Why was the Kinston celebration placed on the 3rd of August, the day before the election? Who knows?

The thermometer at the STAR office shows this record for the last five days: Tuesday 26, 88 degrees; 27, 794; 28, 83; 29, 84; 30, 81.

Just as we hinted. The articles in the N. Y. Herald aimed against the President's physicians were written or inspired by a physician "who was not called in.

"It is stated that ex-Gov. Hubbard, of Connecticut, intends to give a $20,000 law library to the Hartford Bar Association." - Exchange. It would be more Christian like if he would send $20,000 to that danghter of his who married a man:

"The rank is but the guines-stamp. The man's the gowd for a' that."

Mr. A. L. Huntt telegraphs to Richmond, Va., that he acted simply in defence of his life. The Atlanta Constitution says:

"His bearing in the affair was as gallant as any man's could have been, and his friends here have stuck by him faithfully all the time. To-day the case was called for preliminary examination, and Huntt, waiving examination, gave bond for his appearance. He will have every right protected, and has made many new friends since the difficulty occurred."

We see it mentioned that Gov. Smith, of Wisconsin, has called out the militia to suppress lawlessness. This moves the Louisville Courier-Journal to propose that the South should aid them at this bour. It наув: "The South has a patriotic duty to perform in this emergency; she should send missionaries and school teachers to the benighted men of Wisconsin. If something of this kind is not done Wisconsin and other States will sink into utter barbarism." By all means send the missionaries and school teachers.

Tourgee lives at Mayville, N. Y. He is a big man up in those parts. He held a "reception" recently. Everybody holds receptions in those regions. He calls his new home, just built, "Thornheim"-translation, "Fool's Home." Tourgee is no fool though, if his "errand" looked that way when he helped to suck the depleted South. "Fool's Fome" was built with the money his "Bricks Without Straw" brought him. He got money from Swepson for his North Carolina home. See "Fraud Commission" report. His new way of getting a home is an improvement on his old way. Tourgee progresses. Vive la bagatelle.

THE MORNING ST

VOL. XXVIII .-- NO, 112.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, JULY 31, 1881.

During 1880 7:000 miles of railroads were built. Of this 600 were in the South. At this rate, vast as our country is, it will not require many years to cover it with a network. The South gets but a small share. The total mileage of the country is now nearly 94,000 - 34,000 miles more than were in operation in 1870. The capital and funded debt of the railroads, representing cost of road, plant and fixtures, is now $4,897,000,000, equal to a little over $52,000 a mile; the gross earnings are $615,000,000, and the net earn-

The N. Y. Churchman, the ablest paper possibly of the Episcopal Church in this country, takes ground against the report of Bishop Potter's committee in the case of Rev. Edward Cowley, of "Shepherd's Fold" notoriety. We quote:

ings are $255,000,000, equal to about

042 per cent. on gross debited outlay.

The dividends paid are $77,000,000.

or nearly 1 6-10 per cent. on gross outlay (capital and funded debt) .

"It makes the point that, the findng of that body 'places the Church in the attitude of shielding, by one of her officers, a man whom a civil court has condemned, and whom no court of her own has acquitted.' Further on, the editor says: 'It is, of course, proper for Mr. Cowley to withdraw from the ministry, and in that case the Church would have no further responsibility; but as it stands, we believe that churchmen are disappoint-

Mr. R. K. Bryan, of the Fayetteville Examiner, informs us that the corn in the upper Cape Fear section, including the counties of Cumberland, Moore, Harnett, &c., has been damaged quite seriously by drought, and it is not likely that more than two-thirds of the usual yield will be realized. He reports the cotton crop in the same section, however, as in very fair condition.

DITOR STAR : In your paper of a recent date, over the signature of "Homo Querulus," appears an article, objecting in a measure to the unusual ensation created on North Front Street, caused by the army of Bargain Seekers now flocking to the Grand "Bight Weeks" Cost Sale, at Otterbourg's Men's Wear Depot. While the writer of said communication does not object directly to the new life infused into business by the Proprietor of the Iron Front Store, but rather approves of the spirit, yet he helds it as his opinion that the public thorough-fare ought not to be barred by the hundreds of people who are daily and eagerly wending their way to Otterbourg's Men's Wear Depot, in search of rare Bargains in Clothing and Furnishing Goods. As an old and retired merchant, one possessed of a practical experience of over thirty years, I emphatically rule your correspondent ent of order, and express my delight in the energy and spirit which has predominated in Otterbourg's Men's Wear Depot during its four years' existence in our midst. Let the good work go on, L. J. O.; the people of Wilming ton have lived satisfactorily for the past two weeks, surely they can find the same blessing during the remaining six weeks of your Grand and Successful Cost Sale. Let the springs of business expand; block the streets, close them up entirely if you like; I'm with the man, heart and soul, who possesses the snap to rush business, while others are lavishing. As long as Otterbourg sells good Business Suits for Right and Ten Dollars, Fine Dress Suits for Twelve and Fifteen Dollars, best British Half Hose at 25c, finest Linen Collars 12½c, elegant White Lawn Ties 15c per dezen, Linen Cuffs 30c per pair, Pepperell Jean Drawers 50c, and Geauine Linen Handkerchiefs at 15c, you can just count on the eld man standing with a firm shoulder to the wheel of Energy and Business, against the worm eaten Hub of Deepondency and Failure.
