ELECTION NOTES.

The latest estimates at Raleigh indicate a majority of 60,000 to 70, 000 against prohibition.

Holden was very decided in the opinion that the State would vote for probibition. As a political prophet the ex-Governor is not an eminent saccess. Signal of the art of

Some of our prohibition friends think "it ain't much of a shower, after all." It looks to us like the wettest season we've had in North ment. Carolina since the flood.

The vote of Waccamaw township, Columbus county, was a little Short of the estimate given us, but our friends over there can continue to take their "Shorts" all the same.

Thus for that prohibition county has not been heard from. But we have several deputies out, all around with search warrants, and we still have hope that their energetic efforts will be crowned with success.

Two townships in Nash county gave 438 votes against and one vote for prohibition. A friend suggests that Nash is a celebrated brandy county. But, really, it looks like they are all brandy counties this time.

The young man who said, just before the polls closed, that the vote of the Filth Ward was so close he couldn't tell which side had the majority, has beretofore enjoyed our fullest confidence as a political calculator; but he is now retired on half

The Raleigh News Obs. says the STAR indulged in the vagary of giving an estimate of the probable result of the election and could only figure out about 20,000 majority for its side. The News-Obs. could do nothing of the kind because it had no side to figure on. Our esteemed was not at all off-fence-ive, however.

Chairman Gudger, of the State Prohibition Association, predicted, a few days before the election, that the prohibition bill would be ratified by 35,000 to 40,000 majority. He was only about 100,000 votes out of the way, Candidly, we would not like to bet our currency on Chairman Gudger's figures. As an arithmetic man he is not a pronounced success.

Mr. Worth said: "The German Carp released during the last quarter, of 5 and 6 mohes as heard from in three instances were: W. J. Green, Fayetteville, Carp, 13 inches long; J. S. Maultsby, Fayette-ville, Carp, 82 inches long; Mr. Joe Haywood, Raleigh, Carp, 172 ounces. I have further reports as to their be-not so exact as in these cases."

We do not see the Washington Republican. We learn from an exchange that the Radical oracle at the capital of the Union declares that if Garfield had died there would have been civil war. Who would have made it? The answer is, we suppose, the Blaine men would have resisted

> A Mr. Bigelow, of Boston, writes to the Riebmond Dispatch that common Yankee usage is "named after." He things "for" is to be preferred. But, that for ten years we have been on the look-out among leading British writers and we have never found one saying "named for."

> The Northern papers are discussing the inability of the President. Some think Blaine has been President de facto long enough, and that it is about time V. P. Arthur took hold. The country would prefer Blame, but

The Spanish Government will purchase 13,000 hogsheads of Virginia and Kentucky tobacco. How much North Catolina weed will come in without credit?

The selection of Msj. John W. Daniel by the Conservatives of Virginia as their candidate for Governor is no doubt a strong one. He is able, brilliant and dashing and will make a splendid canvass. James Barbour is the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, and Peter W. McKinney for Attorney General. A good trio and they will make things lively. We hope victory will result to the cause of honesty, purity and good govern-

The Caswell Celebration. From the Raleigh News-Observer we gather a few points of interest in connection with the unveiling of the monument erected to Gov. Richard Caswell at Kinston, on August 4, 1881. There were from 5,000 to 7,500 people present.

The Governor of the State and his staff were received by the military. The procession moved to the monument in the following order :

Military; the Governor and his staff in carriages; the orator of the day and president of the Caswell Memorial Association; the Grand Lodge of Masons; descendants of Governor Caswell in carriages; State officers, members of Congress, members of the Judiciary, members of the Legislature and members of the Press in carriages; members of the Caswell Association; other civic organizations; citizens generally.

On arrival at the monument Mr. E F. Cox, president of the Caswell Monument Association, formally turned it over to the Grand Lodge. Grand Master H. F. Grainger, in a graceful speech, received it. A prayer was then offered by the Grand Chaplain, Rev. F. D. Swindell. Grand Secretary D. W. Bain then announced the articles deposited in the corner-stone. The usual ceremonies were then conducted.

Senator Vance then delivered an interesting and appropriate address. Gov. Jarvis followed "in a ringing address"-then the unveiling took

His dwelling was in great danger, but happily was saved by great exertion. Cause of the fire is unknown. ——It is generally conceded by good farmers that the present growing crop of cotton is the best ever made in this vicinity.

- Raleigh News-Observer: Last, when completed, will be one of the largest evening witnessed the mournful ending of what was undertaken by the Raleigh Light Infantry as a trip of pleasure. Everything was quiet till late in the afternoon, when the town marshal arrested a negro and was raking him to the guard house. The negro resisted and the officer clubbed him, felling him to the ground. The cry was raised among the negroes that the town officer had killed a negro. In a moment a crowd of negroes, very much excited, gathered around and an attempt was made to mob the officer, who had to fly for his life, with the mob in pursuit, crying "kill him." The sheriff, with a posse of whites, rushed to the officer's house, where he had taken refuge, and prevented the mob from entering. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has preved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a buttom." And during the awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable.
