The South is a horrible country to ive in, quoth your regular machine organ. Look at its murders. Look at its lawlessness. And yet all this time life is cheap in the North, murders are very common, violations of chastity abounding, divorces "too numerous to mention," and thefts, burglaries and forgeries thick as snowflakes.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean, ripsnorting Radical sheet, has this statemente milit by title 1917

"There have been twenty-two murders in Chicago since the 1st of January. Last year there were thirty-six. This is not alone a horrible showing. It is one also that reflects disgrace upon the city. Judged from any point of view it is a revelation that should beget earnest efforts to discover the cause of all this violence, and if possible, devise measures to

This is about as many as there have been in North Carolina in that time, with nearly a million and a half population. Think of it: Chicago alone can furnish annually forty murders. We do not believe there are more than that number perpetrated in North Carolina in a year.

A man named George L. Smith, somewhat intoxicated, went into the rooms of the Brush Electric Light Company, Buffalo, New York. He was killed at once by artificial lightning, as the following explains

"He leaned over the railing which keeps outsiders at a distance from the machinery, and, before a warning word could be said, he had grabbed the first and third brushes. Mr. Chaffe saw what he was about to do and made a jump for him. His and stuck fast to the brushes, and giving the engineer the word to stop the engine, he took hold of Smith and endeavored to pull him from his hold. This he was unable to do, but as soon as the engine stopped Smith raised himself to his feet, and, throwing up his arms, gave a loud gasp and expired instantly. The thing was done so quickly that those who witnessed it could scarcely believe their eyes. Smith's face had a pale bluish tint, and was drawn out of shape. His hands were badly burned bids the issuing of bonds by the new auand on several of the fingers the flesh was burned to the bone.'

The carts were taken up to the City Hall, and one of the owners who resisted was arrested, but afterwards released, and his cart delivered to him on the promise that he would immediately remove it. Afterwards a warrant was issued for Officer John O'Brien, who was charged with assault and battery upon W. J. Howard, in Justice Millis, when the prosecuting witness said he was the wrong man, and the case was dismissed at the complainant's cost. A warrant was then issued for Officer B. F. Latham, on the same charge, and, after hearing the case, and the prosecutor failing fully to identify him as the officer who made the arrest, he was also discharged at the cost of the complainant. Landon Perkins, colored, an employe of the city government, who carried one of the carts to the City Hall by order of the Mayor, after it had been (as alleged by the city) on the street an hour and a half beyond the time allowed by the ordinance, was also arrested and had a hearing before Justice Millis, on an affidavit sworn out by one Mr. Greer, owner of the cart referred to, on the charge of trespass, and his case was also dismissed at the cost of the prose-

It was in evidence that those who called for their carts which had been seized recovered their property without difficulty, on making a proper explanation, and Mayor Smith, who was present, stated that he had no desire to prosecute the defendants, but merely wanted to secure a compliance with the law upon the easiest terms possible, and without detriment to the interests of the marketmen.

Violent Assault Upon a Colored The usual quietude of the midnight hour was disturbed Wednesday night by cries of murder in the vicinity of Dock and Water streets, and it transpired that Lucy Morse, colored, had been assaulted by the well know Wm. Phinney. The woman informed the police officers who came to her rescue that she went to the pump to get some water when Phinney first knocked her down with a brick, and then cut her severely with a knife. Phinney ran off at the approach of the police, and they pursued him for some distance, but failed to overtake him. Yesterday morning, about 4:80 o'clock, however, Sergeant Davis, accompanied by Officers Gordon and Harris, arrested Phinney somewhere on Nutt street, and took him to the guard house, where he awaits a hearing before Mayor Smith this morning.

Lucy Morse, the colored woman upon whom the assault was made, has previously figured in several difficulties with Phinney. Her injuries, though severe, are not considered in any wise dangerous.

Darby, City Attorney, who has been collecting arrears of taxes due from 1871 to 1878, under direction of the Board of Aldermen and the Board of Audit and Finance, yesterday turned over to the city tax deeds, neatly bound in alphabetical order, comprising a full list, with accurate description of all property on which the taxes remain unpaid up to and including 1878, thus putting in concise shape all the back tax business of the city. To provide against any uncertainty in finding property sold for taxes by the names of the supposed owners, as in some instances property may have changed hands within the years for which the deeds cover, Mr. Darby has fixed upon an ingenious plan, that is, an index of all the property sold by blocks numerically arranged, so that by reference to the blocks deeds may be referred to at once. The whole work evinces much care and labor in its conception and execution.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.—Rev Spivanus Cobb thus writes in the "Boston Christian Freeman":—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever. No institute in the Bouth has a more experienced and successful corps of teachers, and from the thoroughness characterizing every department of instruction, no better Normal School can be found. The instructress in English Language, History and Literature has, by fifteen years' experience, established an unequaled reputation as an accomplished teacher. The instructress in Modern Languages, during her attendance at Amherst Normal School of Modern Languages, was assigned a class to teach by Dr. Bauveur himself, who complimented her thoroughness of instruction in the highest terms. The instructress in Elecution has for four or five years been one of the most accomplished teachers of the Augusta Female Seminary (fines Baldwin's), Staunton, Va. For the thorough and successful manner in which Mathematics and the Natural Sciences are taught, reference is unhesitatingly made to the officers and teachers of the present Normal School at Onspel Hill, where the instructor in these departments is now engaged in teaching. The Art Exhibit at the last commencement was pronounced by the citizens of Charlotte the finest they had ever seen; in the State. The instructress in this department, after studying at the best Art Schools in the North, spent a year studying her profession in Europe, and is not only an accomplished but experienced teacher. The Husic Department, under the direction of Dr. Bides, is nurivalled in the South for the thoroughness and high grade of its culture.
