WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1881.

The following is an excellent show- | favorable circumstances cannot be more ing for the United States. It is full of encouragement and not without a note of warning:

"The excess of experts of merchandise from the United States for the twelve months ending June 30, 1881 was $259,726,254; for the year ended June 30, 1880, $167,683,912, a difference of $92,042,342 in one year. The excess of exports and of imports of gold and silver coin and bullion was as follows: For the twelve months ended June 30, 1881, excess of imports, $91,168,650; twelve months ended June 30, 1880, excess of imports, $75,691,391. During the last fiscal year the value of the imports of merchandise amounted to $902,319,-473, being larger than ever before in the history of the country. The valuation of the imports of merchandise amounted to $642,583,219, and was year with the exception of the year ended June 30, 1880. The total value of the foreign commerce of the United States' imports and exports of merchandise amounted to $1,544,912,692, and exceeded that of any previous

An interesting letter from London in the Philadelphia Times gives pleasant account of Henry Irving, the actor who has taken England captive He is the best of the craft among his countrymen. We copy a paragraph:

"I can only repeat that Mr. Irving is an actor of the highest intelligence, of an intelligence, indeed, very unusual on the stage; that he has marked manuerism, which, although one can but note, one soon learns to overlook; that he is quick, fertile, inventive; that he is an artist to the ends of his fingers, leaving nothing to chance, but thinking everything out to the last detail; that his comedy is ever fresh and delightful; that he is by far the most interesting actor in land, and that if he is not a genius it is only because genius is a word easy to use and hard to define."

Have you made up your mind what sort of looking man Hartmann is? Do you not fancy him a large, powerfully built man, with a hawknose, keen eyes set deep down in cavernous sockets, with a large mouth filled with horse teeth? Here is his pen-portrait taken from a Northern

"Hartmann, the bloody-minded Nihilist, is a short, lithe man, with a small head and small hands. His hair, which is of a light color, is cut closely and stands out in all directions from his head. He wears a full beard which is of the same tint. His eyes are particularly keen and bright,

Dr. Bliss is disgusted, thoroughly, at the condition of the Presidential mansion. He thinks it a disgrace to the American people. He is reported

"I don't see how in the world Gen. Grant and Mr. Hayes stood it as long as they did. Why, you can't imagine what a foul odor aruses from the bath rooms and closets in the house. There are two closets in the centre of the building without the slightest ventillation. A light has to be kept constantly burning in them. This house is a disgrace to the nation. I will go before a congressional committee and make a statement to that effect."

The Mecklenburg Iron Works last week filled a $1,700 order for machinery for a mine in Colorado.

- North Carolina Presbyterian: The editor of the Robesonian stopped a few days since for a little while at the residence of Rev. A. McQueen, the former pastor of Bethel Church. Mr. McDiarmid says: "Mr. McQueen is recovering permanently, hope and believe, from his recent attack, and looks quite as well as ever, but he informed me that he was not gaining strength as rapidly as he had wished. His physicians have advised him to abstain from preaching this year.'

- Lumberton Robesonian: There has been received in this market since last report 43 bales-total to date 6,209 bales-- A terrible fire has been raging for the last few days in the piny woods south of this place, and has done much damage to the timber on the lands of J. C. McLean - Rev. Grandison, a colored minister from Wilmington, delivered a prohibition lecture in the Court House in this town last Saturday night to a very intelligent and attentive audience. The speech was one of the best we have heard during the campaign.

- Goldsboro Advance: Being at Morehead City one day last week, we saw Mr. W. S. Arendall slaughter one of the largest sea turtles ever captured on the coast of North Carolina. It was a female, and had four hundred and thirty-two well formed eggs, besides a countless number in the formative stage. — Tidings reached us Sunday night of the death of Sister Jinnie Bule Thompson, wife of Rev. Money. Deputy Marshal L. A. Lawson, of Robeson county, brought to this city yesterday two colored prisoners named Sam. Owens and Jesse Hall, charged with passing, or attempting to pass, counterfeit money. The case came up before U. S. Commissioner McQuigg, when it was developed by the evidence that Hall had a piece of brass about the shape and somewhat resembling in appearance a five-dollar gold piece, which he brightened up and then got his friend Owens to take it to the store of Mr. Daniel Register, at Bladenboro, Bladen county, and get it changed. Mr. Register, who cannot see very good, for which reason he was probably selected as being the most likely not to detect the fraud, gave Owens part of the change and told him to call again and get the balance. In the meantime, his suspi cions being excited, he showed it to some of his friends and asked their opinion of the pretended coin, and finally had it tested with acid, when it was found to be spurious, whereupon he had the parties arrested. It was further shown that Hall the public as a notably pleasant and safe home and high class school for girls and young women.

It has during the past few years been greatly improved. Its season area agreements have been remodeled and its standards advanced. It now offers all the advantages of similar institutions of the highest grade. A large number of instructors is employed, and beinstaking instruction is guaranteed. It offers a liberal English, or English and classical course for graduation, and under its new administration has already graduated (with diploma) four very promising classes.

The Domestic Absancements of the Academy have latterly been readapted to secure to its resident pupils the largest measure of comfort and convenience. Eight resident teachers are centimally in charge, and give special attention to the cultivation of correct manners and habits in growing girls. Systematic and enlightened physical culture and care of health are prominent features in the improvements recently perfected.

Exceptional facilities are offered for the study of Music. The results for practical work in its Music Department, during the past few years, would warrant the Academy, in the Judgment of competent critics in inviting comparison with any other similar institution in the South. A two to three years' Graduating Course (with diploma) has quite recently been introduced.
