Landmark: It is understood that the meeting of the directors of the North Carolina Midland, for the purpose of locating definitely the line of certificate to teach a public school appeared before the examiner last week, and the crop, though it is claimed by some that corn on uplands has been more seriously damaged. The drouth began early in the transplanting season, and very faw succeeded in planting a full crop of tobacco. The acreage in cotton, in this section, very nearly doubles that of last year—but this crop, it is said, has been greatly damaged.

At no time did the thermometer go above 993 in Statesville, and this for only small part of any day. Wilmington highest is 95.)

The Late David Piget.

From an article in the Savannah Morning News of Monday we take the following additional particulars in regard to the sudden death of Mr. David Pigot, refered to in

"The announcement Saturday that Mr. David Pigot, a well known and popular naval stores broker, had been found dead in his bed at the Pavilion Hotel occasioned general regret. Mr. Pigot the last two days had complained of the excessive heat, which, it seems, affected him greatly, but did not incapacitate him from attending to business. On Friday, which will be re-membered as an intensely hot day, he was very busily engaged, and about half-past 5 o'clock returned to his hotel rather prostrated and retired to his room. About 8 o'clock Dr. Johnson, proprietor of the ho-tel, visited him, and found that he had a fever, but he was conscious, and did not consider he was seriously ill. At 1 o'clock he was again visited, and it was found that his fever had abated and he was resting very comfortably. Saturday merning he was found dead in his bed, having expired some time between 1 and 6 o'cleck, and from subsequent examination it is supposed from internal hemorrhage. He was a member of the Savannah Naval Stores Association, a committee of which took charge of his remains and made are rangements for his funeral. The remains were interred in Laurel Grove Cemetery Saturday afternoon.

It has during the past few years been greatly improved. Its Scholastic Arrangements have been remodeled and its standards advanced. It now offers all the advantages of similar institutions of the highest grade. A large number of instructors is employed, and painstaking instruction is guaranteed. It offers a liberal English, or English and classical course for graduation, and under its new administration has already graduated (with diploma) four very promising classes.

The Domestic Arrangements of the Academy have latterly been readapted to secure to its resident pupils the largest measure of comfort and convenience. Eight resident teachers are centinually in charge, and give special attention to the cultivation of correct manners and habits in growing girls. Bystematic and enlightened physical culture and care of health are prominent features in the improvements recently perfected.

Exceptional facilities are offered for the study of Museo. The results tof practical work in its Music Department, during the past few years, would warrant the Academy, in the judgment of competent critics, in inviting comparison with any other suntiar institution in the South. A two to three years' Graduating Course (with diploma) has quite recently been introduced.

Special attention is directed to the advantages now also obtainable in the Department of Drawing And Painting, which has been reorganized and placed in charge of a lady of special ability and superior training. A high standard of excellence will be maintained and the best methods observed. A variety of branches of study is offered and careful tuition is guaranteed.
