Well, the carpet-bagger made a speech, and true to his character for veracity he denied emphatically that the political life of the time was corrupt. This was too much for the crowd who knew Sessions and Tourgee, so a big laugh went up.

It is evident that the Northern people have about lost hope of the recovery of the President. It is now known that his condition is extremely critical and that he has but a poor chance in the battle for life. Fire at Lumberton. When the train on the Carolina Central road passed Lumberton'yesterday morning, about 5 o'clock, a fire was raging in the neighborhood of the depot, which was found to have consumed the still and fixtures of Messrs. Berry Godwin & Co., (the Co. being Mr. J. McD. French, formerly of this city), together with their stock of rosin, crude turpentine and spirits turpentine, a valuable engine, a warehouse containing heavy groceries, such as corn, bacon, flour, etc., and five or six guano houses. The fire, which was under control when the train passed, broke out about 4 o'clock, and was the work of an incendiary, fire having been set to the property in three different places.

Messrs. Goodwin & Co. could not core rectly estimate their loss at the time, but it is supposed that it will range from $3,500 to $5,000, upon which there was no insurance. Their store, which was some distance from the other buildings, and was insured, was not destroyed.

One vessel was blown ashore The information given is not sufficient to determine the path of the storm, but the centre will probably move northwest, and unless it recurves to the southwest, it will reach the Atlantic coast. While storm signals will not be displayed at present the Chief Signal Officer considers it advisable to send special warning to all Atlantic ports and caution shipping against possible danger for the next two or three days from this hurricane.

The following are the Indications for the South Atlantic States to-day: Fair weather, winds mostly northeasterly, with stationary temperature and stationary or lower pressure.

The Columbia Register mentions the fact that the Bath Mills, of Aiken county, in that State, furnishes it with specimens of paper made out of pine straw. One specimen is a thick board paper of the thickness of possibly a sixteenth of an inch, having a sort of plaited fibre; the other is an excellent paper which can be furnished by the mill at three-fourths of a cent chesper per pound than the same class of paper is sold for in New York. The mill is now manufacturing two hundred reams per day. The Register adds: "Of course we have no knowledge of the cost of reducing this pine straw to pulp, but with the vast pine forests of the South carpeted with this straw, they would seem to afford an illimitable supply of raw material." Large quantities of pine straw in its crude state have been brought to this city for the past two or three years for shipment facture of mattresses and for various other purposes, after undergoing certain processes, by the first of which a kind of oil is extracted from it. The straw in question is becoming a valuable article in the commerce of the South, and the large amount of it in this section will no doubt be soon utilized in the same manner as above, as it is very likely that one or more paper mills will be established in Wilmington or its vicinity at an early day, to manufacture paper from wood and straw pulp.

Our friends in the Eastern counties are seeking a better market for their productions, and very naturally their eyes turn in the direction of Wilmington, where they have reason to expect to find a ready sale and the best of prices for their corn and other produce. That they are in earnest is evidenced by extracts from papers in that section. The Washington Press of a few days ago, under the head of "What Washington Needs," says: "A railroad from this place to some point on the Wilmington & Weldon road would make this a fine corn market; it would help us and our Hyde county friends and pay the stockholders. Can't we have it?"

And following right on the heels of this comes the Greenville Express with this paragraph, under the head of "Good": "The Wilmington & Weldon Railroad is prospecting along the line of the river with a view of constructing a railroad to transport corn to Wilmington, one of the best grain markets in the South. Go shead! We've got the corn and will help build the road to take it to market.

Cotton and Corn. A gentleman of this city, who has just returned from a business trip by private conveyance through Brunswick and Coumbus counties, in this State, and Horry county, in South Carolina, informs us that the cotton crop in those counties is badly damaged by the drought, and that the yield in the sandy lands will, in all probability, fall short fully fifty per cent. In some few instances, in fact, there will not be one-fifth of a crop made. In the stiffer lands, however, the damage has not been so serious. The corn crop, though damaged to some extent, he thinks will come fully up to the average.

The alarm of fire yesterday morning, about a quarter of 11 o'clock, was caused by the burning of a hole about four feet square in the roof of a frame dwellinghouse on the northwest corner of Fifth and Castle streets, occupied by a colored woman named Eliza Lucas. The fire, which originated from a spark from the chimney, was put out by the neighbors before the engines reached the spot. The same house caught fire in the same way a few weeks ago.

Had a Good Time. The excursion on the steamer Passport yesterday, under the auspices of our Catholic friends, was well attended and intensely enjoyed. The boat went about five miles to sea, and those of the excursionists who ventured outside enjoyed a pleasant ride on the rolling billows. It was, in fact, one of the most delightful excursions of the sea-

Of this we are so sure that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow," for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking and teething siege. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SY-RUP relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhesa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind collc, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—knew her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething."
