The Morning Star.

I see the years stretch out before my eyes
Like rows of furrows in a new-plowed field.
How many furrows shall I overpass?
In which long row shall I my spent life yield?
So many heart-beats in the time to come
Like minutes on life's roundest dial place
Which beat will render up my weary soul?
When will the count's dull monotone abate?
How many Summers gay with flowers pass?
How many Winters white with hoary snow?
In budding Springtime shall I speed me hence?
Or with the Autumn's harvest shall I reap?
For me a strange and wondrous mystery
Lies in the mystic Future's fruitful womb.
Will the morning's dawn give it its undue birth?
Or will the full time of its course be run?
Grave questions these for each to ask himself.
With fear I put them to dumb Destiny;
The answer will she never render back
Till need to know has gone forever by.

SOUTHERN ITEMS.

— Mr. Jefferson Davis arrived at Liverpool, Sunday, in the steamer Bernard Hall, from New York. He is not in good health. After a short stay at the Adelphi Hotel he left for London. He declined to be interviewed.

— Advance sheets of the census show that the small portion of the State of Mississippi now under cultivation, which in 1879 produced only 250,000 bales of cotton, is capable, by the exclusion of the Mississippi overflow, by improved cultivation, of producing nearly 5,737,357 bales annually, or the whole present production of the whole country.

— We regret to see it announced that Colonel William Lamb, Mayor of Norfolk Va., is very sick.—Wilmington Star. If this paragraph refers to Colonel L's physical condition at present it is erroneous; if to his politics, we should say the report is correct, or should be. The Mahone party does not afford healthy associates for a Jeffersonian Democrat."—Norfolk Ledger.

— At Troy, Ala., on the 1st inst., John Johnson, who is clerk for W. R. Pegues, was shot and killed by his son, David M. Johnson. He was under the influence of liquor, and was treating his family in a cruel manner, whipping his wife and children. He went out and picked up a three-rail and started into the house. When he did this his son fired upon him with a pistol, the ball taking effect in his back, and passing entirely through his body, coming out at the breast.

TWINKLINGS.

— What would our little big men call the phrase "well known" was crying dirt in the newspapers?—New York News

— The correspondent who spoke from Saratoga that "Miss A——" has the smallest feet of any belle here" had to have it withdrawn suddenly when the paper started in with the superlative adjective changed to "largest."—Philadelphia Record

Maid of Texas, I am gone;
Think of me, sweet, when alone,
For I fly to get a club;
Then your blamed old back I'll drub.
If I cannot make you go,
I'll be even with you, though
—Boston Post

— So far as the Bible can be construed as expressing any opinion on such questions, corners in grain, and that sort of thing, we presume it might be regarded as coming with the fears and against the hopes. Proverbs XI., 26, says: "He that withholdeth corn the people shall curse him; but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it."—Wash. Evening Star

DRAMATIC NOTES.

Mme. Christine Nilsson, we regret to hear, has positively and in the most decisive terms refused to accompany Mr. Hall Mapleson to America this year, although she was asked to name her own terms, with any reasonable sum she might choose to be deposited at Rothschilds.—London Figaro.

— Joseph O. Sefton, the well-known actor, died at Detroit on Monday morning from an internal rupture received while sparring with a fellow actor at Lexington, Ky., last week, where he was playing his first week's engagement. He was between sixty-five and seventy years of age. He was born in Liverpool.

— The plays of Charles Dickens, which are shortly to be issued in two volumes, are "The Village Coquette," "Is She a Wife?" and "The Strange Gentleman," all three of which were produced at the St. James' Theatre in 1836-'37; "The Lamplighter," which was written for Macready, but was not brought out, and "My Nightingale's Diary," written conjointly with "Mark Lemon," and acted by the "Guild of Literature and Art."

New York Banker & Broker, Sept. 6.

At the cotton Exchange, Monday, fluctuations in future deliveries were frequent and violent. The market up by rapid jumps until the highest sales marked an advance of twenty-seven to forty-nine points over the closing prices of Saturday. From this point the market was very unsettled and alternated from intense strength to panicky weakness, as orders to buy and orders to realize gained control of the market. At the closing the feeling was with [illegible] to three points over the closing prices of Saturday. Spot cotton quotations were marked up ½c. and the market was called steady. The offerings were very small.

Mr. Haldeman, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of a severe attack of rheumatism. His whole family experienced relief from its use in various ailments.

Notices of the Press.

The STAR is decidedly one of the best papers in the State, as bright and newsy as any. I shall subscribe to it.—Salem Press.

The Wilmington STAR has entered on its twelfth year—as good a paper as any people should want.—Charlotte Democrat.

The Wilmington STAR has entered on its twelfth year, as a daily journal of news it stands upon its head."—Concord Register.

The Wilmington STAR has entered its twenty-fifth volume. There is no better paper published in the State.—Lenoir Topic.

The Wilmington STAR has entered upon its thirteenth year. It is one of the best papers in the State.—Warrenton Gazette.

The Wilmington STAR has entered its thirteenth year. It has become one of the leading papers of the South.—Oxford Torchlight.

The Wilmington STAR is not only one of the best edited papers in the State, but for freshness of news and typographical appearance cannot be beaten.—Tarboro Reporter.

The Wilmington STAR is one of the very best papers in the South, in every department from typography up to editorial ability and independence.—Petersburg (Va.) Index-Appeal.

We like the STAR because it is thoroughly reliable, candid, fearless, and so well and ably edited, newsy, spicy, and in fact a perfect newspaper. Long may the STAR twinkle.—Mt. Airy Visitor.

Although at the head of the press in this State in all that makes a paper valuable to the reader, still it continues to improve. It is a STAR of the first magnitude. May its lustre never wane.—The Scot, Will Bastian.

The Wilmington (N. C.) Morning STAR is a model newspaper. Indeed, we think we do not exaggerate its merits when we say it is the newest (neatest) paper published in the South.—Richmond Southern Railroad Gazette.

The Wilmington STAR has now entered upon its thirteenth year and twenty-first volume. One of the best conducted and edited papers in the South, and is a North Carolina, we are proud of it.—Tarboro Southerner.

The STAR is so well and favorably known in this section of the State that we can say nothing of what thousands of readers already know. It is in every respect one of the best dailies in the South.—Fayetteville Observer.

The Wilmington STAR has entered on its twelfth year. It is a most excellent newspaper, well edited, a compendium of all the news of the day, and is a welcome visitor to North Carolina and to its city.—Charlotte Observer.

That magnificent morning STAR has completed its seventh volume, and is now entering upon its eighth year. Financially and politically it shines in the Solomonic splendor of the noon-day sun.—Tarboro Southerner.

The Times cannot say words too good for the Wilmington STAR. It has already reached one-fourth its birthday, and is a power. It is in favorable with the State press and south after by the people. Long and prosperous life to it.—Roanoke Times.

Why is it that of the papers with the name of Star are such bright, live journals? The Wilmington (N. C.) Star, the Washington Star, Fredericksburg Star, New York Star, 3rd (sample). There must be something in a name after all.—Richmond (Va.) State.

The Wilmington STAR, we are pleased to notice, still continues on the high road to success. We esteem the STAR very highly, regarding it as one of the very best out-and-out papers that consider the interest of any journal published in the South.—Dallas Fort Worth Herald.

The Wilmington STAR is now taking the regular midnight Associated Press reports, and has largely increased the amount of its reading matter. The STAR is an excellent paper, and deserves the success it is meeting.—Fayetteville Observer.

The Morning STAR, one of the best dailies we know, and a good paper, in our opinion, the very best ever edited upon its twelfth year, in every particular the STAR comes fully up to the mark as the principal daily in our chief commercial city. Long may it twinkle.—Kinston Gazette.

The Wilmington STAR has entered upon its 12th volume, and we are pleased to notice that it continues on the road to success. We esteem the STAR very highly, regarding it as one of the very best newspapers that come to the table. The news columns always give those of any other paper, and our exchanges, and its editorial department is conducted with much ability.—Hamilton Blade.

Wilmington is beginning to see more clearly from an industrial standpoint, and the Morning STAR is an unmistakable evidence of the fact. Continued success to the STAR and steadily "waxed" in its usual genial, enterprising prosperity, as a newspaper is the few compliments we can pay it in the fullness of a contented heart, and we are proud to rank it amongst our most acceptable exchanges.—Hillsboro Recorder.

The Wilmington Morning STAR has entered upon the thirteenth year of its existence, and we think this opportunity is a propitious one to congratulate it upon its prosperity and deserved popularity. The commercial success of the STAR is due to the strict attention to business. The boom of Wilmington is largely due to the liberality with which the newspapers of the city, and the STAR in particular, have advertised it. Wilmington is the home of good newspaper enterprise, and its corps of editors and reporters are thoroughly educated newspaper men. May the healthful, moral influence of the STAR ever be felt, and may it, for years to come, reflect the genial, enterprising proprietor enjoying future happy years of usefulness.—Goldsboro Messenger.
